Washington, D. C., April 9.—Annexation by Russia of eastern Poland, the Baltic republics, and parts of Rumania and Finland would not be incompatible with the Atlantic Charter, according to an interpretation of that declaration by Secretary of State Cordell Hull tonight in a radio address defending the Roosevelt administration's foreign policy.

Move for Security.

Such boundary changes and others might be deemed essential to the objective of the Atlantic Charter to prevent aggression and establish world security, as Mr. Hull expounded the pronouncement.

In the case of Poland, Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania, however, Mr. Hull declared it fundamentally essential that such territorial rearrangements be effected by agreement between Russia and these allied and friendly states.

In the case of enemy states, such as Rumania and Finland, territorial changes would be exacted without consent in order "to achieve those objectives." Likewise the transfer to East Prussia from Germany to Poland and Russia would be justified as a measure for dealing with an enemy state sanctioned by the aims of the Atlantic Charter.

Criticisms Answered.

Secretary Hull spoke for 45 minutes in answer to recent criticisms in and out of congress that the Roosevelt administration lacks a foreign policy and is floundering in the cross-currents of international power politics. According to Mr. Hull, the administration has a definite, well integrated and consistent policy designed to stamp out naziism and fascism and establish world peace thru an organization of nations.

It is an open and aboveboard foreign policy, said Hull—a policy in pursuance of which neither he nor the President has made or will make "any secret agreement or commitment, political, or financial."

THE ENEMY

While significantly omitting any demand for unconditional surrender, Hull said the "Nazi state and its Japanese counterpart and the military system upon which they rest" are "directed toward conquest," and in the interest of world security must be extirpated. They can "expect no negotiated peace, no compromise, no opportunity to return."

Dismemberment of the Japanese empire was agreed on at Cairo. The treatment of Germany is now being considered by the allied European advisory committee.

United States Keystone of Peace.

Because the strength of the allied nations "is greatly dependent upon the strength which our full participation brings to the common effort," Mr. Hull depicted the United States as the keystone without which the arch of world peace cannot be built.

In essaying to harmonize allied policies with the Atlantic Charter, Mr. Hull gave the administration answer to the Poles and others who contend that Dictator Stalin's expansion program flouts the Atlantic Charter and to Prime Minister Churchill's suggestions that the charter does not apply to enemy countries and that so far as allied countries are concerned it needs redefinition.

Mr. Hull sees no need of redefinition so long as allied settlements are made by agreement, while under his interpretation the allies can do

Senators Hit Aussie Plan to Cut Army

Washington, D. C., April 9 (AP).—Australia's decision to reduce the size of its army in the midst of war was labeled "shocking," "startling," and "almost unbelievable" in statements today by senators on the military committee.

Sen. E. C. Johnson

What occasioned their comment was a statement yesterday in Canberra by Francis E. Forde, Australia's army director, that Australia's man power situation requires an army reduction of 90,000 in the next 12 months, including 20,000 men for industry.

'Startling,' Says Johnson.

"That's a startling statement," said Sen. Johnson [D., Colo.], "in view of the all-out effort we are making to send our army all over the world to save Australia and the other countries from the common enemy."

[Under Australian law conscripts and members of the militia originally could not be required to serve outside continental Australia and a few possessions. Last year, however, the Australian parliament approved an extension of the geographical limits within which these classes of soldiers could be used. The revision permits operations in Timor, Dutch New Guinea, and the southern tier of the Netherlands East Indies.]

Bridges Deplores Action.

Sen. Bridges [R., N. H.] remarked that "after all, all the allied nations are in this war together and we are going up or down together." He added: "It's pretty surprising and shocking, at a time America is straining every resource as the result of the armed services' demands, to have one of the other united nations announce openly that it is cutting the size of its armed forces."

Sen. Wilson [R., Ia.] mentioned both military and lend-lease demands on the United States and said that in view of this "it seems almost unbelievable something like this can happen, especially when our own high authorities now are insisting on getting to the bottom of the barrel on man power and taking for our armed forces men much needed in industry and agriculture."

Wilson said, "I am surely sufficiently interested that I am going to make inquiries."

Aussie Force Totals 858,860.

Sen. Austin [R., Vt.] expressed hope that it will not become necessary in America "to divert our armed forces from fighting battles to producing their own weapons."

A dispatch from Canberra yesterday said the total number of Australians enlisted in the navy, army, and air force was 858,860 last December, the most recent month for which official figures were available. That figure includes discharges, deaths, men missing, and prisoners. For security reasons, the Australian government will not make public its present army strength.

[The office of war information reported Thursday that American army and navy strength totaled 10,900,000 men, with 7,700,000 in the army and 3,200,000 in the navy. The report said the navy would reach its peak strength—3,600,000 men—by Sept. 1.]

WARSHIPS SUNK AS THEY TRY TO ESCAPE PALAU

Plane After Plane Shot from Air.

BY GEORGE F. HORNE.

[New York Times correspondent.]

ABOARD A TASK GROUP FLAGSHIP IN THE WESTERN PACIFIC, March 31 [Delayed].—This formidable armada of American warships has penetrated to the very edges of the Japanese dominated western Pacific to blast the stronghold of Palau in one of the most audacious operations of the war.

Today, the second day of the attack, our carrier planes are masters of the air over the string of Palau Islands stretching for more than 70 miles, containing a vast assortment of important installations, considerable shipping, a first class air field, critical mine equipment, and personnel establishments.

In two days of bombing, strafing, and torpedoing we have wiped out a major portion of the installations, sunk possibly 100,000 tons of shipping, and destroyed 150 of Japan's best airplanes.

[Adm. Nimitz' bulletin summing up the results of the attack said 28 Jap ships were sunk and 18 damaged, while 160 Japanese planes were destroyed and 54 damaged.]

Defy Jap Fleet to Fight.

One of the amazing features of the long cruise and the assault on the objective has been the unprecedentedly low cost to us in equipment and men. Our losses have been very small.

This huge task force, representing more fire power than the entire American navy possessed two years ago, steamed almost placidly within range of Japanese air bases, known to be still powerful and capable of launching a major attack. Not once did the enemy make a real attempt to frustrate us, and they knew where we were.

Finally we came to within a few score miles of the important Palau stronghold and cruised back and forth with impunity for two days, showing contempt of his strength. Even then he did not attack and the plane strength found on and above Palau's air field on Peleliu Island indicate that something else besides crucial air weakness kept the Japanese from trying to stop us.

Planes in Air All Day.

We are roaming off Palau today while our fighter sweeps and torpedo and bomber squadrons roar in at regular intervals, combining with the other task groups in the force to keep planes over the target all day long.

Lt. R. C. Jones, the fighter squadron commander, and Lt. Comdr. E. E. Stebbins, air group commander, came back to the base today and described enemy "flamers" spiraling down thru the tropical skies for over an hour as our formations went in, flying tightly together, and sent down plane after plane.

"I wonder what they thought down there on the island," one of them said, "they sent up planes and pretty soon they came screeching down in flames."

This ship accounted for between 30 and 40 planes in the two days. One air sweep of 15 planes shot down 18 enemy fighters in an hour. This was the triumphant hour described by the two pilots.

"We're West of Tokio."

Rear Adm. Samuel P. Ginder, commanding this task group, brought his fleet to within a few miles of Palau to unload the first strikes. Word passed thru the ship

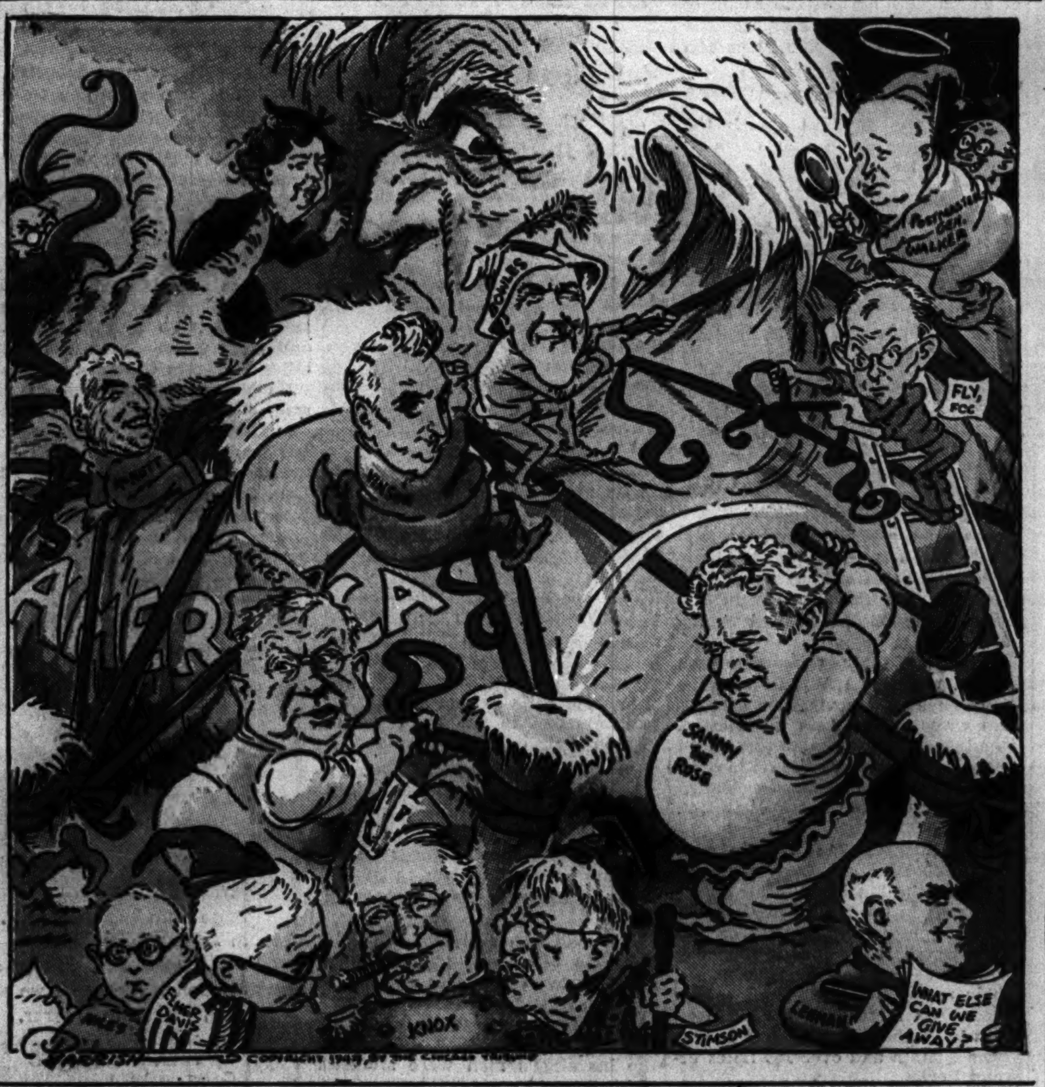
THE LILLIPUTIANS



Shelling Halts at Front Lines as Yanks Pray

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NAPLES, Italy, April 9.—Easter Sunday in war-torn Italy brought only little interludes of peace. Men still were being killed and wounded, but in battered Italian towns, in the ravaged olive groves, along the shell and mortar pocked hills there were brief pauses as there had been a year ago in Tunisia.

Chaplain Paul E. Winslow.

One of the most dramatic services was held by a front line American unit. Loudspeakers were set up and the Easter story and hymns filled the air within easy hearing of the Germans who were in small arms fire range. It was intended, of course, that the Germans could hear these services. And after they were finished the battle was on again.

Join in Common Spirit.

Since Jewish Passover falls in the same period as Easter, Jewish and Christian soldiers gathered in a North African city in joint observance. Paul E. Winslow, Volo, Ill., chief chaplain in that area, said:

"In times like these one finds little difference in denominations. There is only one purpose and all troops taking part in this war seem to join in this spirit."

The beginning of Passover was solemnized Friday night when Jewish service men and women held special services in a 5th army rest center. Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark and his chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, were guests of honor.

Easter was brought to soldiers on battle front areas by the American expeditionary radio station in Africa. Two large field services also were held. One for Protestants of the 5th army was at sunrise not far from the front, with Chaplain Hopeland C. Adams, Lisbon, N. H., conducting. A 27 piece band gave a concert of sacred music.

Clark Reads from Scriptures.

In the afternoon Gen. Clark read from the Scriptures at a ceremony near his headquarters. A 25 voice choir, consisting of soldiers and WACs, sang hymns.

Catholic soldiers observed the day with masses held in churches, chapels, and groves. At 5th army headquarters masses were said by Col. Patrick A. Ryan, chief army chaplain, whose home is in Litchfield, Minn., and Chaplain Denie Moore, Oakland, Cal.

WACs of the peninsular base section in Naples sang in a choir at the port chapel and later repeated hymns in the dayroom of their barracks. WAC singers included Pvt. Ruby Olive Bidner, Bellflower, Ill.

Italian civilians thronged the churches. They did not have finery such as they might have had in past years, and there was none of the glamor, none of the peacock alley parading that may have characterized some Easter parades in America today, but the Italians trod their broken streets with fervor and gladness.

Joined by Many Doughboys.

Italians saved up some of their rations to stock their Easter dinner tables as abundantly as possible. Some Americans contributed portions of their rations, and sat at those tables, doing right well on rough bread, spaghetti, and wine.

Pvt. Leonard H. Munson ate his dinner at a hospital. Munson, whose mother Nellie lives in Sterling, Ill., and whose wife Patricia lives at 6410 Ellis av., Chicago, was at the Anzio beachhead for 40 days, half the time operating a mortar on the front line and the rest of the time repairing roads and removing mines under shellfire.

Munson contracted trench foot but is recovering rapidly, and there was nothing slow about his stride as he walked around Naples today.

Ushers Frisk Frisky Fans of All But Quips

Among the things which were not thrown from the gallery of the Chicago Stadium last night during the last hockey game of the season here between the Blackhawks and the Montreal Canadiens, National league champions, were:

Coat hangers, walnuts and hickory nuts, steel bolts, marbles, bags of rice and flour, lemons, oranges and limes, megaphones, playing cards, pieces of steel, quart bottles of beer, rolls of pennies and a couple of folding chairs.

Removed by Ushers.

Those articles were removed last night from the upstairs customers by Andy Frain's ushers, before they were permitted to purchase tickets. This precaution grew out of a demonstration last Thursday night, in which play was held up for 17 minutes during the third period, when the fans expressed their disapproval of an official decision allowing a goal made by Maurice Richard, Canadien star, by tossing everything but the kitchen sink down onto the ice.

A folding chair which came sailing out of the sky narrowly missed Judge K. M. Landis, baseball czar, who promptly retired with a few well chosen judicial comments.

Even Boo Hawks' Star.

Last night, Frain's ushers took no chances. They frisked the customers before they went in, with the previously mentioned result. The confiscated articles were turned over to Warren av. police—just why, no one seemed to know.

It was the second time in recent years that Frain's ushers were called upon to take similar precautions. The first time was six years ago, during a series with Toronto.

As a result of the frisking, last night's game set a model for decorum in the stands.

[The Canadiens beat the Blackhawks, 3 to 2, to take a 3 to 0 lead in the best of seven series for the Stanley cup. Story on page 21.]

Parisian Zoot Suiters Sent to Nazi Labor Camps

MADRID, Spain, April 9 (AP).—A number of "elegant zazous"—the French equivalent of zoot suiters—have been picked up in Paris bars and cafes and sent to German labor camps, the French press reports. French newspapers have been full of denunciations of "eccentrically dressed youth" who stand at ultramodern bars and hum snatches of the latest music hits heard in broadcasts from American and British stations.

MacARTHUR'S RACE ENLIVENS DULL PRIMARY

Illinois Shows His Power Tomorrow.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

The chance to express sentiment against the New Deal by voting for Gen. MacArthur in the Illinois Presidential preference test will increase tomorrow's turn-out in a generally dull state-wide primary, political sages said yesterday.

Vote-pulling power of the general—who is on the Republican ballot as plain Douglas MacArthur—may attract as much attention nationally as the trial of the strength of the G. O. P. state organization. MacArthur's name was entered without his consent by enthusiasts who have midwest headquarters in Chicago. MacArthur has only nominal opposition from Riley A. Bender, politically unheard of until now.

Want Free Delegation.

Few of the Republican organization's sample ballots will be marked for MacArthur, it was learned. This is not an effort to detract from his tally but merely to avoid embarrassment for the "free and unified" delegation to the national convention which will be elected tomorrow if Republican leaders' plans work out. Fifty delegates will be named by the voters directly and nine "at large" by the G. O. P. state convention.

The usual splurge of final Sunday massmeetings was omitted because of Easter. Instead the party leaders and workers spent some of their time playing political guessing games.

Less than half of the 4,104,122 registered voters will go to the polls tomorrow, it is agreed by all of the experts except Lewis Vogel, election chief for the secretary of state. He predicted between 2,000,000 and 2,100,000. Other estimates range all the way down to 1,250,000.

Expects 800,000 for G. O. P.

Gov. Green believes that there will be from 800,000 to 850,000 G. O. P. ballots, with at least 500,000 of them cast downstate. Concensus of both Democratic and Republican sources is that the Democrats may not bring out more than 600,000, with 400,000 in Cook county.

Such a result would represent a tremendous percentage gain for Republicans. Altho they polled 1,143,761 in the last Presidential year and 936,654 in the 1942 primary, the Democrats got out 1,503,706 in 1940 and 1,026,644 in 1942.

If the balance of primary power goes to the Republicans it will prove the wisdom of the Democratic high command in preventing President Roosevelt's name from going before the voters, as was done in 1936 and 1940. Announcement that he would be on the ballots was later scotched.

Democrats have an unprecedented lack of contests on their state ticket, headed by Sen. Lucas for renomination and Thomas J. Courtney for governor. Their Cook county slate, an important element in getting out the vote, has contests only for a few minor places.

Six Republican Contests.

Republicans have contests for six of the nine state-wide nominations, but public interest has been largely confined to the one for secretary of state. This finds Arnold P. Benson, regular organization candidate, still active in the closing stages of his race against State Treasurer William G. Stratton.

Benson winds up with a massmeeting in his home town of Batavia tonight, attended by Gov. Green and probably also Richard J. Lyons, candidate for United States senator. Lyons' more active rival, Deneen Watson, has practically confined his campaign to radio speeches, adding another one to his file last night. William J. Baker, third aspirant for the senate, has held himself aloof.

Stratton suspended all activities for the week-end.

Benson's Chances Grow.

Reports in G. O. P. circles yesterday were that Benson's chances have materially increased because of quiet work downstate, where Stratton claimed he would lead by 152,000. Gov. Green has telephoned each of the 101 downstate county chairmen personally and on their assurances is said to be convinced that Benson will come to the Cook county line with a majority of 85,000. It is conceded by most that Benson will be ahead in Cook county.

There will be just the one ballot for voters to mark and it will not bear as many names as in the past. Besides the state-wide offices for nominations there are court clerkships in Appellate and other districts, a district congressman in 25 districts, most county offices, and state legislative offices in 51 districts.

Choose Party Officers.

Thruout Illinois the voters will elect party officers — state central committeemen in 25 districts, senatorial committeemen in 51 districts, 8,298 precinct committeemen downstate, and 100 ward committeemen in Chicago's 50 wards.

Names of aspirants for state-wide nominations rotate on the ballots. For example, for Republican senator, Baker's name would be on the top in the 1st senatorial district, but would be displaced by Lyons in the 2d district, and by Watson in the 3d district. This process would continue thru all of the state's 51 senatorial districts, so that no candidate has the advantage of preferred position.

ENGLISH GIRL GETS LESSON IN BEHAVIOR FROM ARMY SERGEANT

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, April 9.—A detail of troops was returning one evening by truck to their billets in a town in England. A young English girl hailed them at a crossroads and asked for a lift.

The sergeant obliged and asked her where she lived. He had the truck driven to her door and rang the bell.

"Do you know this young lady?" the sergeant asked the man who opened the door. "Yes," said the man, "I am her father." "Then you should take better care of your daughter," the sergeant advised. "She is too young to be running around at night."

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

5 BIG U. S. AERIAL FORCES RIP NAZI PLANE PLANTS

Span Germany to Poland and East Prussia.

LONDON, April 10 [Monday]—(AP).—Five giant American aerial task forces spanned the reich yesterday to blast key Nazi aircraft factories in Poland, East Prussia, and northeast Germany and last night British bombers roared toward the continent.

The Frankfurt radio gave a warning last night that planes were approaching northeast Germany, while from Stockholm came reports that "hundreds of planes in wave after wave" skirted southern Sweden, sending anti-aircraft batteries into action.

The American operations, carried out by between 1,500 and 1,750 planes, cost 31 heavy bombers and eight fighters. The bombers, some of which flew beyond the range of their fighter screen to hammer their targets, smashed at five plane factories.

Down 20 Nazis.

During the daylight attack the fighter planes alone shot down 20 German interceptors in air combat and destroyed many others aground at German airdromes, an army bulletin said. The number shot down by the bombers had not been tabulated at an early hour. In the last two days at least 168 German planes have been destroyed against allied losses of 65 bombers and 32 fighters.

The 500 to 750 bombers engaged in the operations hit factories producing Focke-Wulf planes at Poznan [Posen] and in the Gydnia area of Poland, Marienburg in East Prussia, and Warnemunde and Tutow in northeast Germany.

Make 12 Hour Trip.

In reaching Marienburg, the Flying Fortresses made a 12 hour round trip flight of 1,600 miles. The bombers also flew to within 300 miles of the Russian-German battlefront.

German fighter opposition was spotty, with some American formations engaging in vigorous air battles while others were unmolested. The targets at Marienburg had been rebuilt, the army announced, since they were hit before by United States 8th air force bombers on Oct. 9, 1943.

Approximately 1,000 American Thunderbolts, Lightnings, and Mustangs of the 8th and 9th air forces took part in the Easter day assault. These fighters did not cover the bombers all the way to Marienburg and the Gydnia area, targets beyond their range, but established a new record by stretching their protection to Poznan, more than 700 miles from Britain and over 100 miles beyond Berlin.

The Swedish radio said that 11 American heavy bombers had been forced down in Sweden. Unofficial reports said they landed at Malmoe, Rinkeby and Kalmar while one plunged into the sea off Ystad.

MAYWOOD PRAYS AND WAITS FOR BATAAN HEROES

Relatives Still Hope Some Will Return.

BY JUNE GESERICK.

Hearts were heavy beneath a camouflage of Easter apparel yesterday as suburban Maywood observed the second anniversary of the fall of Bataan and the death or capture of more than 80 village sons who were serving with the 192d tank battalion when the peninsula was captured by the Japanese.

Dr. D. M. Yap addressing anniversary meeting. [Tribune Photo.]

Parents, wives, and sweethearts of the battalion's men were greeted with firm handclasps and unspoken sympathy last night when residents of the village gathered in Proviso Township High school auditorium to commemorate the valor of the men in their defense of Bataan.

Hushed Voices Recall Heroes.

In the corridors of the school, which many of the men had attended, the names of Jacques Merrifield, Richard Danca, Roger Heilig, and others were spoken in hushed tones by former teachers and schoolmates.

The audience, sprinkled with the uniforms of service men come to pay tribute to comrades now listed as dead, missing, or prisoner, heard M. W. Immel, speech instructor at the high school, recall days when the battalion's men were students in his classes.

Believes Many Still Fighting.

Dr. D. M. Yap, liaison officer between the Philippine Islands and the United States, said he believed that some of the men from the tank battalion still were fighting in the hills of Luzon Island with Filipino guerrillas against the Japs. Much was sacrificed to hold the peninsula until April 9, 1942, Yap said, and more will be sacrificed by the allies to regain the area.

Yesterday, officially designated by Gov. Green and Mayor Kelly as Bataan day, was a day of prayers and hope for men and women who have relatives in the Philippines. Those whose boys are listed as "missing," believe firmly that they are fighting with the guerrillas. Those whose men are prisoners have faith that they soon will be freed by their American comrades.

Holds Grimly to Hope.

A. C. McArthur, president of the American Bataan Clan of Maywood, spoke for those whose sons are reported to be dead. He said, "My son has been listed as dead, but I firmly believe that he will return home one day."

It was announced that the Filipino Guerrillas of Bataan association has been officially authorized by the treasury department to conduct and sponsor the sale of one million dollars of war bonds with which to purchase two Flying Fortresses.

Both bombers will be named "Filipino Guerrillas of Bataan."

PACIFIC WAR FAR FROM WON, SAYS ONE WHO SAW IT

Los Angeles, Cal., April 9 (AP).—Back home from 27 months of duty as war correspondent for the Associated Press on the Pacific battlefronts, Vern Haugland views the United State's navy's latest victory in the Carolines as further proof that the Japanese have lost their offensive power.

"The general picture in the Southwest Pacific is indeed bright and we are running well ahead of schedule," says Haugland. "The Jap is a tough man on the ground tho, and the war in the Pacific is still a long way from won."

Haugland has had several narrow escapes from death. He was lost for 43 days in the wilderness of New Guinea when forced to parachute from an army bomber in August, 1942. He came home from the Solomons in a navy flying boat for a vacation with relatives.

ARMY AND NAVY MEDICAL CORPS CONQUER DEATH

Defeat Both Disease and Wounds in War.

(This is the first in a series of articles telling how American army and navy medical corps are conquering disease and wounds.)

BY MARCIA WINN.

This is global war with global medicine.

Our supply lines span 50,000 miles of the world's surface, and if all diseases were charted, the medical cartographers doubtless would find 50,000 varieties. Many of these diseases are as deadly as enemy projectiles, so the medical department of the navy is frank in saying its war time mission is to keep as many men at as many guns as many days as possible. This is true of the army, too.

To do this in a war which dwarfs the globe is a feat we are just catching up with. It involves protecting the fighting man from every variation of the elements, from frostbite to heat prostration, to submarine blanching, to aero-embolism or "bends" in the air; protecting him from disease; protecting him from the weapons of warfare; protecting him from natural enemies, the mosquito, the fly, the snake; and protecting him from himself.

Protection Against Themselves.

A man must be protected from himself as much as from the enemy. If he eats a papaya in the tropics, he is courting dysentery. If he takes a sip of water from the nearest stream he is courting typhoid fever. If he breaks a cluster of grapes from a vine in Italy, he may face disfigurement or death from a booby trap, wired for death.

The medical knowledge and scientific aids necessary to keep the American army and navy well, restore him to health, and supply the implements wherewith to do this are staggering.

There must be sun lamps and vitamins on submarines to give him the vitality sapped by life in a submerged metal container. There must be tablets to prevent sea sickness on the life raft on which he takes refuge. There must be canvas blankets to cover him as he lies wounded in the tropics and wool blankets to cover him in the hills of Italy.

Cream for Gunners' Hands.

There must be red lensed goggles to aid his vision as he pilots a plane thru the night, and plastic shields to protect his eyes as a shell flashes from his gun at sea, and cream to protect his hands and face as the bullets pour from his gun in a tank.

There must be toxic mixed with the glue of the plywood packing cases that take needed medical supplies over the seas, toxic to secure the wood from the destructive fungus of the tropics. There must be protective coating material into which all delicate instruments can be dipped to protect them from climactic changes in transit. There must be foil wrappings, envelopes sealed with heat, and a silicate gelatine to absorb the moisture vapor akin to the perspiration on a glass that develops in boxes shipped to alien climates. There must be luminous tape and luminous paint so suddenly needed medical supplies can be identified in a blackout.

Human Transport for Hospitals.

There must be hospitals that men can carry on their backs over mountain terrain impassable even for goats. There must be hospitals that can be flown into a coral atoll and be ready for use an hour later. There must be medical equipment, complete down to the last paper of safety pins and clinical thermometer and indelible pencil, all encased in waterproof bags that marines can lug in thru water up to their necks.

There must be hospitals on wheels that can go as fast as a mechanized corps, hospitals that can be unpacked, set up, used, and hastily repacked for sudden, unexpected retreat or leapfrog.

There must be truck, jeep, and airplane ambulances to get the wounded to a base hospital as quickly as possible. There must be human litter bearers, equipped with collapsible litters.

Doctors for All Duties.

There must be doctors on skis, doctors in planes, doctors equipped to sweep down with the parachuters and specialize in leg fractures, doctors skilled in the treatment of burns and diseases alien to the white man. There must be surgeons in an unending stream, dentists who can make a drill out of a 5 inch nail, and technicians who can grind out new lenses near the front.

There must be all of these, and there are. In a war that acknowledges no boundaries, the medical corps of the army and navy have grown to a size equivalent to the full peace time strength of the army. Their work is protection, prevention, resuscitation, rehabilitation. Behind them, at home, is every scientific facility of the National Research council.

Even so, this often is not enough, for Maj. Gen. James C. Magee, retired surgeon general of the army, phrased the thought well when he said: "The numbers of men committed to battle in modern warfare are so enormous that the life's blood of the nation goes with them." No nation can afford to let its arteries spurt.

Mortality Rate Lowest in History.

Protection, prevention, resuscitation, rehabilitation—these, done well and on a scale of tremendous magnitude, are why the proportionate morbidity and mortality in the United States forces are the lowest in history. Known diseases our medical men have attacked and outwitted with skill and triumph. The unknown they are attacking with determination. Even venereal diseases, which in the Civil war were 215 per 1,000 men, in the Spanish-American war 190 per 1,000, and in 1918, 90 per 1,000, are down to 27 per 1,000 men per year.

The American army is healthy, many members of it much more so than ever before. Having learned to combat epidemic diseases, it is spreading its conquest wherever it goes. Its effect on the world at large, and on America after the war when a homecoming army knows, and knows in an offhand, matter of fact manner, the answer to the major plagues of mankind, should be lasting and impressive.

[The major achievement of American medicine at war, its medical and surgical advances, and its conquest of tropical diseases will be told in forthcoming articles.]

MARCH LOSSES TO SUBMARINES SHOW INCREASE

Washington, D. C., April 9 (AP).—Merchant shipping losses in March were "a little higher" than in February, President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill reported jointly today.

"The rate of sinking of U-boats was fully maintained," said their joint statement, which did not contain any figures on losses. "Our merchant shipping losses were mainly incurred in far distant seas. Tho a little higher than in February, they were still low and the rate of sinking U-boats was fully maintained.

"The allied merchant fleet continues to improve both in quantity and quality, but the strength of the U-boat force remains considerable and calls for powerful efforts by surface and air forces."

CHICAGO MAJOR DECORATED FOR HEROISM IN AIR

Maj. William Waller III., of 45 Bank st., has been decorated with the distinguished flying cross at a Thunderbolt fighter wing station in England, it was learned yesterday. Maj. Waller, commander of a fighter squadron which provides escort for Flying Fortress bombers, is credited with destroying one enemy aircraft and damaging another. He also holds the air medal with three oak leaf clusters. His latest citation commended him for "devotion to duty and courage under all conditions which serve as an inspiration to his fellow flyers." Mrs. Waller, the former Mary Venturini of San Antonio, Tex., is living in that city with their son, William IV., while her husband is serving overseas.

PLASMA YIELDS MIRACULOUS NEW BLOOD CLOTTER

Washington, D. C., April 9.—A new hemorrhage-controling material made from the blood of war-time volunteer donors and called "fibrin foam" was hailed today by an army neuro-surgeon as "one of the great discoveries of this war."

The chief of the neuro-surgical service of the army's Walter Reed hospital said the material—a spongy substance which quickly controls bleeding from small blood vessels and large veins of the nervous system—is shortening the time formerly required for brain and nerve operations on military and civilian casualties. He declared another new material obtained from human blood is still under experimental appraisal by the army. It is called "fibrin film" and is a thin, tough sheet-like material which in operations already performed on civilians, has proved to be an effective substitute for the dura, the envelope that protects the brain.

Developed at Harvard.

Both "fibrin foam" and "fibrin film" are made of fibrinogen and thrombin, the constituents of blood which promote clotting. Both were developed by the department of physical chemistry at Harvard university. The foam and the film were produced as by-products of the breaking-down of plasma.

As a result of clinical trials at Harvard, it was announced today to military neuro-surgeons attending a conference at the hospital that the foam is being made available to all army neurological centers in the continental United States, and eventually may be supplied to surgical stations in the combat areas.

Dr. Franc D. Ingraham, one of the group of Harvard investigators who developed the foam and film, said the advantages of the substances were these:

The foam, applicable in sizes ranging from that of a pinhead for checking blood ooze from small vessels, to that of a golf ball for implanting in the bed of a removed tumor, can be left inside when the wound is closed.

Absorbed in System.

The foam is rapidly absorbed by the system and there is virtually no tissue reaction.

The film, he reported, can be sewed directly to remnants of a damaged coating of the brain, and provides a covering until nature regenerates a protective membrance of her own over the gap. He said that so far as he knew, there is no other dural substitute now available which produces as little reaction as fibrin film, and no other which adapts itself so readily to any contour of the brain.

In an interview, Ingraham emphasized that the fibrin foam could not check bleeding from large arteries, but he declared it had possibilities of wide application in branches of surgery other than neuro-surgery to which it is now limited.

THE QUESTION.

WHERE ASKED.

1723 Howard st.

THE ANSWERS.

Mrs. David Miller, housewife, 1096 Pratt blvd.—Moving had been a big job and I was so thankful when everything was in its place and I could take time to relax. Then the doorbell rang time after time as salesmen streamed in to measure for blinds, slip covers, and carpeting, and my day of rest was wrecked.

Fred Ruhling, retired, 1451 Warner av.—After I settled down for a quiet Sunday afternoon I was annoyed by constant blaring of an auto horn. Finally I went down and learned the horn was stuck. I disconnected it, and then I helped change a tire. By that time I was so dirty it took the rest of the day to clean up.

Mrs. Romaine Goudie, housewife, 1532 Juneway ter.—I cut my shopping trip short to spend a quiet, rainy day at home. I had left the windows open and by the time I reached home they were so wet I couldn't close them. The rain blew in all over the curtains, rugs, and furniture. My rainy day at home was just that.

John Winkin, florist, 2743 Coyle av.—It was my own fault that I let myself in for a rather boisterous evening. A politician came over to make sure I was going to vote and we started to talk politics. The debate lasted far into the night. Neither managed to convince the other.

Anita Strobot, switchboard operator, 6106 Ellis av.—I was anxious to finish a book I was reading so I planned to devote the whole day to it. Then I noticed a dark blotch of dirt on the wall. I wiped it off with a damp cloth and soon I was scrubbing the entire wall and washing and ironing curtains.

Mrs. Edwin Sanders, housewife, 6737 N. Maplewood av.—I had planned to celebrate my birthday quietly with my children when some friends dropped in to surprise me. They said our birthday cake looked so good I was prompted to bake another. So there I was, busier than ever in the kitchen.

ATLANTIC PACT SANCTIONS RED GRAB, SAYS HULL

Seizures in Poland and Baltic 'Justified.'

everything to enemy countries under the terms of the charter they could do if the charter did not apply to the enemy.

Hull described the Atlantic charter as a fundamental objective, not a code of law.

"There has been discussion recently of the Atlantic charter and of its application to various situations," said Hull. "The charter is an expression of fundamental objectives toward which we and our allies are directing our policies. It states that the nations accepting it are not fighting for the sake of aggrandizement, territorial or otherwise. It lays down the common principles upon which rest the hope of liberty, economic opportunity, peace, and security thru international coöperation.

Working for Unity.

"It is not a code of law from which detailed answers to every question can be distilled by painstaking analysis of its words and phrases. It points the direction in which solutions are to be sought; it does not give solutions. It charts the course upon which we are embarked and shall continue. That course includes the prevention of aggression and the establishment of world security. The charter certainly does not prevent any steps, including those relating to enemy states, necessary to achieve these objectives. What is fundamental are the objectives of the charter and the determination to achieve them.

"It is hardly to be supposed that all the more than 30 boundary questions in Europe can be settled while the fighting is still in progress. This does not mean that certain questions may not and should not in the meantime be settled by friendly conference and agreement. We are at all times ready to further an understanding and settlement of questions which may arise between our allies, as is exemplified by our offer to be of such service to Poland and the soviet union. Our offer is still open. Our policy upon these matters, as upon all others, is the fundamental necessity for agreed action and the prevention of disunity among us."

NEUTRALS

Mr. Hull's address also contained a veiled threat to cut off trade with Ireland, Sweden, Spain, Argentina, and other neutral countries on the ground they persist in giving aid and comfort to Germany. However he did not name the countries.

"In the two years following Pearl Harbor, while we were mustering our strength and helping to restore that of our allies, our relations with these neutral nations and their attitude toward our enemies were conditioned by the position in which we found ourselves," he said. "We have constantly sought to keep before them what they, of course, know—that upon our victory hangs their very existence and freedom as independent nations. We have sought in every way to reduce the aid which their trade with the enemy gives him and to increase the strength which we might draw from them. But our power was limited. They and we have continually been forced to accept compromises which we certainly would not have chosen.

Only One Outcome Possible.

"That period, I believe, is rapidly drawing to a close. It is clear to all that our strength and that of our allies now makes only one outcome of this war possible. That strength now makes it clear that we are not asking these neutral nations to expose themselves to certain destruction when we ask them not to prolong the war, with its consequences of suffering and death, by sending aid to the enemy.

"We can no longer acquiesce in these nations drawing upon the resources of the allied world when they at the same time contribute to the death of troops whose sacrifice contributes to their salvation as well as ours.

"We have scrupulously respected the sovereignty of these nations; and we have not coerced, nor shall we coerce, any nation to join us in the fight. We have said to these countries that it is no longer necessary for them to purchase protection against aggression by furnishing aid to our enemy—whether it be by permitting official German agents to carry on their activities of espionage against the allies within neutral borders, or by sending to Germany the essential ingredients of the steel which kills our soldiers, or by permitting highly skilled workers and factories to supply products which can no longer issue from the smoking ruins of German factories. We ask them only, but with insistence, to cease aiding our enemy."

Policy After the War.

In the allied task of reëstablishing order in Europe after the defeat of Germany, it will be the administration policy, said Mr. Hull, to "give full scope to men and women who look forward, men and women who will end fascism and all its works and create the institutions of a free and democratic way of life."

Encouragement will be given to the establishment of "strong and progressive national governments, dedicated like our own to improving the social welfare of our people as a whole—governments which will join the common effort of nations in creating the conditions of lasting peace, and in promoting the expansion of production, employment, and the exchange and consumption of goods which are the material foundations of the liberty and welfare of all peoples," Hill said.

FRANCE

Hull said flatly, however, that De Gaulle's French committee of national liberation will not be recognized as the government of France. Its function is conceived to be assistance to the military authorities in providing for a free choice of its form of government and executive by the French people. While the military must have unfettered authority at first "we have no purpose or wish," said Hull, "to govern France or to administer any affairs save those which are necessary for military operations against the enemy.

"It is of the utmost importance that civil authority in France should be exercised by Frenchmen, should be swiftly established, and should operate in accordance with advanced planning as fully as military operations will permit. It is essential that the material foundations of the life of the French people be at once restored or resumed. Only in this way can stability be achieved.

"It has always been our thought in planning for this end that we should look to Frenchmen to undertake civil administration and assist them in that task without compromising in any way the right of the French people to choose the ultimate form and personnel of the government which they may wish to establish. That must be left to the free and untrammeled choice of the French people.

Committee Gives Assurance.

"The President and I are clear, therefore, as to the need, from the outset, of French civil administration—and democratic French administration—in France. We are disposed to see the French committee of national liberation exercise leadership to establish law and order under the supervision of the allied commander in chief.

"The committee has given public assurance that it does not propose to perpetuate its authority. On the contrary, it has given assurance that it wishes at the earliest possible date to have the French people exercise their own sovereign will in accordance with French constitutional processes. The committee is, of course, not the government of France and we cannot recognize it as such.

"In accordance with this understanding of mutual purposes the committee will have every opportunity to undertake civil administration and our coöperation and help in every practicable way in making it successful. It has been a symbol of the spirit of France and of French resistance. We have fully coöperated with it in all the military phases of the war effort, including the furnishing of arms and equipment to the French armed forces.

"Our central and abiding purpose is to aid the French people, our oldest friends, in providing a democratic, competent, and French administration of liberated French territory."

ITALY

While determined to root out fascism in Italy, Mr. Hull said "here again we wish to give every opportunity for a free expression of a free Italy" in choosing a form of government. That more progress has not been made has been due to the failure of the allied armies to make the progress in Italy that had been hoped for.

THE ALLIES

As for post-war peace and world welfare the secretary emphasized that success depends upon harmonizing the interests of Britain, America, Russia, and China.

Asks Unity in Action.

"This essential understanding and unity of action among the four nations is not in substitution or derogation of unity among the united nations," he hastened to add. "But it is basic to all organized international action, because upon its reality depends the possibility of enduring peace and free institutions rather than new coalitions and a new pre-war period. Nor do I suggest that any conclusions of these four nations can or should be without the participation of the other united nations.

"I am stating what I believe the common sense of my fellow countrymen and all men will recognize—that for these powers to become divided in their aims and fail to recognize and harmonize their basic interests can produce only disaster and that no machinery, as such, can produce this essential harmony and unity."

As steps toward achievement of the desired unity, Hull reviewed the Atlantic Charter, the declaration of the allied nations Jan. 1, 1942, the Moscow declaration, and the agreements reached at Cairo and Teheran, but he cautioned that "no one knows better than we and our allies who have signed these documents that they did not and do not settle all questions or provide a formula for the settlement of all questions or lay down a detailed blueprint for the future. Any man of experience knows that an attempt to do this would have been as futile as it would have been foolish."

GLOBAL PLANS

Hull then outlined the steps being taken to achieve a world organization to maintain peace and to bring about international "economic and other coöperative arrangements which are necessary in order that we maintain our position as a working partner with other free nations." All these projects, he added, must be supported by other nations and by the American people to become effective. Avoiding the mistakes of Wilson, Hull has asked the senate to appoint a committee to collaborate with the executive on a world peace organization.

"Such an organization," he said, "must be based upon firm and binding obligations that the member nations will not use force against each other and against any other nation except in accordance with the arrangements made. It must provide for the maintenance of adequate forces to preserve peace and it must provide the institutions and procedures for calling this force into action to preserve peace.

"But it must provide more than this. It must provide for an international court for the development and application of law to the settlement of international controversies which fall within the realm of law; for the development of machinery for adjusting controversies to which the field of law has not yet been extended, and for other institutions for the development of new rules to keep abreast of a changing world with new problems and new interests."

Oh, Yeah?

Armies in Rumania Seize 200 Towns in Jassy Area.

LONDON, April 10 [Monday]—(AP).—Russian troops half encircled the Rumania rail center of Jassy in Rumania yesterday and began the siege of Odessa by bursting into the freight yards three miles on the north. They also raced around the Black sea port on the southwest to within five miles of the last German escape railroad, Moscow announced last night.

Front dispatches and official Czech statements also indicated that the Russians had fought their way over the Czecho-Slovakian border in the direction of the Tatar pass leading to the Hungarian plain, but the soviet bulletin was silent on that sector in the Carpathian mountains.

Berlin also told of heavy Russian attacks on the land bridges to the Crimean peninsula.

Seize Rail Station.

A rail station three miles west of Jassy fell to Marshal Ivan S. Konev's 2d Ukraine army attacking on an 80 mile front between Jassy and Siret. The Russians also captured a town 14 miles west of Jassy, thus twice slashing that town's link with Pascani, a junction on the Cernauti-Bucharest trunk line 157 miles northeast of the Ploesti oil fields, it was announced. Pascani, which is 43 miles west of Jassy, also was threatened by one Red army column which seized a town 14 miles to the northeast. In all more than 200 villages were seized in the sweep around Jassy.

Dispatches from Russian war correspondents told of cavalry men of the upper wing of Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's 1st Ukraine army struggling thru the snows of Ruthenia along the Hungarian held Czech border.

Lower Wing Beyond River.

Zhukov's lower wing was beyond the Siret river, threatening Radauti, one of the largest cities in Rumania's Bukovina province, while the adjoining upper wing of Konev's army was believed to have already undertaken a crossing of the Siret farther downstream.

In the nearly complete encirclement of Odessa with its German-Rumanian garrison, estimated at between 100,000 and 200,000 men, Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's 3d Ukraine army captured a rail station in the city's northern suburban freight yards, and a town, 11 miles southwest of the port, which put the Russians within five miles of the railroad to Ovidiopol and only eight miles from Ovidiopol itself.

Enter Odessa Gateway.

Capture of the suburban rail station put the Russians inside the mile-wide gateway into Odessa between the Black sea and the two big lagoons in the north. Among the villages seized in the Odessa arc was one 11 miles on the west; another 10 miles northwest, and another nine miles on the north.

Northeast of Odessa the Germans blew up an estuary dam, flooding the coastal road, but failed to stop the Red army whose engineers quickly threw bridges across the area, the Russians reported.

Germany's high command announcement said another Russian army was attacking on a broad front at the Sivash and Perekop bridgeheads of the Crimean peninsula where more than 100,000 German and Rumanian troops have been bottled up for months.

Reds Hold East Bridgehead.

The bridgeheads are at the northeastern and northwestern corners of the peninsula. Russian troops hold a bridgehead near Kerch on the eastern tip.

Compressing the Skala trap above the middle Dniester river, the Russians said their troops killed 2,400 more Germans during the day and captured 200. That boosted a six day total to 18,900 Nazi dead on the basis of Moscow announcements.

FRENCH CIRCLES HOPEFUL OVER STAND OF HULL

Believe Way Opened for Understanding.

ALGIERS, Algeria, April 10 [Monday]—(AP).—French official circles today greeted United States Secretary of State Hull's statement on foreign policy as pointing toward a definite understanding between the allies and the French committee of national liberation and opening the door to negotiations on practical issues connected with freeing France.

A copy of Hull's broadcast speech was taken to Gen. Charles De Gaulle as soon as it was received, and committee circles said he was pleased.

Speedier Negotiations Seen.

Official circles expressed pleasurable surprise at the Hull statement and said they always had been confident of an ultimate understanding with Washington and London and that there never had been any real differences which could not be overcome.

One source said negotiations on practical points which already were under way could now be continued with greater energy.

In view of the Hull statement that the committee would have "every possibility" to undertake civil administration in liberated France, the French assumed that further negotiations would be conducted on a diplomatic plane between Algiers, Washington, and London.

Military Issues Dominant.

Military arrangements would continue to be made by the allied supreme commander, Gen. Eisenhower, with the committee's military delegate, Andre le Trouquer, it was believed.

Hull's assertion that the allied command must have unlimited authority and that action would be subject to Eisenhower's approval were interpreted here to apply to strictly military matters.

First impressions were that the only divergence between the Washington and Algiers points of view was in the administration of military zones. A committee ordinance of March 14 provided for military as well as civil administration.

Mildly Greeted in London.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 10 [Monday].—Secretary of State Cordell Hull's statement on United States foreign policy evoked scant and mild editorial comment today.

Emphasis was placed by the Conservative Daily Telegraph and the Liberal News Chronicle on that passage of Hull's speech dealing with the future policy for France, the former declaring that Hull was "at pains to correct any misapprehensions which might have arisen over Roosevelt's recent declaration as to the supreme authority of the allied commander in chief in France when the invasion is begun."

Point to British Stakes.

After expressing regret at Hull's reiteration of America's refusal to give formal recognition to the French committee, the News Chronicle said:

"Britain has more to gain or lose than America in this matter. The whole of her post-war European policy will be vitally affected by her relationship with the French people. It is therefore important that the British government should use all its influence with the state department to get the principle of recognition accepted."

The Labor organ Daily Herald saw in the statement a "useful prolog to the Stettinius mission in London" and took the opportunity to welcome the probable participation of the soviet ambassador in some discussions.

30,000 YORKSHIRE MINERS WILL RETURN TO COAL PITS TODAY

LONDON, April 9 (AP).—The Yorkshire coal strike, which at its height found more than 90,000 miners idle, appeared virtually ended tonight as Doncaster and Hemsworth district miners voted to return to the pits.

The return to work tomorrow is scheduled to be led by 30,000 miners at Doncaster, where the men voted to reverse their decision of three days ago to maintain the walkout. The Hemsworth miners, in addition to agreeing to end their strike, gave a vote of confidence to J. A. Hall, president of the Yorkshire Mine Workers' association.

Executives of the Mine Workers' federation will press for a mandate from its 700,000 members for a free hand in wage negotiations, especially to save the new four year wage stabilization plan. Under the present setup, the plan is facing the possibility of defeat.

DIES OF HEART ATTACK.

Emerson Ball, 40, a used car salesman, died in his home at 2017 Washington blvd., yesterday, presumably of a heart attack.

GIRAUD'S POST ABOLISHED, BUT HE WON'T QUIT

ALGIERS, Algeria, April 9 (AP).—Gen. Charles de Gaulle discharged Gen. Henri Honore Giraud today by abolishing the post of commander in chief and appointing Giraud inspector general of the French military forces—a post which Giraud rejected.

Gen. De Gaulle.

In a sharp formal letter, Giraud, who escaped from France in 1941 to take over leadership of French forces on the allied side in North Africa, refused to recognize abolition of his position and charged De Gaulle with violating the law.

"I am not resigning," Giraud said. "I accept neither the principle of suppression of the post of commander in chief of the French armed forces in the middle of war, nor the honorary post which you have designed for me."

Post Called Superfluous.

Giraud said that De Gaulle's step was contrary to French law and national committee ordinances determining a separation of civil and military powers and organization of a high command. De Gaulle had said the post of commander in chief was superfluous, since a Frenchman would not get a large allied command. Giraud also took issue with this.

He said "there is no proof that another theater of operations won't be opened where a Frenchman will have the honor of command. I believe myself still capable of exercising this command."

Hoped for Reconsideration.

Giraud had refused the appointment at a "disagreeable" session yesterday with De Gaulle, but De Gaullists had held out the hope until the very last that he would reconsider.

Giraudists asserted that several members of the national committee were threatening to resign, including Navy Commissioner Louis Jacquinot and Air Commissioner Fernand Grenier, Communist member.

De Gaulle's action was in effect a reassertion of his determination to force the allies to deal with the national committee, of which he is president, as the sole provisional government for liberated France. The step gave him complete civil and military control of the committee.

Made Responsible to De Gaulle.

With the decree, De Gaulle released the text of a letter to Giraud explaining that it was necessary to "modify" Giraud's powers, thanking him for his services in Tunisia and Corsica, and asserting that the committee maintained confidence in his military abilities.

The decree named Giraud inspector general, military adviser to the national committee, and a member of the committee for national defense. Under its terms, Giraud would have been responsible to De Gaulle. It stated that it would be "obligatory" that Giraud be consulted on questions of organizations, armament, employment of land, sea and air forces, promotions and appointments.

HOW PALAU WAS BATTERED TOLD BY EYEWITNESS

Jap Planes Shot Down One After Another.

long before that hour that "we are now west of Tokio."

The fleet remained west of Tokio during the entire time, the first major action this far westward since the fall of Corregidor except the air raid on Tokio itself.

A few men have been injured. Yesterday there was a dramatic scene when a fighter plane damaged by a heavy ack-ack burst came wavering home across the sea with no stabilizer or flaps. An emergency landing was announced and all hands rushed to vantage spots. He came in straight and hit the deck without flaps. His speed was too great and he crumbled against a flight deck gun turret.

Drops Plane Overboard.

The veteran plane disintegrated before our eyes. Its tail broke off at the fuselage. A wing fell and slit across the deck. The nose crumbled forward and the propeller twisted awkwardly. Flames started licking from the engine and officers yelled for the pilot to get out. But he was dazed and moved slowly. A man climbed to the wing and helped the pilot out. In a few seconds the fire was out and a crane brought up from below lifted the wreckage to the edge and put it overboard.

Other men "water landed" before they got back to their ships and were rescued.

We got at least two destroyers, and flyers found hidden away in a shaded grove a big repair ship, which escaped from Truk during the Feb. 16-17 carrier strike. It will not get away again for a long time. We left it burning from stem to stern after its strong anti-aircraft fire was silenced.

A Japanese destroyer attempted to escape from the harbor. The ship never had a chance. Bombers and torpedo planes converged as the vessel twisted desperately in the narrow channel, shuddered as the bombs hit and sank in two minutes. Other bombers hit freighters and oilers seeking to escape. Some burned, some sank, some were beached.

Lt. Comdr. Richard Upson, skipper of the torpedo squadron, described the swift destruction of one of the warships. It had escaped from the lagoon and was found by bombers about 20 miles out at sea headed north. The bombers hit and then the torpedo planes came in, following a trail of smoke.

"It was worth the whole year I have been out here to see that," said the commander. "We got into the upper end of the plume of smoke and rode right down it to the destroyer. They never saw us. But they were orbiting and zigzagging slowly. We went in and four planes put four torpedoes into her. They hit at the same instant and she went down in a few seconds.

Torpedo Comes Back.

"We took no chances on missing the ship and fired eight torpedoes. Numbers five and six got there a few seconds behind the others and they exploded in wreckage. The seventh hit a coral head and the eighth got to skipping and dolphining in and out of the water and finally turned over and came back."

Comdr. Stebbings, who is the junior air group commander in the Pacific, altho senior in experience, said tonight that one reason our fighter sweep turned in such a high score was a piece of good luck. This ship was assigned an altitude position over the air field in which the Zeros were waiting, and made a field day of it. This circumstance will give this carrier high score for the operation.

There was one little "dry" dogfight in the blue sky over Peleliu when an American and a Japanese fighter plane maneuvered for a long time trying for position. It was amusing in retrospect to Lt. James W. Picaard of Randleman, N. C. He and Ensign J. G. Cole of Killeen, Tex., engaged some Zekes in the air and Cole shot down one. Then they descended to strafe the field, and after making two runs saw a Betty, a twin engine bomber, coming in followed by two fighters with wheels down. Picaard got the Betty with one burst and Cole chased one fighter out to sea. The other fighter came for Picaard.

Both Out of Ammunition.

Picaard had only a little ammunition left and he soon used it. He and the Jap chased each other over the field, getting higher and higher. The unusual feature of the dog fight was that each man was maneuvering for a defense position. Both were out of ammunition.

Picaard said: "He kept trying to get out of range and it seems he wanted to land, but I thought he was after me. The Zeke can turn inside us, and he finally got on my tail and I screamed for help. But no one came to chase him off. He drew up with his propeller right by my tail, and I thought he was going to chew it off.

"Once he drew up alongside me and we glared at each other. Finally I just took a chance, gave her the gun, and drew away from him, thinking every second he would shoot me down. Then I knew he had nothing in his guns."

HIT WOLEAI AND YAP

BY WILLIAM L. WORDEN.

ABOARD A CARRIER IN THE CAROLINE ISLANDS, April 1 [Delayed] — (AP). — This American task force, having already laid waste the Palau Islands and Yap, today smashed Woleai atoll, between Palau and Truk. Oil stores, barracks, and runways were bombed, 15 enemy aircraft were ruined on the ground, and two small Japanese freighters were sunk at sea.

As a battle, Woleai amounted to little. The first waves of carrier-based fighters ran into some anti-aircraft fire and one made a forced landing in the sea. But after that Woleai offered no more important fire and no planes arose to contest the hundreds of American aircraft.

Two small enemy freighters blundered straight into the side of this huge task force. Both were sunk in about 15 minutes.

At the Island of Yap yesterday the force launched bombers, torpedo planes, and fighters to set Japanese villages aflame, destroy radio installations, and make sieves of warehouses and barracks.

No aircraft were encountered at Yap and only rifle fire contested the bombers and fighters. There were no ships in the harbor and no anti-aircraft guns in operation. Not an American plane was lost.

April 9, 1944.

THOSE who believe that life on the farm is calm and uneventful should have been on the Wheaton place one day last week to see the star performance staged by Gus and Hazel, the farm's powerful Percherons.

The men who have been on the farm for several years know that Gus and Hazel occasionally like to show their disregard for the restraints of civilization. When they're in the mood for freedom they just start running and keep going, and they get in that mood almost any time that their driver forgets to keep a tight line on the reins.

No Low Gear for Them.

Leo, one of the newer farm employes, hitched Gus and Hazel to a farm wagon the other morning, blithely ordered "giddap," and discovered that the horses took him at his word. They didn't bother about low gear or second gear, but went directly into high from a standing start. By the time Leo realized what was going on his charges had raced thru the yard, broken thru a wire fence, and were running full speed across an alfalfa field.

For 20 minutes they carried their chariot and driver back and forth and across the field. Leo, having inaugurated the runaway by the medium of loose reins, continued the practice in the alfalfa field and let the horses run themselves out, since he realized that nothing short of the Maginot line could have stopped Gus and Hazel.

A Run for Their Money.

At the end of 20 minutes the team subsided and agreed to return to the barn. The men gave them a small amount of water, brushed them, and rehitched them to the wagon. Hazel was a bit droopy for the rest of the day, but Gus had the prancing attitude of a featherweight boxer who had just won a major engagement. He had shown the men that he still can give them a run for their money, and Leo, examining his swollen hands, allowed as how that was true.

Gus is the boss of the Gus and Hazel household, and he's the one who likes to show his ability to get away from it all. Now that he has proved to the entire farm population that he's quite a guy he probably will settle down for a spell.

★The GARDEN★

THE Friday rainfall further delayed garden work in most of northern Illinois, northern Indiana, and lower Michigan. Hundreds of gardens in the central part of Illinois were being plowed and spaded last Thursday, and some gardens were planted the same day. Well located gardens in the Chicago area would have been ready for spading during the last week-end except for the Friday rainfall, but now it will be at least another few days before the ground will be dry enough to be worked.

It is time for many of the hardy vegetables to be planted in northern Illinois, but seeding must be delayed until the soil dries sufficiently for the gardener to walk thru his plot without muddying his shoes. If the soil sticks to the shoes it is too moist to be spaded or plowed, and to work in the plot before it is dry is damaging to the soil. Ground worked when wet causes the formation of clods which may remain hard for most of the summer.

JAPS REPULSED AFTER ENTERING VITAL INDIA CITY

Penetrate Kohima, Sixty Miles from Imphal.

NEW DELHI, India, April 9 (AP).—Japanese forces penetrating the outskirts of Kohima, 30 miles inside India and 60 miles north of the big allied base of Imphal, have been repulsed, the southeast Asia command announced today, but the plain of Imphal is virtually under siege as the invaders seek to establish themselves before next month's monsoon stops military operations.

Reliable sources said that while fighting is continuing the allies were holding the edges of the plain and the roads that converge on Imphal. There is a strong British garrison at Imphal, supplied by transport planes for a siege which may last several weeks.

Kohima also was reported strongly defended against the Japanese. The southeast Asia command said a "small initial penetration" of Kohima's outskirts had been repulsed. Kohima is only 35 miles from Dimapur on the American operated Bengal-Assam railway, a supply artery for Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's American-Chinese forces in north Burma.

Japs Block Road.

The road from Kohima to Imphal has been blocked 15 miles south of Kohima for several days by Japanese infiltrations. Possession of the Imphal plain, which is rich in food, would give the Japs a striking base for expeditions west and north onto other Indian plains and valleys.

[The Japanese Domei News agency said puppet Indian and Japanese forces "annihilated the enemy's 54th brigade momentarily" and took Kohima at dawn Thursday. It quoted a Tokio Shimbun editorial which said the victory "envisages the possibility of a deep cleavage among the United States, Britain, and Chungking," because of dissatisfaction over Adm. Mountbatten's military leadership.]

Repulse Attack on Hill.

The Japanese Saturday sought by counter-attack to retake a hill north of the Imphal plain which allied troops had wrested from them the day before, but this attempt was "repulsed without difficulty," today's bulletin said.

Air Commando force planes heavily bombed and strafed gun positions in the Mawlu area in support of ground troops. This indicated glider borne troops landed about a month ago in the Katha-Indaw-Mawlu area astride the Japanese Mandalay-Myitkyina rail line still operating in force.

Activity heightened in the Arakan area, where the allies presumably plan to secure the Akyab peninsula. Indian troops "repelled with heavy casualties a strong counter-attack made by the Japanese against our positions south of Maungdaw," said the bulletin.

New Air Borne Landing.

New York, April 9 (AP).—The London radio said today that another air borne landing was made by the British recently behind the Japanese lines in Burma between the Irrawaddy and Chindwin rivers due east of Imphal.

Japs Explain Strategy.

New York, April 9 (AP).—The Tokio radio told the Japanese people today that their forces in Burma had launched their drive against the Assam-Bengal railway to forestall attacks on the mainland of Japan by Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault's 14th air force.

In a weekly commentary, a Tokio broadcaster repeated the Japanese claim to the occupation of Kohima, and said the new Japanese position would prove a "serious menace to the Assam-Bengal railway."

"The railway is the supply line for the American air force in China, which is contemplating a plan to air-raid the mainland of Japan and interfere with our navigation route to the southern regions," the broadcast explained.

"The counter-offensive operations of the American Pacific fleet are also aimed at the mainland of Japan, as well as seeking a route for advance to China thru the Philippine Islands. When we think of this fact, and when we remember the statement of Chennault—who said he is making full preparations to welcome Nimitz's fleet to the Chinese coast—we see clearly how important is the strategic value of the advancement of the Kohima operation units."

HOLLANDIA BASE BLASTED AGAIN WITH 152 TONS

Flyers Also Bomb 4 Other Bases.

ALLIED HDQ., SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, April 10 [Monday]—(AP).—Allied bombers have returned to badly blasted Hollandia on the north coast of New Guinea, dropping 152 tons of bombs. Gen. MacArthur's bulletin today said numerous buildings were set afire and two small freighters were sunk.

The bombers poured 95 tons of bombs on camp and supply areas at Wewak, and 34 tons on Hansa bay to the south, scoring hits on fuel dumps. Rabaul took a 75 ton bombing and Kavieng was hit by 30 tons.

It was the third raid in a week on Hollandia. In the first raid last Sunday 300 aircraft wiped out 288 planes in a 400 ton bombing assault.

Truk Bombed Again.

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HDQ., Pearl Harbor, April 9 (AP).—Seventh army air force Liberators smashed at Truk Friday night in the 16th attack in 11 days of two-way bomber operation against the Japanese stronghold, Adm. Nimitz announced today.

The strike followed up a Thursday night attack by Adm. Halsey's South Pacific bombers. In the Friday raid the 7th's planes bombed Moen Island air strip and hit wharves and fuel reservoirs on Dublon Island.

Nimitz' report made no mention of Japanese fighter interception or anti-aircraft fire. Nor did it report any loss to the attacking force.

Bomb 3 Big Bases.

Single Liberators from the same force bombed alternate targets on Oroluk, 190 miles east of Truk; Ponape, 440 miles east of the big base, and Ujelang, northeast of Ponape. Ponape also was bombed and strafed Friday by army Mitchells from the central Pacific. Returning pilots reported Ponape's anti-aircraft fire was moderate.

Four Marshall atolls were bombed and strafed by medium bombers, dive bombers, and fighters. A large explosion was observed near the hangars on one objective. At another atoll explosions and fires were seen among the barracks, warehouses, and gun emplacements.

1,500 Sorties in March.

ADVANCED SOUTH PACIFIC BASE, April 9 (AP).—Mitchell bombers and Liberators of the 13th air force made 1,500 sorties over Japanese territory last month, continuing the neutralization of Rabaul and Kavieng, Maj. Gen. Hubert R. Harmon reported today.

He said his flyers averaged 50 sorties a day during March, hitting their objectives 97 per cent of the time.

U. S. MARAUDERS TURN TABLES ON JAPS IN BURMA

WITH GEN. STILWELL'S FORCES IN THE MOGAUNG VALLEY, Burma, April 7 [Delayed]—(AP).—Merrill's Marauders, the all-American force in the mountains east of here, have turned the tables on the Japanese in an eight day battle that began when the enemy accomplished a partial encirclement of one Marauder unit.

The Marauders returned word that the Japanese were fought off with the aid of artillery dropped from planes in an action so close that the American gunners ignored their gunsights and had only to fire in the general direction of the enemy.

Another Marauder column pushed thru to relieve the situation, and the northernmost Japanese contingents then found themselves caught between the besieged and relieving American forces. Gen. Stilwell's Chinese troops meanwhile are making slow progress down the Mogaung valley.

Missing Flyer's Parents Learn Germans Hold Him

Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth F. Smith, 7736 Luella av., said yesterday they were notified that their son, 1st Lt. John K. Smith, reported missing Feb. 10 in a bomber raid over Germany, is a prisoner of war. Lt. Smith, who is 27, is a bombardier and has been overseas since last July. He enlisted in the army in November, 1940, joined the air forces in January, 1942, and received his commission in March of last year.

Air Medal Given to Flyer After 20 Raids on Europe

Second Lt. George Korinek, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Korinek, 2108 S. Austin blvd., Cicero, has been presented with the air medal and an oak leaf cluster for 20 combat flights over enemy territory in Europe, it was learned here yesterday. The 27 year old Lightning fighter pilot was in the first American group to make a combat flight over Berlin. His missions include escorting Flying Fortresses and Liberator bombers in raids over Germany and fighter sweeps over enemy air fields.

COUNCIL URGES ITALY'S PARTIES TO AGREE SOON

Believe King Will Give Answer This Week.

NAPLES, April 9 (AP).—The allied advisory council for Italy today expressed hope that negotiations among Italy's six leading parties for the formation of a "war cabinet" would "soon result in the democratization of the Italian government."

Some quarters believed that King Victor Emmanuel would give his answer this week to a request that he retire from the throne and name Crown Prince Humbert to serve as his lieutenant. The king's immediate retirement was sought by the party negotiators as a prerequisite to their support of a war cabinet headed by Premier Pietro Badoglio.

Seeks Share in Lend-Lease.

It was disclosed, meanwhile, that the Socialist party's aim in supporting a new government was to gain a revision of the armistice terms Italy accepted when she dropped out of the war as Germany's ally, and to open the way for lend-lease supplies from the United States.

The Socialist weekly Avanti published a declaration by the party's directorate that the formation of "such a democratic government should be countersigned by the revision of Italy's international position on the part of the allied powers," and particularly "the rigid positions of the armistice."

"The directorate of the Socialist party thinks that such revision and concession of lend-lease laws by the United States should be considered as the first step toward the ultimate goal of an alliance to which . . . the Italian people ardently aspire."

New Commissioner Attends.

Badoglio also has expressed hope for outright alliance with the allied nations and allied aid in making Italy's army an effective fighting force against the Germans.

Yesterday's meeting of the allied advisory council, at which its statement was agreed upon, was the first attended by the new British high commissioner, Noel Charles, who succeeds Harold Macmillan, and the last for Robert Murphy, the American member who will be succeeded by Alexander Kirk.

Coffee Shop Man Slain; 2d Floor Tenant Sought

James Skivanos, 67, of 815 Harrison st., part owner of a coffee shop at 620 S. Halsted st., was shot and killed last night during a quarrel over water leaking thru the ceiling of the shop from an apartment above. Maxwell st. police began a search for the tenant of the apartment, Sam Leveris, 40, after Mrs. Helen Skouras, another resident of the building, told them she saw Leveris fire at Skivanos and then flee. She said the two men had quarreled Saturday night when Leveris complained to Skivanos that a juke box in the coffee shop kept him awake.

ADMIRAL'S CAR USED BY SAILOR TO MAKE ESCAPE

Philadelphia, Pa., April 9 (AP).—A sailor under military arrest on a charge of being A. W. O. L. and an admiral's limousine disappeared simultaneously from the Philadelphia navy yard today.

The fourth naval district announced later the bluejacket, identified as F. J. Raffle, 19, of Philadelphia, had surrendered and told of escaping by lying in the rear seat while an unidentified sailor drove the car thru a gate.

The car was found undamaged in a nearby street. A navy spokesman said it belonged to a "high ranking officer," whose name was withheld "for security reasons."

ASSERT NORWAY AND DENMARK TO REWIN FREEDOM

Freedom again for Denmark and Norway was the prayer of groups which met yesterday to commemorate the fourth anniversary of the invasion of these countries on April 9, 1940, by the Nazi horde.

The Rev. Ottar Jorgensen, pastor of the Trinity Danish Lutheran church, told 1,500 Chicago Danes who met in Chicago temple that Denmark's soul and spirit cannot be destroyed under German oppression. "Denmark will be free again," he said, "because it is not built on material wealth and power."

At Carl Schurz High school 2,000 persons of Norwegian birth or descent were told by a young Norwegian who escaped from Norway by boat that the underground is working effectively against the Nazis with sabotage and espionage. He was identified only as "Sgt. Finn." Dr. J. A. Aasgaard, president of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America, paid tribute to those in Norway who are suffering and dying so that liberty may be won back.

NAZI MINEHUND TANKS SMASHED IN ANZIO THRUST

Allied Gunners Knock Out Three of Robots.

ALLIED HDQ., NAPLES, April 9 (AP).—The Germans again have flung their remote controled tanks, inappropriately called "Goliaths," against the allied Anzio beachhead but achieved no success as action flared up along the line, allied headquarers announced today.

The Germans' renewed attempt to use the tanks, known also as the "Minehund" or mine hound, proved about as ineffective as previously. They moved against allied lines in the Cisterna area. Sharp eyed allied gunners spotted them, destroying three and damaging a fourth before they could do any harm.

The minehund, about 5 feet long, 2 feet high, and 2 feet wide, is unmanned and runs on a light steel tread. It is powered by a two cylinder gasoline motor. A "mother" tank to the rear controls their movements. Allied army officers still are speculating on whether the Goliath is operated by radio or cable. They first appeared on this front about a month ago.

Direct Hit on a Tiger.

Beachhead gunners also scored a direct hit on a German Mark VI. "Tiger" tank in the Cisterna area and another southeast of Carroceto. Seven others were put under fire west of Cisterna.

The beachhead reverberated to an artillery duel, the Nazis inflicting some damage on vital Anzio harbor and allied gunners setting an ammunition dump afire two and a half miles west of Cisterna.

Handicapped by bad weather, the allied air force nevertheless continued to rake German communication lines.

The main rail line into Rome from the north was attacked by fighter bombers yesterday and it is believed they cut the line in several more places. One formation of A-36 Invaders blew out the east end of a railroad bridge west of Velano, 35 miles northwest of Rome.

Down 2 German Planes.

The Mediterranean air force flew about 1,000 sorties without loss. Two enemy planes were destroyed in combat. The enemy flew about 50 sorties over the battle area.

[A Rome radio broadcast recorded in London said Rome had been bombed three times on Sunday. The broadcast gave no details and there was no confirmation from allied sources.]

R. A. F. Wellington bombers operating in daylight for the first time in the Mediterranean campaign dropped two ton blockbusters on military installations at Niksic, east of Dubrovnik in Montenegro.

[Sunday's German war bulletin said German bomber formations attacked "the stronghold of Communist bands with observed results in Croatia. The German attack was made in daylight. Bombs were dropped and targets attacked with machine guns."]

EXPERTS HATCH PLAN FOR FEEDING EUROPE: FLY HATCHING EGGS!

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 9.—The Easter rabbit needn't think he's so smart, even tho he can make colored eggs pop up in the strangest places. Two University of Maryland scientists announced yesterday that they can produce southern fried chicken on the tables of war victims in Europe and elsewhere—by flying hatching eggs overseas.

They are Doctors Morley A. Jull and Robert Phillips, who think it's silly to ship eggs abroad to eat when they can be used to replenish poultry flocks.

To find out whether eggs would still hatch after an airplane trip, they got 30 dozen and shipped half of them to Los Angeles and back by plane in temperatures ranging from 48 to 70 degrees, and altitudes up to 12,000 feet. Then they put all their eggs in incubators and got 157 baby chicks from the eggs that had been traveling and 162 from the eggs that stayed at home.

While the Easter bunny was hiding his eggs today, they announced it's entirely practicable to build up poultry flocks abroad with eggs flown from the United States.

WAR COST NEAR TRILLION DOLLAR MARK THIS YEAR

New York, April 9 (AP).—Cost of the war is nearing the trillion dollar mark, measured solely in financial cost to belligerent governments, Dr. Mabel L. Walker, executive secretary of the tax institute, a research organization, announced today. Reporting on data available from the United States and British governments and such data as can be obtained about allied and enemy countries, she said the monetary cost of the war will be close to 900 billion dollars at the end of 1944.

NAZIS PREDICT NEW LANDING IN NORTHERN ITALY

LONDON, April 9 (AP).—Field Marshal Albert Kesselring, German commander in Italy, is hourly expecting new allied landings on both of the north Italian coasts—on the Gulf of Genoa on the west and at the head of the Adriatic on the east—a broadcast by a German war correspondent said today. "Defense positions and troop concentrations have been directed there," he said.

He said the allies were using new tactics and methods, dropping smoke generators from the air to mark targets for artillery at Cassino and the Anzio beachhead and making extensive use of smoke screens to hide beachhead disembarkations, troop movements, and supply lines.

He said Kesselring's staff admitted serious harassment by numerous Italian guerrilla bands in central and northern Italy, claiming that in the second half of March the Germans had killed 841 and captured 259 of the irregulars.

G. O. P. REVIVAL STIRS ANXIETY IN AUSTRALIA

Press Urges Statement on Foreign Policy.

BY W. A. O'CARROLL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SYDNEY, Australia, April 9.—Australian newspapers, commenting on Wendell Willkie's primary election defeat in Wisconsin, see the Presidential race as certain to be between President Roosevelt and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York. The papers say the result will have tremendous influence on world rehabilitation. A note of anxiety also was evident over the Republican resurgence which is seen as indicating the Americans' retreat into isolationism.

The Sydney Morning Herald said: "Willkie's eclipse reveals how Republican opinion has receded from the belief of close international collaboration, of which he had been an ardent advocate. Even the guarded foreign policy statement issued by Republican leaders last September at Willkie's instigation now seems more than they are prepared to accept, and Dewey's success in the elections is hardening their opinions."

Matter of High Importance.

The Herald, commenting on Dewey's "consistent silence on international questions," said:

"The allies, no less than the American people, now are entitled to an early declaration of Dewey's policy on foreign affairs. The course likely to be taken by America in event of a change of occupancy in the White House is a matter of highest importance to other countries which must be enabled to shape their plans betimes to meet the situation. While the choice of a leader is the business of the Americans, who would properly resent any outside attempt to influence their decision, the outcome is none the less of profound concern to all allied peoples."

The Herald's New York correspondent wrote that Wisconsin disproved Willkie's claims of rank and file support, and asserted that the Presidential election is now between Roosevelt and Dewey.

"This means the contest is likely to be between internationalism and narrow nationalism," he said, "and carries important implications not only for the future of America but for the future of the world. Those who want America to take her place in world affairs will vote for Roosevelt, those who do not will vote for Dewey. Dewey is the choice of reactionary elements in the Republican party."

"Turning to Nationalism."

The Sydney Daily Mirror said:

"Time and subsequent events will prove whether this vote [in Wisconsin] is representative of American public opinion in general. If it could be so taken, it would indicate American opinion is turning from internationalism to a most narrow nationalism, and would indicate a complete reorganization of foreign policy would follow a Republican victory at the polls."

The New York correspondent of the Sydney Sun wrote:

"The press' hallelujahs in favor of Dewey came from the Hearst, McCormick, and Patterson isolationist papers. Dewey's nomination for President is seen as making it almost impossible for Roosevelt to refuse the nomination for a fourth term. No other Democratic candidate in sight would be likely to beat Dewey, and even Roosevelt cannot be sure of victory."

TWO BOYS SIGHT DOZENS OF EGGS BOBBING IN LAKE

James Cleary Jr., 14, of 227 Sheridan rd., Kenilworth, and his brother, Michael, 7, yesterday happened upon what they believe is the nation's strangest Easter egg hunt. It was water borne and the eggs were all spoiled.

The brothers were walking along the beach near their home when they saw hundreds of eggs bobbing in the lake. With long sticks they fished more than 50 of them to shore.

The eggs were scattered over more than a block of the lake front, James said, and were being carried slowly southward by a strong north wind.

Banned Anti-Fascist Novel Published in Italy at Last

NAPLES, Italy, April 9 (AP).—Ignazio Silone's "Fontamara," one of the best known Italian novels of the last generation which was dramatized in New York a decade ago as "Bitter Stream," was published in Italy today for the first time. The book was banned in Italy because it was anti-fascist. Written in Switzerland where Silone was in exile, it is the story of the effects of fascism in a rural village.

WILLKIE DEFEAT BLOW AT BRITISH, LONDON'S VIEW

Tries to Find Meaning of Setback.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 9.—The London Sunday press devoted considerable space attempting to discover the meaning of Wendell Willkie's defeat in the Wisconsin primaries. The nature of the comment indicates that it is deplored here as a defeat of British interests.

Comments are mostly from special correspondents in New York and Washington, D. C. Marquis Childs writing for the Sunday Express from Washington said that Willkie was not defeated because of "internationalism but because of his revolt against party regularity."

Cites Middle West Action.

Childs wrote that undoubtedly many "elements in the middle west have reverted to isolationism" and "are reviving the charge that President Roosevelt deliberately involved the country in war."

The Sunday Times correspondent, Frank Macdermot, writing from New York, said that altho Willkie's defeat pleases the isolationists, it is no triumph for isolationism and that altho "he wobbled over lend lease before Pearl Harbor, he came down on the right side even then."

Indeed, Macdermot seems to think that Dewey might be OK because the main difference between "Dewey and Willkie seems to be that Dewey is less a perfectionist and less of an idealist."

Warns Against Error.

Willkie was complimented for his services in giving the Republican party an international outlook. Macdermot warned that "those who describe Wisconsin as a catastrophe are playing the isolationism game."

The Sunday Observer's Washington correspondent wrote that Willkie is still an election factor. This correspondent said Willkie will be courted for favor by all the candidates for the Republican nomination and will play an important "role in framing the Republican platform." Dewey, he said, will be all right, reminding the readers that he "backed the project for an Anglo-American alliance immediately after Churchill made the same suggestion."

Aussie Official Predicts Two More Years of War

MELBOURNE, Australia, April 9 (AP).—Deputy Prime Minister Frank Forde said tonight it would take at least a year to defeat Germany and the allies would be fortunate if Japan were defeated with an additional year. The war in Italy, he said, is not making the progress the allies expected.

BLOOD POVERTY CALLS FOR LIVER AND IRON

This is not an age for weaklings. A Nation's war-time needs demand all the power, energy and endurance which an abundant supply of rich red blood provides. Yet for thousands of women and girls over 14 the "loss of blood" is a periodical occurrence and simple anemia—blood poverty—is a natural result. Working far beyond their strength, they grow pale, weak, listless, nervous, irritable and depressed. They often say "I just can't seem to take it any more." Periodic blood loss should be promptly replaced with new red blood laden with the iron that gives renewed strength and stamina. Proper diet can help but may not be sufficient. Try fortifying your meals with ENRICH tablets. They contain the important anti-anemia principle of raw, fresh liver plus high potency iron. Doctors know what raw liver can do for folks like you. But it's hard to take.

In ENRICH tablets you get your liver and iron in safe, palatable, easy-to-take form—economical, too. Worth trying. Ask for ENRICH tablets—with liver. If one bottle doesn't help to reward you with better color, better looks, better feeling and new strength and vigor, ask for the money you paid. You'll get it. Tear this out.

FACTS ABOUT

THE

ILLINOIS UNION OF TELEPHONE WORKERS PROPOSED STRIKE BALLOT

On next Friday, April 14, the installation, construction, and maintenance men of the Illinois Bell Telephone Company, represented by the Illinois Union of Telephone Workers, will vote for or against a strike. The voting will be by secret ballot and supervised by The National Labor Relations Board. With a deep sense of our obligations in time of war, we regret to tell the public that there is even a threat to its communications service. We hope no interruption will take place and we will do everything in our power consistent with the Government's Stabilization Policy to continue the dependable service we are counted upon to provide in these times. We want the public to know, however, what has brought this situation about:

HERE ARE THE FACTS OF THE CASE

1. In 1943, the company and the union thru collective bargaining procedures and with the assistance of the War Labor Board settled all matters under discussion except that of a wage increase. Both the union and the company agreed that increases of 15 per cent had been granted since January 1, 1941, but the union contended that an increase given in March, 1941, should not be counted. The 15 per cent wage increase formula was developed by The War Labor Board as a key principle in the Government's program for industry and the public to follow in preventing inflation.

2. On July 10, 1943, a fact finding Panel of Labor, Industry, and Public members, after due consideration, issued its report and recommendation to deny the Union's demand for the increase.

3. On August 27, 1943, the Regional War Labor Board issued its Directive Order supporting the findings of the Panel in denying the increase.

   The question of reclassifying certain towns in Illinois Bell territory as part of the wage issue, however, was referred back to the Union and the Company for further negotiation. As a result, an agreement was reached which provided increases of from $2 to $6 per week in 44 towns. This agreement was approved by the Board but the increases have been held in abeyance at the request of the Union officials.

4. On September 7, 1943, the Union petitioned the National War Labor Board to review the wage issue as determined by the Regional Board. On November 16, 1943, the National War Labor Board denied the Union's petition.

5. On December 1, 1943, the Union again filed a petition with the National War Labor Board for reconsideration of the petition it had previously filed.

   On February 17, 1944, the National Board denied a further review by a unanimous decision. It reaffirmed the Regional Board's directive order of August 27, 1943, and ordered the Union and the Company to enter into a Contract.

6. The Union refused and proceeded to take steps leading up to the proposed strike vote. It also petitioned the Regional War Labor Board to again consider the wage increase.

7. On March 21, 1944, the union officials refused to meet jointly with the United States Conciliation Service and company representatives.

   Again, the War Labor Board scheduled a meeting with the Company and the Union on April 8, 1944. The union officials, after first agreeing to that meeting, advised the Board that they would not be available for that meeting. The War Labor Board thereupon scheduled another meeting for Wednesday afternoon, April 12, 1944. This is one business day before the strike vote is to be taken.

FOUR FUNDAMENTAL FACTORS

A. Since January 1, 1941, the Plant group has had three basic wage increases totalling more than the 15 per cent limit set by the Federal wage stabilization program.

B. Just prior to the beginning of these wage negotiations last year, the average weekly basic rate excluding overtime for all Plant men was equal to an annual rate of $2,891.29 per year. Contrasted to this was the average earnings including all overtime pay for all other Illinois Industrial male workers of $2,384.72.
Resignations of Plant men are negligible. The draft, however, is reducing the force. In many places this is causing longer hours and higher take home pay.

C. The Union's wage demand was given complete consideration by governmental bodies at four distinct stages in the war-time governmental process for settling wage disputes. At each stage the increase was denied.

D. The strike vote is being proposed by Union officials in spite of the fact that they gave the War Labor Board a no-strike pledge in order to secure union maintenance.

Before he casts his secret ballot it is to be hoped that each employee will bear in mind the fact that there have been full and complete hearings on the dispute in accordance with all steps set up by the Federal Government to handle such matters and that he will consider in all seriousness the question on the ballot, "Do you wish to permit an interruption of war production in war time as a result of this dispute?"

PUTTING DE GAULLE IN HIS PLACE.

Gen. Eisenhower has been instructed by Washington to deal with the French as he finds them when he gets into France. It is understood that when forces under the American general's command have occupied territory requiring interim administration they may engage the services of the persons best fitted for the work to be done regardless of partisanship. The De Gaullists now operating in North Africa as the Committee of Liberation have other ideas. They propose to move in.

De Gaulle's followers recognize themselves as the temporary government of France. They have been so recognized by Russia. The British attitude is one of tacit recognition. Our government has pursued an independent course apparently under the influence of Americans in the field where military considerations have been kept paramount in spite of emotional protests and French political considerations. The De Gaullists made their African entry from England after other Frenchmen responsible for the colonial administration had broken with Petain and Laval and had brought Algiers, Dakar, and the remnants of the French fleet over to the allied cause.

The De Gaullists triumphed where they did not fight. They took over the role of executioner, jailer, and tribunal of revenge. It may be our reproach that the men who aided in the occupation of Algiers and the defeat of the Germans and Italians were not protected from assassination, from the firing squad, and imprisonment. If the De Gaullists have their way, they will follow the invasion troops to France. The committee acting as an assembly has passed a "law" for the reoccupation of the home land.

Under this plan De Gaulle's civil commissioners would follow Gen. Eisenhower's troops to avert any allied military administration of liberated regions. Military commissioners would act in front line areas, under the civil commissioners. Exclusive jurisdiction is asserted altho liaison with the allied command is mentioned. De Gaulle's Socialists and Communists propose to take over civil and military administration on the heels of the advancing troops, if they can advance. The committee's attitude toward America is hostile. It has cultivated enmity. Our own doctrinaires support it.

None of the experience in Italy encourages illusions regarding the invasion of France. Mr. Churchill, who ought to know something of such undertakings, often reminds the Russians that they know nothing of them and as often warns America and Britain that the cost will be the highest the two countries ever paid. Mr. Churchill also ought to know that Gen. Eisenhower cannot have bitterly partisan French in his rear, under his feet, and in his hair, trying to take over military administration at the front and civil administration behind it, assuming jurisdiction, as they propose, over communications, railways, ports, telegraph, and radio.

If the De Gaullists behave in France as they have in Africa they'll be more interested in arresting Frenchmen than in fighting Germans. The prospect is fantastic. The situation is one the English should be asked to control. They might be able to impose some restraints on the faction they have encouraged. Otherwise it might become necessary for Gen. Eisenhower to suppress the interference by force and lock up the civil and military commissioners. A conflict would seem inevitable if the military orders of the invasion command did not have unquestioned force in the ports, along the line of communications, and thruout the areas of operation. It would be a deplorable breakdown in relations which are not good now.

Gen. De Gaulle exhibits a personal ambition in displays of autocratic conduct for which his warrant is at least obscure. He has lately asserted military supremacy over Gen. Giraud, who at first shared political responsibility with him and was ushered out on the pretext that the army commander should not be in politics. Gen. Giraud, strengthened from Washington, has defied De Gaulle. Flattery and opportunity have made De Gaulle a vain and willful man. Unless the allies put him in his place now they'll have to do so later for their own protection.

FAULTY TRAINING.

Sgt. Estel I. Nienaber, a member of a party of American Air Commandos, was crew chief of a glider forced down over enemy territory in Burma. When the group came to a river, which had to be crossed, the men were cautioned not to make a sound that might reveal their presence to the enemy. A swimmer escorting Sgt. Nienaber lost him in the river, and the sergeant drowned silently only a few yards from safety. He refused to give the shout that might have saved his life because the sound might have betrayed his comrades.

Sgt. Nienaber died a hero's death, but needlessly. Commandos should know how to swim. They are detailed to invasion landings along sea coasts and to cross-country missions behind enemy lines. Sgt. Nienaber died because he couldn't swim, and a Commando who can't swim is as badly handicapped as an infantry man with one foot.

FORCED CONTRIBUTIONS.

Atty. Gen. Biddle in a letter to Rep. Smith of Virginia has said that the activities of the CIO's political action committee, headed by Sidney Hillman, are not in violation of the federal law restricting trade union contributions to political campaign funds. Rep. Smith insists that Mr. Biddle's investigation has been a whitewash. The law is being violated, Mr. Smith says, and, of course, the beneficiary is the New Deal to which Mr. Biddle owes allegiance.

It is certain that a great deal more will be heard about this matter in congress. Congress undoubtedly intended to forbid just such activities as those directed by Mr. Hillman on behalf of the CIO. His fund now totals, in Mr. Biddle's accounting, $569,000. The legality of this collection remains to be determined, but meanwhile there can be no doubt of its impropriety.

Any citizen, of course, is free to help a candidate for office meet his election expenses. Likewise, every citizen is, or ought to be, free to withhold contributions if he doesn't feel like giving them. When a trade union contributes to an election campaign, it is, in effect, obliging all its members, whether they favor the benefited candidate or not, to help him get elected.

An employer may be wholly persuaded that the welfare of his men will be advanced by the election of a particular congressman, but the employer would be condemned universally if he ordered his workmen to contribute to that candidate's fund. In principle there is nothing to distinguish contributions exacted by an employer from contributions exacted by a union. Both are wholly inexcusable. Both deny to the individual the freedom of political choice which is every American citizen's birthright.

JOHN BRICKER, AMERICAN.

Gov. Bricker's stature as a Republican Presidential candidate has been enhanced considerably by what he said at two appearances in Chicago Friday. He declared that America must retain foreign bases and installations, not as the tools of imperialism, but as an absolute necessity to our future safety. He said that our government, to be effective, must be supported by the people and they, in turn, must be advised by the government of what is going on at home and abroad. There must be no secret commitments. Peace, Gov. Bricker believes, will be maintained when the world is convinced that peace is profitable, and our world position will depend on "our remaining free at home and keeping our government in our own hands."

Gov. Bricker's insistence that the United States shall retain the bases won and built by our soldiers will make sound sense to people whose sons are dying to regain the Pacific islands from which our allies were driven and from which an enemy is attacking us. There is no reason to believe that our allies, even tho they remain friendly, can do a better job of defense 25 years from now, or that we won't have to fight another war for these islands if we fail to keep them now.

The governor pointed out that it is not enough for the United States to make commitments with the intention of keeping them. We must be able to keep them. Americans who are concerned with the future of their country are deeply worried about the commitments President Roosevelt may have made at Teheran and elsewhere in his secret conferences with allied leaders. It is serious enough for a chief executive to make secret agreements with foreign powers, but the people have no assurance that Mr. Roosevelt even considered America's ability to carry out such agreements. On the contrary, any one would judge from the effusions of Henry Wallace and other trusted New Dealers that the ability to spout glib promises is a qualification for public office.

No man who values his citizenship and loves his country can quarrel with Gov. Bricker's post-war strategy. If the enlightened self-interest he recommends is allowed to dominate our peace table delegation and form the basis for our post-war planning, America will come out of the war a strong and triumphant nation, able to give its citizens the protection they deserve. That will not happen under a New Deal administration which places the interests of European monarchies first and those of America second. Peace cannot be bought by doling out America's resources to the rest of the world, or by guaranteeing to other nations a grandiose set of freedoms we shall be fortunate to maintain for ourselves.

John Bricker is the only avowed candidate for the Republican nomination now in the field. Wendell Willkie retired in a disgraceful rout because he tried to sell Republicans the internationalist program of Mr. Roosevelt and the New Dealers. There seems to be no danger of Gov. Bricker doing anything like that, and it is one of the reasons why his candidacy is highly regarded by a good many Americans.

The foreign policy plank is going to be the most important in the Republican national platform this year. Whether Gov. Bricker wins the nomination or not, Americans can rejoice that his growing influence will be felt in the formulation of the party's position.

ARKANSAS REMOVES A BLOT.

[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

Punishment of a slave driving Arkansas planter on a plea of guilty in a federal court at Helena yesterday is a victory for the administration of justice by southern men on behalf of the Negro and all others who are oppressed.

Albert Johnson, sentenced to two and one-half years' imprisonment, was indicted by an Arkansas grand jury, prosecuted by an Arkansan who is a United States district attorney and sentenced by an Arkansan who is a United States District judge. If he had believed, as defendants often have good cause to believe in cases of this kind, that the Arkansas farmers and merchants who sat on the trial jury would be guided by prejudice and turn him loose, he would hardly have pleaded guilty.

These Arkansans have shown that it can be done. There is no real reason why those charged with law enforcement in any other state cannot do as well.

THE DOUBLE LIFE.

Almost any day now, as April shakes off her chill, a few city-bred reporters will be chased into the woods, marshes, and dunes of Chicago's hinterlands in search of a goddess named Spring. They will interview Virginia Moe of the Trailside museum and Roberts Mann of the forest preserve administration, who is known to readers of this column as Buckshot O. R. S. Then they will return to town, bearing pussy willows, to write lyric pieces about the popping of the buds, the twittering of the birds, and the dancing of the daffodils. But not one of them will bring back the amazing story of the spotted newt.

* * *

The newt, called spotted because its green back is boldly marked with scarlet splashes, is a common creature of inland streams and pools, but only scientists and small boys are capable of its capture. It is a lizardlike amphibian about four inches long, whose career is quite curious. It is famous in literature as a contributor to the witches' caldron in "Macbeth":

Eye of newt and toe of frog,
Wool of bat and tongue of dog.

At present the newt is indulging in its love-life—a story which may be heard only in our private office after presentation of credentials from a biological institute. The romance happens under water; eggs attached to plant stems, and pollywogs follow in due course. By autumn the offspring are almost as large as their parents, and then a strange transformation occurs. The adolescent newt turns bright red and crawls out of water to become a creature of the land, living under damp leaves and rotting logs. For many years naturalists thought it was another species and called it the red newt.

* * *

After a year or two on land the red newt will feel a mystic urge to return to the element of its ancestry. It will migrate with inflexible determination in search of water. Armies of newts will move in the autumn, usually unseen, over hill and dale, in search of river, creek, or pond. Be it ever so humble, there is no place like the old watery home for newts in this mood.

* * *

If you are a suburbanite with a rompus room home, watch the ventilating pits by your basement windows. Migrating red newts and other small creatures of the wild are often trapped in such places. . . . But if the captive in the pit yowls like a banshee, it's only your neighbor's Scotch terrier.

It is April, with rain—
Tho I've stoutly demurred.
And now love's on the wane.

There'll be sunshine again;
Until then love's deferred—
It is April, with rain.

On the window's wet pane
Little streamlets have erred,
And now love's on the wane.

On the rooftop the vane
Can be seen, altho blurred;
It is April, with rain.

And wet weather is bane
To romance, one has heard;
And now love's on the wane.

So one well may be fain
For a bottle and bird.
It is April, with rain;
And now love's on the wane.

A HOPEFUL OUTLOOK IN MENINGITIS.

WHILE the word "meningitis" still carries a sense of alarm, the fact remains that we are far safer today than ever before. Long termed "spotted fever," the disorder wrought much havoc in the New England states during the early years of the last century. At that time there was nothing to do other than to keep the patient as comfortable as possible. As we would expect, the death rate was high.

Since then much progress has been made, including the discovery of the cause—the meningococcus; the antidote—antitoxin; and the rôle of the sulfa drugs. There is reason to believe that in time we will no longer fear this malady because the neutralizing agent will be immediately at hand.

Early recognition is of the greatest importance. If we can apply the remedy before a tiny blaze has become a raging holocaust, life can be preserved. One thing we must remember—namely, that many persons who are perfectly well with no indication of even a slight sore throat will be carriers of the causative germ. They are not ill. They will not become ill. Nevertheless, they are in a position to spread the invaders to those who are susceptible.

Under ordinary conditions there are four or five such individuals among every one hundred. Let an epidemic occur, however, and the number who can disseminate the organisms will mount. Fortunately, these potential sowers will not remain menaces always. The chances are that within three or four weeks the microbes will die out within their throats or airways.

How does the ailment begin? While the onset is usually abrupt it may start with a sore throat and hang on as a low grade infection for several days. During this interval the characteristic eruption may be observed on the chest and abdomen, with signs of brain irritation. These symptoms may last for only a day or two and the most typical manifestation is an intense headache which is described as splitting, boring, or tearing. Many sufferers will vomit, while others will experience muscle pains or soreness. "I feel as tho I had been beaten," is a common remark. Drowsiness or delirium or both may come on.

As a rule, fever is not high except in young children. Most physicians will be sufficiently alert to make the diagnosis without difficulty. One of the principal findings will be a sharp increase in the white cells of the blood.

Our main consideration is treatment and here sulfadiazine may be employed in large amounts or until the circulation is fairly well saturated with the drug. If vomiting prevents absorption, the compound may be administered directly into a vein. The chemical is continued for several days or until the infection is under control. Sodium bicarbonate may be given along with the dye. This precaution helps to prevent damage to the kidneys.

If meningitis is present in the neighborhood it is always wise to take cultures of the throat and air passages of every child of school age as well as others who have been exposed. In this fashion, carriers can be detected. If germs are found we must provide a way to get rid of them. A dose or two of one of the sulfa preparations will usually suffice. In addition, antiseptic gargles and nasal douches will aid.

NERVE INJURY.

I. W. writes: Last summer, while on a fishing trip, I overlifted my right arm. Since then there has been a dull pain which is worse in cold weather. I have been wondering whether the muscles or nerves were torn.

REPLY.

Your symptoms point to an overstretched nerve. Time is the essence of recovery.

DEAFNESS.

F. D. writes: I was rejected for military service because of deafness. I am only slightly hard of hearing. Can this be corrected so that I would be acceptable?

REPLY.

It all depends upon the cause. Some types of deafness cannot be remedied. The army will not accept those who are obliged to use a hearing aid.

VITAMIN D FOR THE AGED.

L. H. C. writes: I am 83 years old and recently I started to take cod liver oil. After a few weeks I began to have nosebleeds. Was this cause and effect?

Journey's End.

Kansas City, Mo., April 9.—Every once in a while, when on one of these transcontinental safaris that never seem to end, you wonder how the pioneers did it. And did the horizon with them, too, seem to move farther and farther away the nearer they approached it?

The nearer you get, the slower the train seems to be, and at last you check up on it and find you are quite right. Once we were only four hours late and were making it up. Now, we are five hours late and getting later. Long before this the travelers are politely sick of each other. Even the interminable gin rummy games have been abandoned, and the only sign of activity in the lounge car, as the state of Kansas seems to elongate into one flat prairie after another, are the two chief petty officers of the navy who, having taken on a cowboy at poker, are arguing in violent tone and language.

So each person repairs back to his own car, where the time table brigade holds forth. These people, a wonderful breed who actually can decipher time tables, compare their watches with one another and with the time tables at every slow sputtering stop. They have been the mainspring of the entire train's despair since the first air hose broke 1,500 miles back. They say, with what seems ecstasy, that we're only four hours and 31 minutes late now, and they ring bells to summon the harassed conductors. How long will they hold our connecting trains in Chicago? Can I make the 7:30? [They know that is hopeless.] Will they hold the 9:30? [Again hopeless.] Well, then the 12:30? And those connecting trains in Kansas City which even now must be moving out with the empty seats and berths reserved so long ago? Is there another any time soon?

It is Easter eve, you see, already 11 p. m. and the nearest thing to hard boiled eggs on the train are the bald heads of some of the customers. There's the tired, wan woman in slacks with the red plastic airplane on her bosom and beneath it the words: "Don't let 'em down," whose mother is dying in southern Illinois. And the bride whose husband, a soldier, is waiting for her at the other end of a train she will never make. And the warrant officer in the navy who, if he misses his train out of Chicago, will have overstayed his leave eight hours. And the WAC, who looks so lonely and friendless, whose fiance, a Norwegian flyer, crashed in this country after two years' combat in European skies, who will miss the contingent of younger WACs she is supposed to shepherd on to a new station. She sits, sudden tears rolling down her cheeks, as she joins the radio, in a voice far lovelier than that of the chanteuse coming over the air, with "will wear an Easter bonnet in the Easter parade."

That's the way it is. The train by now, after two nights and two days, is littered with relics of the trip, and not all the relics are inanimate. Many have two legs. All are weary, some are train sick, few are without despondency. Then some one says, again, to the porter, "How late now? Five hours or four?" He is much more weary than the cash customers with good beds, and he has been getting this all day, but he still can grin that wide, tolerant grin of his. "Five hours?" he says. "Lady, five hours ain't nothin'. Sometimes it's 11 hours, sometimes it's 18." Some one comes out with an incredulous "Really!" But the porter reaffirms his statement. "Yes, ma'am, sometimes 18 and sometimes, sometimes," slyly, "people is glad to be on trains even when they is late."

That does it. From then on no one demurs. From then on it's just the happiest old train load you ever did see.

Nomenclature.

No less fascinating a bit of nomenclature than that of Ensign Jensen was the name of the Chicago WAVE, Yeoman Bowman, who, unfortunately for the sonorous tongue, has been promoted to Ensign Bowman. How the C. O. who recommended her for promotion must miss the euphonious sound of "Yeoman Bowman, take a letter, please."

BRITISH EXPERIENCE WITH FORCED LABOR.

Chicago, April 6.—Since the sights of the New Deal seem to be focused on Great Britain on all regimentation matters, I would like to pass along some official figures taken from the British government Labor Gazette.

One of the chief arguments made for a labor draft touted by the administration is that it will stop strikes. This has not been borne out by the experiences in Britain. On the contrary, the passage of the emergency defense act of May, 1940, the "no strike act" of June, 1940, and the drastic national service act of December, 1941, seemed to stimulate strikes. The following table gives figures for the last available 11 month period with comparisons for previous years:

	No. of disputes	Workmen involved.	Workdays lost.
1940	850	284,000	890,000
1941	1,162	334,800	1,034,000
1943	1,638	527,000	1,676,000

Nor has the British labor draft proved a cure for that other production deterrent, absenteeism. The following figures show that since the passage of forced labor laws there has been an increase in absenteeism in British coal mines:

Quarters ending.	Per cent.	Quarters ending.	Per cent.
Sept. 1941.....	8.4	Sept. 1942.....	10.7
Dec. 1941.....	9.7	Dec. 1942.....	10.8
March 1942...	11.2	March 1943...	12.7
June 1942.....	10.1	June 1943.....	11.7

Management in Britain claims that the labor draft has even promoted absenteeism, thru the removal of powers of discipline from the employer, who can no longer dismiss an unsatisfactory worker. With little choice in selection, the indifferent worker is encouraged to become bolder in his absence from work bench, dissatisfied, embittered, and quick to find an excuse to join a strike.

Are the workers in the United States more subservient than those in Britain? Will regimented labor act differently here?

In my own personal survey in the course of my work in calling on manufacturers in the middle west I have yet to find one who is in favor of the current proposed labor draft. The consensus seems to be that workers forced to take jobs in their factories will cause trouble among present workers, disrupt their organization and hurt the war.

Paradoxical as it may seem, there are hundreds of thousands of people drawing unemployment compensation. In the smaller towns where there are no war plants, there are additional thousands anxious to be informed on how to go about obtaining some of the so-called "big money" in war plants. Let's solve the labor problem the American way and not make it worse the British way. EARL W. SCROGUM.

TEST OF INDISPENSABILITY.

Cincinnati, O., April 2.—Fourth terms and indispensability remind me of a story I read many years ago about an old Dutchman who could not read but ran a store and had a bright young clerk who could. John was the clerk's name and he kept pressing the Dutchman for more pay because he was indispensable. He was getting more out of the store than the Dutchman was, but still he kept demanding more money. In desperation the Dutchman asked: "But, John, vot would happen if you should die?"

"I don't know," replied John. "I hadn't thought of that."

"Vell, John," said the Dutchman, "suppose you consider yourself dead."

MAKING A WILL.

Gary, Ind., April 4.—Is it necessary to have an attorney draw up my will, or would it be legal if I wrote it myself if properly witnessed? R. R.

While the statute does not require the employment of an attorney, we consider such employment advisable. If you try to economize by dispensing with expert help, you are likely to make mistakes which will cost much more than an attorney would have charged. If you wish to try to handle the matter for yourself, you should obtain a printed form from a stationer and see that it is executed in strict accordance with the attestation clause which precedes the space for signature of witnesses. The services of a notary are not necessary, and it is not safe to assume that a notary will be a competent adviser.

$200,000 STUDY FUND REVEALED BY FOUNDATION

Guggenheim Money to Aid Men, Women in War.

New York, April 9. [Special]. — Creation of a $200,000 fellowship fund, for men and women now serving the nation in the war and distinct from other fellowship funds also designed to advance research and creative work, was announced today by the John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation as it made public the names of 69 fellowship winners for the current year. Stipends under the fellowships total $155,000.

Only five of the awards went to individuals now active in the war—three of them army men serving in foreign theaters and the two others engaged in research for the federal government. Thirteen of the other 64 award winners are women.

Among the winners of fellowships under the new scholarship fund is Joseph Hickey, ornithologist, who now is engaged upon war research at the University of Chicago; Dr. G. E. Bentley, associate professor of English, University of Chicago; Dr. Morton D. Zabel, professor and chairman, department of English, Loyola university, Chicago, and Dr. George Neville Jones, associate botanist, University of Illinois.

GREEN POINTS TO TOLERANCE OF AMERICANS

Religious tolerance is the basis of a united America, Gov. Green said yesterday at the Knights Templar Easter services in Medinah temple. The founder of Christianity emphasized the principle that all men are brothers regardless of race or creed, he said.

"Freedom of religion is the first basic right which is guaranteed to us under our Constitution's Bill of Rights" the governor said. "And because we mingle so freely and frequently with men and women who hold different religious beliefs, we have achieved a spirit of tolerance which gives us a broad view of all religion.

"It is this spirit which has enabled Americans to grasp the basic principle of all religions—that all men are brothers, regardless of race or creed, enjoying equal rights in a free country. Indeed, no religious teacher ever placed greater emphasis upon that cardinal principle than the founder of the Christian religion—the Man whose triumph over the evils of this world we are celebrating today in this Holy Easter service."

MOTHER STRUCK BY HIT-RUN CAR; BABY IS UNHURT

Police last night sought a hit and run motorist whose automobile struck Mrs. Bessie Dakuras, 19, of 3157 W. Harrison st., at Jackson blvd. and California av. and narrowly missed hitting her husband, John, and the carriage in which their son, George, 3 months, was riding. The family dog was killed in the accident. Mrs. Dakuras was taken to Franklin Boulevard hospital suffering from back injuries. Another driver whose car was sidewiped gave police the license number of the automobile.

Lyle Knutson, 22, and Corp. Lorrie J. Bechtel, 23, of the army, were killed yesterday when their car went out of control on highway 17 west of Kankakee and crashed into a utility pole. The youths were on their way to their homes in Herscher [Kankakee county] from a party in Kankakee. Knutson was at the wheel when the car passed over a bumpy railroad crossing, headed into a deep ditch, and struck the pole.

HOME LEAVE FOR PIQUA'S ACE OF ACES REQUESTED

Piqua, O., April 9 (AP). — Piqua's city commissioners today telegraphed a request to President Roosevelt that Capt. Don S. Gentile of Piqua, America's leading ace in the European war theater, be allowed to return home "for a much deserved rest." Gentile is officially credited with having destroyed 27 German planes and confirmation is pending for three others.

The telegram said:

"Piqua is justly proud of all its men and women in the armed services, including the men of the 37th division [Ohio] who are doing a magnificent job in the Pacific theater and Capt. Don Gentile of the 8th army air force, whose outstanding record is the subject of much note at this time. It has been suggested from many quarters both in and out of Piqua that the city of Piqua use its influence to bring about the return of Capt. Gentile to this country for a much deserved rest."

G. O. P. CAN WIN IF 'REAL ISSUES' ARE TOLD: LUCE

New York, April 9 [Special].— The Republicans can win the Presidency this year "in overwhelming fashion" if the real issues of how America got into the war and what this nation will get out of it are debated in the campaign, Rep. Luce [R., Conn.] asserted today in an interview.

"We must get over to the people the fact that they are to decide if we want four more years of an administration which allowed us to drift into a war unarmed and gives every sign of saddling the American workingman with the entire load of restoring and rehabilitating every other nation in the world," she added.

"The American people have done a magnificent job to date in carrying the rest of the world, like Atlas, on their shoulders. Now in 1944 they must decide whether to keep men like Roosevelt and Wallace who want them to keep on carrying the load or elect a man who is in favor of the world sharing the world's burden."

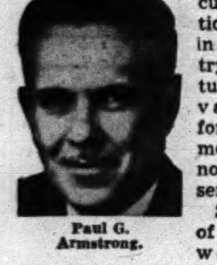
LATEST DRAFT ORDER CREATES GUESSING GAME

Men 26 and Older Unable to Clarify Status.



Paul G. Armstrong.

Chicago men 26 years and older, seeking clarification of the latest order from Gen. Hershey that curbs the induction of older men in essential industry and agriculture, appealed in vain yesterday for enlightenment from Illinois selective service officials.

Some members of the state staff were willing to give "personal versions," but most inquiries brought the answer that "we are waiting for clarification from Washington." A department rule prohibits any official except Paul G. Armstrong, state director, from being quoted. Armstrong was not available for comment either Saturday or yesterday.

Unofficial Interpretations.

Unofficial interpretations were offered on the effect of the new order, which directs draft boards to halt induction of men 26 years and older who are in agriculture, war production, or war supporting activities, and to speed the induction of men under 26. The order still leaves to local boards decisions on draft deferments of men under 26 who are "particularly essential."

Illinois draft officials would not hazard a guess as to the number of men involved. Estimates of time needed to exhaust the number of younger men the order would affect ranged from two to six weeks. One official was sure the delay given to men older than 26 would be "very brief."

Hershey's order stating that "immediate necessity for young men in the armed forces is greater than the need to immediately fill calls" was interpreted to relieve local boards of quotas until all younger men of the state had been inducted or definitely deferred as "essential."

Draft Officials Puzzled.

In spite of the order to delay drafting older men "even tho such men have been found acceptable for military service or have been ordered to report for induction or pre-induction physical examination," all men were cautioned against ignoring induction calls. While this also awaited clarification from Washington, it was anticipated that boards would notify such men that they need not report on the date previously set.

Draft officials also were uncertain just what industries were regarded as "essential" or which were "war supporting activities," for some heard reports that the list of industries drafted last week was being revised.

All Parochial Schools in Chicago Close Today

All parochial schools in Chicago will be closed today, in a one day extension of the Easter holiday, the Rev. D. F. Cunningham, superintendent of Chicago Catholic schools, said last night. William H. Johnson, superintendent of schools, said public schools will be open as usual.

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and by mail, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the queries.]

A. H. writes: "I have a friend in the army who is a bacteriologist. To date he has been just a pan washer on K. P. and not for disciplinary reasons either. Why can't he get a commission or at least a rating and be put on to the type of work he is fitted for?"

ANSWER: There are several possible explanations as to why he is not assigned to his skill. It is entirely possible that he is improperly classified in which case he can ask his C. O. to have his file reviewed for reassignment. He may be assigned to a training unit for basic training after which he may be reassigned if qualified and if there are vacancies. If he is a college graduate with four years of actual experience in the field of medical bacteriology; or has a master's degree and two and one-half years of actual experience, or a Ph. D. in the field and one year experience, he can apply under provisions of AR 605-10 thru his commanding officer for a commission. Memorandum W605-33-43, amended, lists approximately 40 skilled categories and subskills which may qualify a candidate for commissioning from the ranks.

J. W. F. asks: "Is there any provision for extra life insurance for a boy killed in action who only had $1,000 in government insurance? I have understood that the government would pay an additional $5,000 under such circumstances."

ANSWER: There would be no additional insurance compensation available. However, his wife or children or both if such survive him are eligible for six months' gratuity pay plus a pension. It might be advisable, if the young man was employed prior to his service, to investigate and determine if social security benefits are available. Inquiry may be made at the nearest social security field office.

H. W. S. writes: "I am 25, married and have three children. I have been employed on a farm here in Michigan for the last seven years. My local board has recently put me in 1-A and says it can't defer any one under 26."

ANSWER: Your local board is in error. Michigan state memo 797, March 29, states: "The practice of certain local boards classifying in 1-A and ordering for pre-induction physical examination farm registrants under 26 years of age, regardless of essentiality, is not in conformity with the Tydings' amendment, selective service regulations, or Gen. Hershey's letter of March 13, 1944. Such action does not meet with approval of this headquarters and, coming at a time when spring planting is about to begin, is causing farmers to question whether the administration actually desires their farms to be operated in 1944. If crops are to be planted, labor must be available."

HUSBAND SEEKS BLOOD DONORS TO AID HIS WIFE

With his wife scheduled for a blood transfusion every 24 hours, and most of their relatives and friends eliminated as prospective donors because of her rare blood type, John Spagnola, 2422 Gladys av., appealed to THE TRIBUNE last night to aid in finding donors for her. Mrs. Josephine Spagnola, 55, underwent an operation for removal of a tumor Tuesday in Belmont hospital and complications made necessary the transfusions. Only two of the 35 persons who volunteered had her type—No. 1—and Spagnola said he has exhausted his funds for professional donors.

'Good Night, Sweet Prince'

By Gene Fowler

[Copyright: 1943, 1944: By Gene Fowler: Published by arrangement with the Viking Press, Inc.]

SYNOPSIS: John Barrymore was born to a great theatrical heritage. His father, Maurice, was one of the finest leading men of the time. His mother, Georgianna Drew Barrymore, was a competent comedienne. John's Grandmother, Louisa Lane Drew [Mum Mum to the children], was a distinguished actress, and her sons—Sidney [Uncle Googan] and John—were likewise successful. The young Barrymores followed their family tradition with reluctance, yet John, Lionel, and Ethel all became fixtures of the American stage. In succession came John's first marriage, to Katherine Corri Harris; divorce after seven years; stardom in roles of increasing importance, including a memorable Hamlet; marriage to the poetess, Michael Strange, and a breakup of that marriage. After signing a fabulous contract, John went to Hollywood and entered a golden period of picture production. He met and fell in love with Dolores Costello, then a young film player. Altho fearful that his marriages were ill-starred, he arranged for a divorce from Miss Strange so he might marry Dolores.

INSTALMENT XXXI.

FIFTY KEYS AND A TRUNK.

At 4 o'clock there was a knock on the office door. Barrymore's drayman friend, Dave Connor, came inside to announce: "Mrs. Barrymore told me to get your trunk."

"My God!" Barrymore said, rising from the couch. "I'd forgotten all about packing. Get my trunk for me, Dave, will you?

"You mean the busted one?" Dave said.

"It's a big, sturdy theatrical trunk," Barrymore said defensively. "And I'll thank you not to slander it. Just take it to my bedroom."

Presently Dave staggered in with a huge trunk, a box so old, so mildewed and buffeted that it might well have been the original patent model. It bore dog eared hotel and theater stickers, remnants of customs stamps, and the tarnished initials, "J. D."

"Belonged to Uncle Jack Drew," explained the actor. "Borrowed it from him. Carried it around with me since. Practically set up light housekeeping in it."

Barrymore patted the ancient flanks of the trunk and fiddled with the corroded, greenish brass lock. "Damn it!" he said. "It's locked! I'll find the key, don't worry. I'll empty all the drawers on the floor. It'll save time anyway."

He began to empty drawers. He finally cried out exultantly. There clattered from one a huge bunch of keys.

He began to examine the 50 or more keys with great interest. There were several hotel keys among them, as indicated by their tags. It was well known that Barrymore never bothered to return a key to a hotel desk. A brass key, larger than the others, caused him to lift his brows.

"Can you imagine?" Jack said. "It's the key to Whistler's house in London. Historic! Ought to be enshrined alongside the Magna Carta." He paused, then said aggrievedly, "When I checked out of the great artist's abode, the agent kept asking me what had become of the key. How was I to know what had become of it? You'd have thought I had stolen it for a souvenir. This proves my innocence."

Clio, the Filipino servant, opened the door. Barrymore dropped the keys. He sprang to the pile of clothing on the floor. He picked up two pairs of long underwear, as if to simulate packing.

When he saw it was only the servant at the door, he sighed, "I thought it was Mrs. Barrymore."

Barrymore dispensed with the long underwear and again took up the keys. He selected a slightly bent one.

"You see!" he cried. "Life can become very simple." Then he tried to turn the key. It snapped off in the lock. He stared at the piece of metal in his hand. Then he said slowly: "Gentlemen, there comes a time when no amount of cursing will suffice. Let us merely observe a moment of silence, like a deaf mute who has just hit his fingers with a hammer."

While waiting for the locksmith Barrymore had a drink. Then his eye lighted upon a decrepit pair of khaki trousers among the heap of clothing on the floor. He picked them up, fondled them.

"These fishing pants," he extolled, "surely must be taken along. Don't laugh. The garment is a bit soiled, and the seams are giving way at vital junctures, but these pants are pants! Had 'em for years. Had 'em on The Gypsy and aboard The Mariner during the Honolulu race."

Dave Connor and the locksmith, a scholarly appearing man with a satchel like a lung doctor's, arrived in the bedroom at almost 6 o'clock. The key specialist opened the trunk with such speed that Jack said to him: "Sir, you are one locksmith that Love dare not laugh at."

Jack maneuvered the warped and creaking lid. Then he dived into the ancient depths with a loud cry. He came up with a small weapon, then turned to the group.

"I've been looking high and low for this precious relic," Jack said. "It's Hamlet's dagger! What archeologists we have become this day!"

"Jack," said Hotchener, "do you think it's right to take this old wreck of a trunk on a honeymoon trip?"

"I was only wondering," Hotchener said, "what people will think, or perhaps say, when it is placed beside the shiny new luggage Dolores has packed for the honeymoon. Do you yourself regard it as a symbol of happiness in regard to marriage?"

Barrymore opened his eyes wide. "Get another trunk! Instantly!" He set out in his roadster with Hotchener, calling out to Connor in passing: "Wait here for us. I'll be back instantly."

At the luggage shop Barrymore selected a large trunk, then with his manager's assistance carried the trunk to the roadster. It would not fit in the rumble seat. Hotchener took the wheel. Jack stood up in the rumble seat, steadying the trunk on the swift return ride to Tower Road.

Mrs. Costello said good-by to her daughter and her son-in-law that night in the flower filled sitting room of the Barrymore suite aboard the Virginia. Mrs. Costello was weeping. Jack put his arms about her, kissed her, then said: "Don't worry, mamma. I'll be sure to cable you every day. And I'll take good care of Dolores, always."

Albert H. Allison, 43, manager of an apartment building at 6409 Ingleside av., was arrested last night by Woodlawn police on complaint of a 26-year old woman tenant in the building that he raped her.

The woman told police that Allison came to her apartment Thursday night and that after they had had several drinks, he attacked her.

Last night, she said, he came to her apartment again and attempted to attack her, but she eluded him, ran from the building, and telephoned police from a corner drug store. Allison denied the charge.

WOMEN GET THE DARNDEST IDEAS!
By W. E. Hill

"But I never get a wide-mouthed can any more to save my fat in!"

Baby...you use a can opener at least once a week, don't you...on a tomato juice, fruit, soup or vegetable can? Then save that can for saving fat. Any kind will do. Just one warning...no glass, please! It almost always breaks...makes the fat difficult to use.

"Save this black and smelly fat? Why, what would my butcher think if I brought it in?"

If you did (and for goodness' sake, do), he'd think you were a smart cookie. Everybody ought to know that any kind of fat will yield crystal-clear ingredients needed to make the tons of battlefield medicines and munitions we must have to fight this war to a finish.

"Now how could one tablespoonful of fat do any good?"

It will help make enough vaccine compound to protect 73 men, or five machine gun bullets to drop a couple of Japs in their tracks. That's all...but that's enough to help shorten this war. So save, skim and scoop every bit of fat... every day.

"Saving fat is such a little thing to do ...and easy, if you'll remember:"

First, any color fat is wanted. Second, every bit counts. Not only skillet, broiler, roasting pan scrapings, skimmings off gravies and stews, but the excess fat you trim off meats before cooking or at the table. (Melt these down.) Third, keep a tin can on the back of the stove. For every pound of used fat you turn in to your butcher, you get 4¢ and two free meat points! Start saving today!

INJURED FLYER'S NOTES UNFOLD A DRAMA OF WAR

Navigator Scribbles His Directions for Pilot.

A U. S. BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND, April 9 (AP).—"Mitch, for God's sake find some field and land on it now—and shoot all the red flares you've got."

Those scribbled instructions were the last to come from the navigator of a Flying Fortress who stuck to his instruments and brought his bomber back from Germany by means of notes yesterday while blood streamed down his face and a shattered jaw prevented him from speaking.

"Mitch" is Lt. John F. Mitchell, the pilot, of San Francisco. The wounded navigator's name may not be disclosed until later.

"After we left the formation his notes were all we had to go by," related "Mitch." "He did a wonderful job. Altho he was in awful pain he insisted on navigating, writing notes on a pad and passing them to the bombardier, Sgt. Ben H. Shaffer of Sacramento, Cal., who read them to me over the interphone."

Notes Tell Dramatic Story.

The feverish notes tell a dramatic story—not only of the damaged bomber's homeward progress after two of her engines had been shot out by anti-aircraft fire but of the navigator's ordeal as well.

The first, scribbled immediately after he had been hit in the face by a shell fragment, merely said:

"Turn left 10 degrees."

These then followed:

"Turn left and follow the planes. Stay away from town." [He was setting a course between two anti-aircraft gun belts.]

"Watch for air fields and towns. Don't go over any. Better turn six degrees right."

[The next two were almost illegible—scrawled in big, uneven letters.]

"See that other crippled Fortress? Go ahead and follow him. See if he gets shot at."

[The next note was to Sgt. Shaffer.]

"Now over coast."

"Tell radio be sure if on."

"See land."

"How about gasoline?"

[Then the big letters again.]

"Never mind—England."

[Then, for the first time, he took stock of his own condition.]

"Jaw must be pretty well smashed."

"Please tell doctor to give me hypo immediately. Pain terrible. Blood running down throat."

By then the crippled bomber was over her home base, but was forced to circle while other planes were landing. That was when he scribbled his last message pleading for a quick landing.

The control tower cleared the field for an emergency landing and an ambulance was waiting at the runway to speed the wounded navigator to a hospital.

CHICAGO TENOR AMONG WINNERS IN AIR AUDITION

Angelo Raffaelli, 31, Chicago tenor, was one of five singers awarded first honors yesterday in the ninth annual Metropolitan Opera company auditions of the air. Raffaelli, a clerk in the Chicago board of education offices, was awarded a $500 scholarship, with the Metropolitan taking first option on his services.

Raffaelli is married and lives at 857 Belden av. He has two children, Angela, 4, and Dennis, 2. He is a member of the W-G-N Chicago Theater of the Air chorus and a pupil of Giacomo Rimini, local voice teacher. As a youth of 18, Raffaelli was given an audition here by Tito Schipa, opera singer, who predicted a promising future. Raffaelli since has sung with the Opera Theater company in "The Barber of Seville" and "The Secret Marriage."

Contracts with the Metropolitan Opera company and cash prizes of $1,000 were awarded the other four singers yesterday. They included Hugh Thompson, Tacoma, Wash.; Morton Bowe, Plainfield, N. J.; Regina Resnick, New York, and William Hargrave, Culver City, Cal.

LONDON PLANE MEET IS CALLED A POKER GAME

LONDON, April 10 [Monday]—(AP).—The American-British conferences between A. A. Berle and Lord Privy Seal Beaverbrook on post-war civil aviation were described by the Mirror's political writer today as "preliminary fencing" and "a poker game."

"Both men took up a few cards and then tried to size up the other fellow's hand before leaving the game—unfinished," the Mirror said.

"Lord Beaverbrook's announcement that he had to make concessions is not taken seriously in political cricles. It is taken as having been said with his tongue in his cheek."

It's Smart to Pay Less for a PERSONAL LOAN!

you can SAVE up to ⅔ of usual charges

	At Merchandise Bank You Pay Only	8.00
	YOU SAVE	$12.84
For a 12 mo. $200 LOAN	At Usual Small Loan Rate, You Pay	$39.52
	At Merchandise Bank You Pay Only	16.00
	YOU SAVE	$23.52

Why Pay More THAN THIS LOW COST?

*Savings shown apply to "signature only" loans repaid in 12 monthly instalments, cost to be deducted in advance. You can save even more if you borrow with one co-maker. In either case, you save at least half of usual and lawful Small Loan Charges.

IF—for borrowing $100 you've had to repay 12 payments of $10.07 each—that amounts to $120.84—which is $20.84 more than you borrowed. And $20.84, therefore, is what that loan cost you.

That same amount, $100, at Merchandise Bank would cost you only $8.00—on your signature only. It would cost you only $5.50—with one co-maker. So—here you would save at least $12.84—or as much as $15.34—depending on which plan you borrow.

Money In Your Pocket

What you save, in either case, is money in your pocket. It amounts to nearly as much as two payments on your loan. That's the difference between usual small loan charges and Merchandise Bank's extremely low rates.

If you need a loan, or want to reduce present borrowing costs, get in touch with Merchandise Bank. There's no need to take time off your job. Simply phone Whitehall 4500, or write, and everything can be quickly and confidentially arranged.

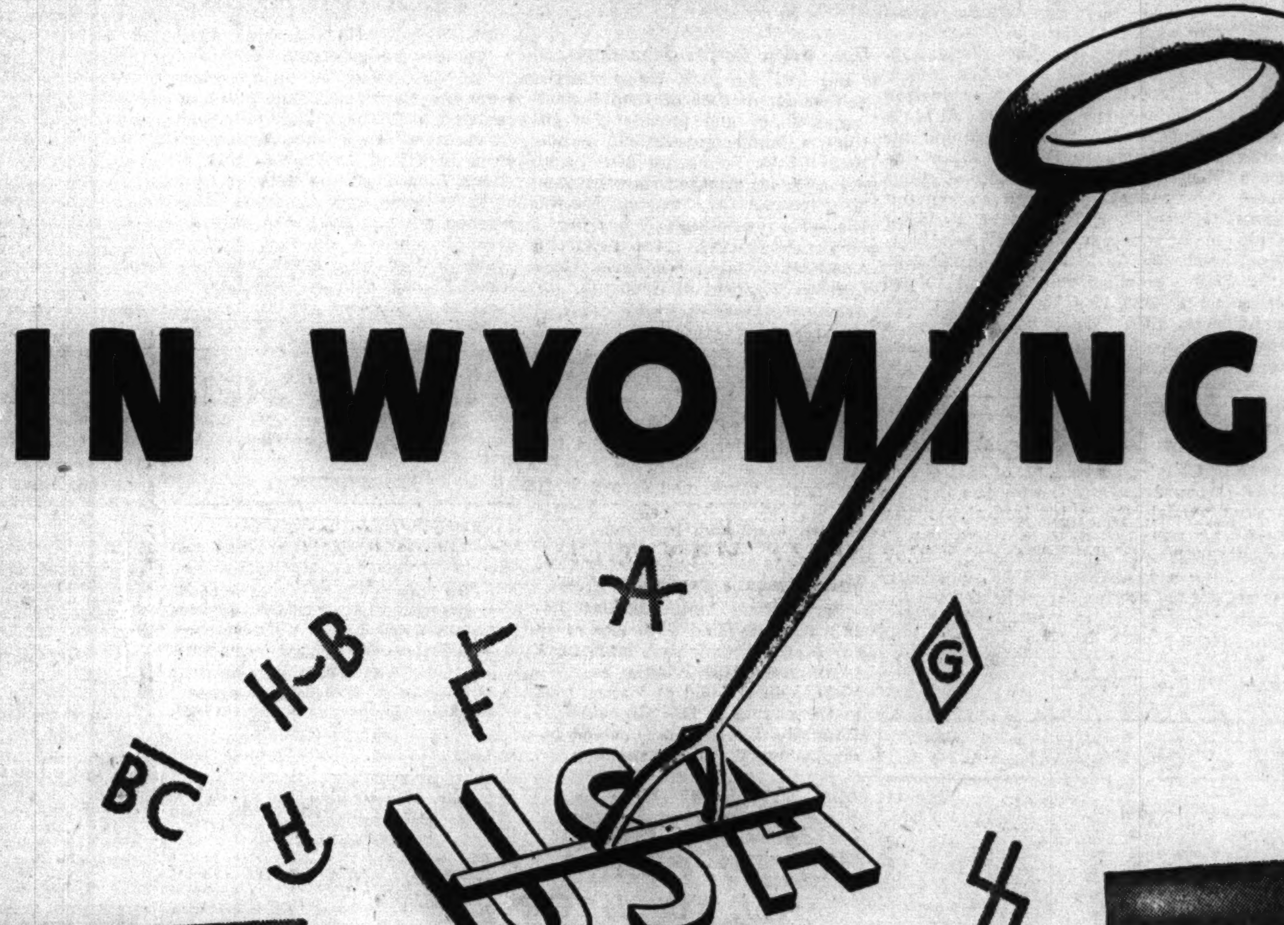
IN WYOMING



USA

There's a brand-new Brand

● Wyoming's cattle ranches supply much of the beef that Uncle Sam requires for our fighting forces. Wyoming also provides sheep, wool, grains, minerals, oil and other products necessary to the war effort.

In frontier days, Wyoming was a typical example of the vigorous, untamed West. But farsighted, courageous citizens established law and order . . . developed the territory's natural resources. Throughout those hazardous years, they clung to the belief that the straightest line to achievement is by way of hard work, individual enterprise and initiative.

In 1867, the Union Pacific rails extended westward into Wyoming; advanced development by opening the way to distant markets for products of ranch, farm and mine. Today, those products flow in a constant stream over "the strategic middle route" uniting Wyoming with the East and the Pacific Coast.

Wyoming and Union Pacific have one common objective . . . to win the war and to keep alive the American tradition of equal opportunity for all.

YANKS ABROAD JOIN IN PRAYER IN WAR SETTING

Chicagoan Tells Beauty of Palestine Rites.

LONDON, April 9 (AP).—Many thousands of uniformed Americans—some veterans of battle, others awaiting the call—commemorated Easter on foreign soil today with psalms and prayers, but missing were most of the trimmings of Easter at home such as fashion parades, egg hunts, and family gatherings.

It was an Easter of discipline, high pitched expectation and solemnity.

In London—nerve center for the western front invasion—American soldiers, sailors, and WACs attended a sunrise service in Hyde Park, and that much of the day was like part of their life in the United States. Elsewhere in the British Isles, troops gathered for early worship, or to hear sacred music at sundown.

Chutes Land Wine and Wafers.

Communion wine and wafers and prayer books were parachuted to Chindits and American air Commandos far behind enemy lines in the jungles of Burma. American soldiers in Iran observed the day with religious services consistent with their faiths. Eastward, in Palestine, where the story of the Divine victory of the resurrection was first proclaimed, Yanks walked to Golgotha and the Holy Sepulchre.

"Palestine was as beautiful and impressive as we thought it would be," Sgt. Gottleib Altergott, 3148 Clifton av., Chicago, and Pvt. John P. Rand, Lynchburg, O., were quoted as saying in dispatches from the Holy Land. "We have seen all the sacred shrines and heard the Easter bells and watched the crowds in the picturesque, narrow streets. It was unforgettable."

Bishop of London Speaks.

At Hyde Park, a rose altar draped in pale blue cloth and surmounted by a crucifix rose above the smooth green. Round about it a mixed choir of soldiers and WACs sang hymns. The outdoor congregation heard Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, bishop of London, say:

"There are two things from which we cannot escape—power and goodness. Power is generally used for bad things, as in the case of Hitler. It is deadly and dangerous, whereas goodness usually is powerless.

"Every day in this war men are sacrificing themselves to make a way thru for others to follow. Jesus sacrificed Himself to make a break-thru by which men might follow into fellowship and love of God."

London and other cities were crowded with strollers but uniforms predominated. Civilians had no fancy new clothes to wear. For the first time since the war started, the British public heeded appeals to spend the holidays at home.

Worship at Guadalcanal.

GUADALCANAL, Solomon Islands, April 9 (AP).—Hundreds of service men stood with bowed heads in Easter prayer at sunrise services today in a coconut grove cathedral near the mouth of the Tenaru river where marines first landed to begin the battle for Guadalcanal in November, 1942.

All seats were filled and many soldiers were standing as Chaplain Theodore Curtis Jr., Salt Lake City, opened the Easter worship. Some soldiers stood in mud. Natives dressed in loin cloths were scattered among them. They heard the Old Testament's prophecy read by Chaplain Zelna V. Mason, Jefferson, Mo., and the New Testament fulfillment read by Chaplain R. L. McCannon of Wilmington, Cal.

A soldier's prayer by Sgt. Dick Beeks of El Monte, Cal., was followed by singing by the congregation. A choir of soldiers and nurses concluded with the Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's "Messiah."

ROBS 3 IN CAR; FATALLY SHOT IN SECOND HOLDUP

A short time after he had threatened to shoot three persons whom he robbed in their automobile, David Jefferson, 30, Negro, 4907 Wabash av., was shot and fatally wounded in a second robbery attempt yesterday. He died in the Bridewell hospital after he was wounded by Verg Husband, Negro, in the latter's restaurant at 3949 Indiana av.

Earlier he had forced his way into the automobile of Patrick J. Gannon, 5650 S. Laflin st., a production superintendent, at 47th st. and Michigan av. He robbed Gannon, his wife, Anna, and Miss Katherine Hagen, 17, of 5656 S. Laflin st., their son's fiancee, of $15 and let them out at 39th st. and Michigan av. after making threats to kill them.

He fled on foot when he had difficulty starting the car and turned up a short time later in Husband's restaurant. Police said Jefferson, a war plant employe, had a long police record.

Printer Killed by Trolley in South Side Accident

Charles Embick, 61, of 6451 Greenwood av., a printer for the Drovers Journal, was killed last night when he was struck by a street car at 100th st. and Cottage Grove av. Parties Are Planned Around Visit of Metropolitan Opera

BY JUDITH CASS.

WITH the Easter parade a thing of the past for another year, Chicagoans are turning their attention to a number of post-Easter events, among them the coming of the New York Metropolitan Opera company, which will open a short engagement at the Civic Opera house next Monday night. Already dozens of parties are in the making preceding the opening night and other performances.

Mrs. Richard T. Crane Jr., is planning an opening night party, and so are the junior George Channers, whose special guest will be the tenor, Armand Tokatyan, who sings the following night in "La Traviata" and again on the closing night in "Rigoletto." Mrs. Frederick Pabst, who never fails to bring a group down from Oconomowoc, Wis., for opening night, will be present again on that occasion and for several other performances. The Charles Wrigleys are planning a party for "Parsifal," to be given April 20.

Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed, who has just returned from California, obtained tickets for all performances before she left town. Mrs. Henry Bartholomay, Mrs. Freeman Hinckley, Mrs. Chester MacChesney, the James C. Shakmans, Mrs. Eugene Howard, Mrs. Charles H. Swift, and Mrs. Royden J. Keith are others with reservations for next Monday night. Many of the above will be going to a concert for the benefit of the Chicago Opera company Sunday afternoon, April 23, in the Civic Opera house, with stars of the Metropolitan donating their services.

Today's Events.

The woman's auxiliary of the Evanston hospital is expecting a large crowd for its benefit fashion show and bridge party at 2 p. m. today in the hospital's Patten Memorial hall. Among the young women who will model are Mrs. Walter Cherry Jr., Miss Natalie DeClerque, Mrs. Edward Hall Taylor, Mrs. Wallace D. Mackenzie, Mrs. Joseph W. Hibben, Mrs. James E. Day, Miss Dorothy Farrington, and Miss Alice Warner.

The North Shore auxiliary of the Chicago Maternity center is giving a benefit dinner followed by a performance of the puppet opera, "La Boheme," tonight at the Kungsholm restaurant. Mrs. Palmer Jones is retiring president of the auxiliary.

Between 5 and 7 p. m. today Dr. and Mrs. Bronislaus John Mix and their daughters, Mary Bernice and Elizabeth Ann, will receive in their Lake Shore dr. apartment at a tea for the two young women. Miss Mary Bernice, who attends Northwestern university, will be assisted by Miss Marie Sferra of Chicago, Miss Marlyn Fortella of Riverside, and Miss Mary Edith Hosmer of Washington, D. C. Her sister, a student at St. Mary's at Notre Dame, will have as her aids Miss Joan Nyikos and Miss JoAnn Stephenson of South Bend, Ind., and Miss Patricia Burke of Chicago.

Retiring officers of the Junior League of Evanston will turn over their books to the new board at a spring luncheon meeting at 12:30 p. m. today in the Orrington hotel in Evanston.

The Junior League of Chicago will elect new officers and members of the board of managers at its annual meeting at 12:30 p. m. today in the Silver room of the Woman's Athletic club.

Wedding Ceremonies.

Simultaneously with the announcement that Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kopper of Winnetka are making today of the engagement of their daughter, Marianna, to Lt. [j. g.] John W. Rankin, of the naval air corps, comes the news that Lt. Rankin and Miss Kopper are to be married tomorrow. The plans for a small family wedding in the Kopper home were completed hastily when Lt. Rankin returned from duty overseas.

Lt. Rankin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodruff J. Rankin of Charlottesville, Va., formerly of Winnetka, is a graduate of the North Shore Country Day school and attended Hamilton college. Miss Kopper is a graduate of New Trier High school and of Colby Junior college.

Announcement is made of the marriage last Saturday of Miss Barbara Eleanor Buehler, daughter of Mrs. Halquist Buehler of Wilmette and of Albert C. Buehler of Barrington, to David William Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Earl Ross of Evanston. The ceremony took place at 8:30 p. m. in the Kenilworth Union church.

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Pratt of Evanston, formerly of Minneapolis, Minn., announce the engagement of their daughter, Janet Ann, to John Vollmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Vollmer of Evanston. Miss Pratt attended the Academy of the Holy Angels in Minneapolis and the University of Minnesota. Her fiancé was graduated from Amherst college and from the Harvard school of business administration.

Nelson Eddy, as Ever, Wows His Audience

BY CLAUDIA CASSIDY.

There was something different at Nelson Eddy's Civic Opera house recital last night. The house was filled, as always, and the audience, which seemed not to have aged a collective day since Mr. Eddy's advent a decade ago, still greeted with rapture everything he sang, and sometimes succumbed to squeals of irrepressible delight. But the playbill, which always up to now has given the exact date of Mr. Eddy's annual return, this time just said that if you would leave your name and address at the boxoffice you would, eventually, be informed. When that happens, all certainty is gone, and the world is truly in chaos.

Otherwise, things were much the same as at all recitals where audiences assemble to pay homage to their handsome hero. Mr. Eddy is a kind of in-between singer, hard to classify. His baritone has a natural beauty that with sound training might have been one of the treasures of the music world. But he was catapulted into fame and he sings by instinct. Sometimes it works, and his voice pours out in beauty, and takes on the sparkle of characterization. Sometimes it doesn't work, and the forcing of line turns monotonous, and the scooped up top turns white.

Meanwhile, he has a curiosity about unusual music, and his programs are rarely dull on paper, tho he sometimes makes them dull in performance. Last night, for instance, he revived a beautiful aria from Tschaikowsky's "Eugen Onegin," Prince Gremin's song, "Love Humbles All Men." He had worked on it and knew what he wanted to say, but his lack of technical skill sometimes defeated his purpose. The French group had better vocal luck, particularly Paladilhe's somber aria, "Pauvre martyr obscur," while the line of Fauré's "Clair de Lune" was focused, and the characterization of Fourdrain's little story, "Aux portes de Seville," was deft, but reassuringly reticent. Mr. Eddy has a tendency to go wild with dialog, and what he did to Brahms in a free translation called "The Disappointed Serenader" was so flirtatious it evoked an operatic vision that struck terror to my soul. As plain as Mr. Eddy's coyness, I saw Frankie Sinatra singing "Lohengrin."

Mr. Paxson was the expert accompanist, as usual, filling in with a group of piano solos.

Fashion Parade Dampened by a Misty Easter

BY ELEANOR PAGE.

The misty morning that greeted Chicagoans yesterday cast a damper on the traditional Easter parade. Worshippers were out in full force, for church attendance did not suffer from the weather. But the bright colors, the gay trappings, the light clothes that could be coaxed out only by sunshine, gave way once again to umbrellas, raincoats, and fur coats.

Even tho it did not rain hard, feminine churchgoers tempered their urge to blossom forth like spring flowers with a sensible 1944 practicality in dress. Comfort first, appeared to be the order of the day, and the principal means of differentiating between Easter Sunday and any other spring Sunday—apart from the size of the congregations—was in the flowers that were pinned to nearly every feminine costume.

The silhouette was frozen along with wages, rents, prices, and many other goods and services affected by the war, but even tho the suits and coats worn by feminine paraders were cut on essentially the same lines as last year and the year before, women managed to look different by the addition of the beguiling new accessories that designers have gone all out for these last few months.

Those few who threw all thought of raindrops to the winds to emerge in their newest Easter ensembles provided the few highlights, sartorially speaking, of the Easter parade, which was about as gloomy this year as the gloomy Easter morning.

When the doors of the Fourth Presbyterian church, Delaware pl. and Michigan av., hub of the Easter parade activity, opened at 10:30, the lines of worshippers extended along the avenue to Chestnut st., and from the church doors to the Delaware pl. corner, and other hundreds were waiting to enter the side doors on Delaware pl. With its huge capacity of 2,400, the church finally swallowed them all, later disgorging them around noon. Spectators, parked in cars along the avenue or standing at the four corners, ogled the departing congregation until time to join the crowds that thronged the hotels, restaurants and clubs for Easter breakfast.

Reminiscent of pre-war years was a trio which worshiped at St. James' Episcopal church—Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine, her grandson, Philip D. Armour Jr., and Mrs. Armour. The young woman's hat, a pair of dashing white birds nestled in a bed of white carnations, caused many "O's" and "Ahs" as she walked along. Her coat was of black

Devout Throngs Worship at City's Church Services

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

CHICAGO'S third war time Easter was marked by its devout character. The throngs were the usual ones except for the lack of attendance of younger men. Most of these, together with other year's altar boys, acolytes, and younger male choristers, are in the services.

At St. John's Episcopal church, Byron st. and Kostner av., many uniforms were seen in the three congregations of the morning. One young sailor was greeted by the rector, the Rev. F. H. O. Bowman, as he hastened into the edifice.

"It's a nice surprise for you to get back for Easter," the clergyman said.

"But won't my folks in there be surprised!" the sailor said.

Special intercessions for the 408 service men on the honor roll of the Evangelical Lutheran church of St. Luke, Belmont and Greenview avs., were held at all Easter services. Each worshiper received a copy of the roll.

Sermons stressed the central fact of the Savior's resurrection in the Christian faith, and its assurance of life beyond the grave. Thirty-five thousand persons heard Dr. Martin R. De Haan of Grand Rapids, Mich., in Soldiers' field assert that the resurrection "is the greatest event in human history." Said he:

"The coming of Christ gave to the world a new calendar by which all historical events are dated. Christ becomes the divider of all history as by His death He becomes the divider of all humanity. The resurrection of Christ is the vindication of His death; the proof of His deity, and the evidence of His truthfulness."

Salient points in other Easter sermons follow:

Dr. Ray Freeman Jenney, Bryn Mawr Community church, 7000 Jeffery av.; "Civilization is tested by its capacity for tremendous beliefs. Easter is not only a dated historical fact but a constantly recurring experience. In Easter, rightly understood, we witness the triumph of God in human life and the dawning in the unconquerable spirit of man of the belief that the purpose of God is not succumbing to the sunset powers of the universe but to the sunrise power of God."

Dr. Clinton C. Cox, Drexel Park Presbyterian church, 64th st. and Marshfield av.: "Easter symbols of the rabbit, egg, butterfly, and lily are not sacrilegious. They preach vital lessons and prove the unrealized, undeveloped possibilities of living."

The Rev. Luther A. Schuessler, Our Redeemer Lutheran church, 6430 Harvard av.: "The Christian affirms, 'I know my Redeemer lives, and I shall conquer death.' What a solacing truth! We shall see our loved ones again whether they are buried in the arid places of Africa, or beneath the white summits of the Mediterranean coast, or at the lonely retreat of Bataan."

Dr. Adolph Bohn, Edgewater Presbyterian church, Bryn Mawr and Kenmore avs.: "Not an empty tomb, but an emptied tomb is essential to life, particularly in these days when crosses—new crosses, untold in number—shall appear."

Dr. Gerhard W. Graur, St. Paul's Evangelical church, 2335 Orchard st.: "You cannot seal Jesus in a tomb. He will not stay put. He will persist. He will rise. He will continue to be contemporary."

'Lady in Dark's' Plot Keeps Its Audience There

By Mae Tinee.

Good Morning!

"Moderation"—one of the most potent words in any language—remains that which Hollywood knows or cares least about.

In the screen version of the cunningly contrived, deliciously dialogued stage play to which Gertrude Lawrence lent such sparkle, and that tang of the unexpected which is the trade mark of genius, the producers have clung to their motto—if a little is good more is better—and piled on the plush till the plot structure is all but obscured.

The heroine, you may recall, is one Liza Elliott, editor of a super-duper fashion magazine, who is in a dither over her fears, her inability to make up her mind, and her failure to remember the name of a song, snatches of which she always hums when unhappy, which is practically perpetually. . . . She consults a psychoanalyst who interprets her memories and dreams. . . .

In the straight sequences Ginger Rogers is good—and the piece is good because there's some sense to it, as any one of us will admit—but she doesn't get much chance to round out the characterization. The bosses were in too much of a heat to plunge into the dream routines where, so to speak, they roll and stretch and inhale and turn somersaults, desisting briefly, only to rush back and do the same thing over again.

Eventually, however, Liza finds that an adolescent heartbreak has accounted for all her fears, inhibitions, and uncertainties, and that, glory be, there's some green grass a-growing right in her own back yard. [I'm going to buy myself a psychoanalyst who's all-my-own!]

Three men provide romantic complications, i. e.: Liza's advertising manager [Ray Milland]; her publisher, married, whose wife refuses him a divorce [Warner Baxter]; and a hunk of virility from the movies [Jon Hall]. Mischa Auer, who can be so funny, is a deadly bore as the magazine's temperamental photographer. Warner Baxter and Ray Milland lend a sane, competent touch for which you're grateful. . . . Pleasing bits are contributed by various other cast members.

The picture is in technicolor. The costumes are the last word in something or other—can you fancy yourself in your right mind nightclubbing in a mink dress?—and, apparently, the producers spared not the spondulix.

But for a' that and a' that, darlings, you can have "Lady in the Dark." It made me tired.

See you tomorrow.

An election of officers will highlight the first meeting of the newly organized Kala-Ruth Service club of Rest Haven, to be held at 1:30 p. m. today at the Hamilton club.

Thru the Looking Glass

The basis of bright, sparking eyes lies in good health. When the orbs are dark circled or yellowed looking day in and day out, it is time to consult a physician who will determine the cause and make the recommendation to effect a cure. However, many persons in sound health have eyes that are naturally rather dim and lusterless—they've just not been blessed with the kind that are attention-getters. They may be perfectly clear and unclouded but they lack the vividness that gives them emphasis.

In such instances it's common sense to resort to a little deft touching up with cosmetics to improve on nature. Mascara is a good standby to darken the lashes so that they make a pretty frame for the eyes and give them needed depth.

For best results, mascara should be applied with a brush that is only slightly moistened. Brush it on in upward and outward strokes, starting at the base of the lashes and carrying the color out to their very tips. Before the cosmetic has a chance to set, use a clean, dry brush and go over the tiny hairs once more to separate them and remove any excess mascara. With this final operation the lashes may be curled a bit by holding them up for a few seconds with the brush gently pressing against the tips until they're dry.

A touch of eye shadow on the lids to bring out natural coloring and a little darkening with a colored pencil of brows that are well groomed will help further to enhance eyes that are naturally not too interesting looking.

Kreml SHAMPOO FOR SILKEN-SHEEN HAIR EASIER TO ARRANGE

Looking at Hollywood

—By Hedda Hopper—

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., April 9.—George Murphy, Pat O'Brien and Carole Landis will do "Having Wonderful Crime," at RKO with Eddie Sutherland. Yes, they'll have a wonderful time, too. Eddie's that kind of a director. This is the third straight picture Murphy's done at RKO. No wonder they're trying to buy his Metro contract. . . . If all goes well, Lucille Ball will play opposite Walter Pidgeon in "Seattle." . . . The word for Merle Oberon and Cornel Wilde's love scenes in "Chopin" is "sexy."

On His Way to Fame.

Bill Marshall was out of the army two weeks when he got the best part ever handed him, in "Belle of the Yukon" opposite Dinah Shore. . . . Bob Hope, back from Palm Springs, called Sam Goldwyn and said: "When do we begin 'Sylvester the Great'? I'm rarin' to go!" "Well, you know this is in color, so you'll just have to un-tan," said Goldwyn. "In that case," quipped Hope, "I should have played golf backwards, away from the sun." . . . Damon Runyon may not be back for some time. He's at Memorial hospital, New York. Gosh, what a swell guy! Besides saying a prayer for safety of my family, I add one for Maj. Jimmy Stewart.

Miss Debutante's Career.

Shirley Temple has had more offers since "Since You Went Away," but she's being kept right on her own home lot and will co-star with Ginger Rogers and Joe Cotten in "Double Furlough," in which she'll have her first love scenes. At least on the screen. . . . Claudette Colbert has finished her job at Paramount and moves to Oregon to be a navy wife. . . . Walter Reisch, who, with Michael Arlen, wrote "Heavenly Body," leaves to join Alexander Korda in London. . . . Lillian Gish has bought a home here. She hopes her mother and Dorothy, who both like New York, will be willing to live out here with her. . . . Dick Haymes got himself a new contract at 20th with more pay. He has just made a test for "Johnny" in a "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn."

Between Devil and Deep Blue Sea.

Here's a situation which has the insiders a-giggling. It concerns Leo McCarey and Howard Hughes. Leo signed to make pictures for Howard, but couldn't pin him down long enough to discuss them. Finally a settlement was made. Part of that settlement was for Leo to deliver one picture to Hughes. Of course, he could make it the most expensive picture ever put on the screen, but that would delight Hughes. On the other hand Leo can't turn out a bad one. After "Going My Way" that would be a reflection on his ability. So what to do except stand and deliver, and nothing could irk him more.

Was He Pushed This Time?

Charlie Chaplin did a complete about face to members of the press during his trial. He's always been the least coöperative star. At the big opening of his "City Lights," he sat leading critics in back row of the balcony, except those who howled and wouldn't stay there. At night clubs he tells snapshot boys when to shoot and how often, but at the trial he and Jerry Giesler hired a press agent. Charlie was ready, willing and posed for everything.

Shorts, Shorts and Shorts.

David Bruce plants his acre-and-a-half victory garden at Claremont while growing a beard for Deanna Durbin. . . . Maj. Ken Trout, from Florida, spent the week-end here with Ella Rains. Sure, they're married. . . . To a wild rumor that Sol Wurtzel, who finished 30 years as "keeper of the Bs" at 20th, was moving to Republic, top man, Herbert Yates, says, "Tain't true." And he's a man I believe. . . . Bunny Webb has been Judy Garland's stand-in for a long time. Her husband's been in Greenland two years. He was watching "Air Raid Wardens" on the screen, and screamed, "Hey! Fellows, that's my wife!" Sure enough, Bunny had a bit and closeup in it. . . . Louise Fazenda, off the screen, keeps up with her fans. Elizabeth Kletck writes she had a wonderful spice cake from Louise. She never misses an Edward E. Horton picture, and wants to know what's become of Colleen Moore. Colleen's happily married and lives in Chicago. We miss her, too.

Penalty doubles, as every one knows, are usually based to a large degree on strength or length in the opponents' trump suit, but this is by no means an absolute "must." Consider this typical case.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	Pass	2 hearts
3 diamonds	3 hearts	Double	[final bid]

It will be observed that North, with only one queen, summoned the courage to double three hearts, whereas West, with an excellent hand and even after a bid from partner, did not dare double three diamonds. The reason for this conservatism, of course, was West's lack of any strength in the diamond suit itself and his probable fear that declarer would find several diamonds in dummy with which to ruff his losing spades. As for the raise of hearts on a doubleton—well, West justified that action by arguing that since East couldn't have much on the side, he ought to have a pretty solid heart suit.

All this was not very expert reasoning on West's part. The fact was that North had announced dire weakness by passing out a one-bid, and that East had announced some strength by reopening the bidding. True, North was probably short in spades, but so was East, and there was every chance, from West's point of view, that East would be able to over-ruff dummy. Thus, everything considered, West certainly should have doubled three diamonds, and if he had, East-West would have collected a sizable penalty, and an excellent match-point score on the board.

Patients' Pleas for Radios Still Exceed Supply

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Thru the generosity of our readers, there have been few items which could not be obtained for sufficiently urgent cases. However, at the present time we have a large number of appeals for radios which we have been unable to fill. The majority of them come from invalids of various sorts, and we hope that the following excerpts from several pleas will interest readers who can and will give radios.

Mr. H. writes: "Do you suppose that one of your readers has a small radio with earphones which could be loaned or donated to me? I am a bed patient in a sanitarium, and I can't tell you how much a radio would mean to me."

From an army hospital in the south: "We are a group of patients in a ward in this large army hospital. Most of us are confined to bed, and newspapers are our only contact with the outside world. My, what a radio would do here! We all enjoy news broadcasts, and particularly music of all kinds, and nothing could be more appreciated by all of us than a radio."

A. M. writes: "As a last resort I am appealing to you to try to locate a radio for a friend of mine who is a patient in a naval hospital. He is no hero, having been in the service less than a year, but he contracted rheumatic fever thru no fault of his own. He will be confined to bed for some time, and he is most anxious to have a radio. Anything you can do to help him will be greatly appreciated."

I find a can of powdered whole milk and a jar of powdered whole eggs on my pantry shelf are great cookery conveniences. Neither product is available in any great quantity for civilian use, right now, for both have big overseas jobs to perform. But after the war many a cook is going to find them right handy.

You can do a pretty good job of re-creating "fresh" milk for drinking by adding water to the powdered whole milk, but you can't make a fresh egg out of egg powder. The important uses of both products, it seems to me, are for cooking. Both will relieve refrigerator crowding, for they'll keep almost indefinitely on the pantry shelf. Both can be used to add food value to cooked dishes.

Powdered whole milk can replace fresh bottled milk in any recipe if you add one cup water to four tablespoons of it. The milk solids alone can be used to make a cooked dish exceptionally rich in minerals and vitamins for a person who objects to drinking milk or is unable to drink enough to fulfill his dietary needs.

The egg powder may be used in custards, cakes, pies, puddings. Two tablespoons mixed with two tablespoons of water are the equivalent of one egg. Powdered eggs often are scrambled for the boys overseas who can't get fresh eggs, but from many reports they aren't too popular. They don't have the same consistency nor quite the flavor of fresh eggs when prepared in this way, but they do have the food value and they're certainly a great convenience in other kinds of egg cookery. One advantage is that any amount may be used. You can approximate one-half egg, if necessary, in a recipe for one or two persons. Most cooks hate to divide a fresh egg for small quantity cooking.

Powdered egg and powdered milk both may be sifted with dry ingredients for muffins and other breads. Then water may be used as the liquid ingredient for mixing.

One of my favorite ways for using powdered milk is for cream soups. To make a cream soup under ordinary circumstances depletes one's supply of fresh milk for drinking. Use of the powdered milk gives the same delicate flavor, the same nutrition, and leaves the bottled milk still in the refrigerator.

dull satin, snug and trimly tailored, and white carnations blossomed on one shoulder. Mrs. Valentine, one of the city's most distinguished women, was in a tailored navy blue coat, and wore a tiny hat of fuchsia and navy blue feathers, and a corsage of small yellow butterfly orchids. Her grandson was wearing the striped trousers and morning coat required of his duties as usher in the church. Last year he was in army khaki.

Mrs. Dwight H. Green, attending St. James' Episcopal church with the governor and their two daughters, Nancy and Gloria, chose as her Easter costume a greige, tailored suit with hat to match. She wore no topcoat, choosing instead sables across her shoulders.

Among the uniforms in the congregation was that of Capt. Benyuard B. Wygant, commander of the naval reserve midshipmen's school at Northwestern university [Abbott hall]. Mrs. Wygant and Miss Barbara Wygant, wearing a burnt orange frock with sables, accompanied the captain to church.

One of the most attractive costumes was that of Mrs. Henry Hooper, who matched a feathered hat and a corsage of her fuchsia dress. Her daughter, Miss Alice Hooper, attended the service in a gray suit, over the shoulders of which she tossed a sable scarf. Her hat was a forward-tilted one with brown and gray spike feathers.

Mayor and Mrs. Kelly were among the worshippers at midmorning mass at Holy Name cathedral in N. State st. Uniforms of all types were much in evidence there at all services.

Vestrymen and ushers at St. Chrysostom's church temporarily abandoned their posts shortly after the 11 a. m. service began, when the walls of sirens from fire engines tearing down Dearborn parkway punctuated the choir's "Hallelujahs." But as soon as they had determined the cause of the disturbance—a fire in a building at the corner of Dearborn and Division st., which drew every passerby within blocks who was not bound for church—they returned to their stations.

Mrs. Warren M. Salisbury, Mrs. Thornhill Broome, Mrs. James C. Sharp, Miss Eleanor Harlow, Miss Caroline Martin, and Mrs. D. Mark Cummings alighted from the same limousine, all with spring-like corsages pinned to their handsome, dark fur coats. Miss Mary and Miss Rosalind Stark, whose father, the Rev. Dudley Stark, is rector of the church, were dressed in identical fur coats, twin gardenia corsages, and similar flower hats, one in rose, and the other in almond green.

Every branch of the service was represented at St. Chrysostom's—the navy by Lt. and Mrs. Henry Kramer; the army by Capt. Raymond Dame, whose companion, Miss Frances Latimer, wore one of the prettiest corsages of the day, a cluster of yellow roses and white sweet peas; and the coast guard and marines by Yeoman 3d Class Barbara Swenson and Pvt. James Peirce.

Eye-catching bonnets included Mrs. William F. Borland's open-crowned black straw with an off-the-face brim edged in white carnations, and Mrs. Jacob Baur's black straw cartwheel with six red patent leather elephants marching across the crown.

Easter breakfast catering is definitely big business, and gets bigger every year. On a bad day, it is not until time to relax and feast after church that those who go out to see and to be seen feel that they can do their costumes justice.

Mrs. Charles D. Peacock III., chosen as best dressed at the Camellia House breakfast.

The cunning little half-crown of lacy saffron straw with bunches of glazed cherries at each side, which the judges at the Camellia House awarded to Mrs. Charles D. Peacock III. for being the most suitably dressed woman at breakfast there, was as becoming to her as the hat which won her the prize. She wore a double brimmed white straw sailor; a navy suit with a little stand-up collar of white pique and a large white pique leaf at each corner of the low square neckline; a silver fox jacket and white gloves.

Breakfast guests at the Casino, where decorations were limited to small bowls of unpretentious daisies on each table, included a group of midshipmen, whose partners were daughters of members, among them Miss Nancy Cochran, Miss Cochran's mother, Mrs. Edward A. Cudahy, president of the smart little club, wore with her beige tailored frock a corsage of deep red carnations and small yellow orchids which had been sent to Miss Cochran, as Mrs. Cudahy's own gift of flowers from her husband did not arrive. Greeting old friends on every side were Capt. and Mrs. John Murphy, here from his southern army post, who arrived at the Casino with Mrs. Wentworth Field and Mrs. F. Stanley Rickcords, Mrs. Murphy's sister.

Approximately 2,000 worshipers crowded the sanctuary and overflowed into the meeting rooms of First Presbyterian church in Oak Park, for the late morning service, and nearly as many were present for the earlier service. Among the regular congregation who attend church every Sunday and whose sons' names are listed on the First Presbyterian service honor roll, there were present yesterday morning Mr. and Mrs. Dan O'Grady, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Behrle, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Helmer, all of Oak Park; and Mr. and Mrs. William Carson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Bresher, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert De Herder, all of River Forest.

Mrs. Jere Patterson admires Easter hat she won as best dressed at the Mayfair room.

At St. John's Lutheran church in Forest Park Mrs. Charles Eck wore a short fur jacket over her spring suit. She was accompanied by her young son, Dick, and daughter, Shirley, of the WAVES. Other parishioners who attended the late Easter morning service included Pvt. Robert A. Bockelman, a marine who recently returned from the Pacific, and his fiancé, Miss Audrey Schroeder; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Churches, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dreschler, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Schriener, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Grottke, and Emil Roehlke.

One of the many eye-catching corsages was worn by the youthful Mrs. Herman F. Birlauf of Wilmette, who came with her bronzed young husband, Lt. Birlauf.

Among the regular worshipers able to find seats in the church auditorium were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Spurgeon, Mr. and Mrs. George Tomlinson, Jervis Shedd, and Bishop Edwin F. Lee, head of the Methodist church in the Malay states and the Philippines, who returned to Evanston last April after Singapore was lost to the Japanese. Mrs. Lee accompanied him.

To care for the hundreds who came to worship at the Buena Memorial Presbyterian church at Broadway and Sheridan rd., two services were conducted simultaneously—in the church sanctuary and in the Bible school auditorium. Air Cadet John H. Platt Jr., who is expecting to receive his commission at Chanute field next June, and who is home for the Easter holidays, worshiped there with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Platt of Winnetka, and his grandfather, William H. Platt of Wilmette. Others attending the services included Ald. and Mrs. Theron W. Merryman, [45th], Mr. and Mrs. Milton A. Myers, Dr. and Mrs. Gerritt Cotts, Mr. and Mrs. Chester F. Bloden, Mr. and Mrs. Manas M. Torcom, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Albers, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Hagner.

Bright hued feminine headgear made an effective contrast to the gray stone interior of Rockefeller Memorial chapel on the University of Chicago's campus, where Dean Charles W. Gilkey preached his Easter sermon before a congregation of 2,200.

Participating in the services were many army and navy trainees quartered on the Midway campus. Among the worshipers were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lichtenstein, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lillie, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Beauchamp, Mr. and Mrs. James Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fonger with their daughter Felicity; Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Patterson Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Do Bos.

At the three morning services held at 8, 9:30, and 11 o'clock at St. Paul's Episcopal church, 4945 Dorchester av., Easter candles highlighted such new trends in fashion as the half-hat, the cloche, and the wand-slender silhouette of the latest ensembles. Mrs. Aikman Armstrong, Miss Shirley Lyddon, who attended the services with Lt. Hal P. Christie, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. MacDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Reid, and Dean and Mrs. Wilbur Katz, were among the worshipers.

At the Sunday school instructions which preceded the 10:30 services at the Metropolitan Community church [Negro], 41st st. and South Park way, members of the younger set were as smartly turned out as their elders. Betty Knnard, 5, in her pink flannel coat and straw poke bonnet, and Maurine Blair, 2, in her ensemble of navy and white were typical examples of juvenile chic.

Nearly 2,000 men filed into Ross auditorium for one of the 65 Easter services held at Great Lakes Naval Training station. Only a small number of civilians dotted the congregation, and few women braved the misty morning in Easter finery. Rear Adm. Arthur S. Carpender, commandant of the 9th naval district, arrived early for the service, accompanying Mrs. Carpender.

Mexican Fabric Fascinating for Summer Wear

BY REA SEEGER.

The big surprises of the spring showings are the dresses and play clothes made of Mexican cotton. The first bolts captured the "sew your own" crowd. Textures were exceptionally interesting, with effective hand woven patterns and lovely colors, clear and strong. The only drawback was the narrow width. Now come the clothes of this fascinating Mexican weave, dresses for the warm weather season ahead.

There are garden clothes, country clothes, and many smart street dresses for summer in town. There are plaids, small checks, and a good assortment of solid colors or, rather, shades that are the results of combining two colors of threads.

Most unusual are the dainty rosebud printed, crinkled seersucker dresses, not the coarse wrinkled stuff, but a small pebbled texture resembling the fine French plissé of before the war. Pastel colored background colors, pink, blue, and a pale yellow, make tiny rosebud and leaf pattern stand out more clearly than the white background colors.

Vividly colored belts are attached, ready to define a neat and narrow waistline; otherwise the dresses are extremely simple, with short sleeves, scooped out necklines, and slightly flared skirts.

Some of these cottons are of an air conditioned basket weave and feature strong, clear colors and big, bold checks. Others have a thick and thin weave and these, of course, make ideal summer clothes, because of the bright colors and the airy mesh of the material. Gayly embroidered belts, tied with a raffia bow or yarn, complete the peasant-like charm.

Women in War Work

By Dorothy Johnson

Enlistees in the SPARS who are eligible for officer candidacy now may enter directly into officer training at the coast guard acedemy, New London, Conn.

SPAR headquarters in Washington, D. C., has announced that the quota for officers and enlisted personnel in the women's reserve has been increased from 8,800 to 13,200. As a consequence of this, the recent order which canceled the program for accepting civilian officer candidates has been rescinded.

The constant commissioning of ships has caused a steady drain on coast guard man power. Women are needed to replace these men leaving shore jobs for duty at sea. Executive secretaries and trained office workers are eligible for higher ratings now open in the SPARS. College or business background will enable a woman between 20 and 49 to qualify for officer training.

Information on the SPARS officers' candidate school may be obtained by writing to recruiting headquarters, 53 W. Jackson blvd. The current drive for all SPARS enlistments has been extended thru April 22.

In line with anticipated expansion of summer play facilities for children of war workers, a special training course for volunteer recreation aids is being organized by the Council of Social Agencies, child care committee, OCD, and the Chicago recreation commission.

Women who enjoy participating in children's play activities are urged by Miss Dorothy Spiker, who is in charge of the training course, to enlist in this important volunteer war work. Trained aids will be asked to devote six hours a week to the project. Service may be given in one period or in two periods of three hours each.

Volunteers will be needed most during day time hours, which housewives have to devote, but there also will be an opportunity for business women, who can give evening time, to assist in the recreation of teen age children.

Trained aids will be sent to play centers in schools, social settlements, and boys' clubs thruout Chicago.

Women interested in enrolling are asked to telephone in advance for an interview. Registrations are being accepted now at the Volunteer office, OCD, 53 W. Jackson blvd., Wabash 0528 and 0529.

The Chicago office of Bundles for America is participating in the national organization's campaign to provide game kits for men on ships at sea. Mrs. George Hartford, chairman of the midwest headquarters of Bundles, 337 N. Michigan av., began the Chicago members' own campaign by sending five of the kits, each filled with approximately $5 worth of games, to an LST [landing ship tank] craft soon to be launched.

Mrs. Burnham Curtis, Mrs. Harold Manasse, Mrs. Ernest Dose, Mrs. E. C. Christensen, Mrs. S. S. Sollitt, Mrs. C. H. Wielenberg, and Miss Mabel Rarick are some of the women already at work on another set of kits, to be sent to a PCE [patrol craft escort] vessel.

Each of the kits contains bridge decks and score pads, a pencil, poker chips, gin rummy score pad, cribbage board, chessmen, numerous other games, including backgammon, and a detective story.

If you try making any articles from these bags, in which many food staples are sold, launder them first, as a guarantee against further shrinking. I also starched and dyed the collar and cuff sets, and they look and feel like linen.

Girl Who Has Two Cooing Is Nice to Know

BY MAUREEN DALY.

[Copyright: 1944: By The Chicago Tribune.]

ON THE SOLID SIDE

"I go around with a pigeon who sees another fellow also. He and I are strangers to each other because he goes to another school. Neither of us is the Gable type, just a couple of high school fellows who like fun and, in this case, the same girl! I have gone around with her since September, date her frequently and took her to all our school dances. This other fellow has taken her out frequently, too, and she told me once that we were both so swell that she just couldn't pick one.

"About a month ago, from a reliable source, I heard that he had asked her to go steady and she refused him. I thought I had a chance and immediately after our next date, I asked her the same question. She said 'yes' and now wears my ring but only when she is at school and with our crowd. Figure this out! She still dates the other chap, takes off my ring when she goes out with him, and hasn't even told him that she is supposed to be going steady!

"I have always felt that she has a good time when she is with me but it is evident that she still wants some outside talent. She is very attractive and popular with the school crowd but I have a lot of friends myself. I am due to help my country soon and would like to get the matter straight. Am I wasting my time? Should I ask for my ring back? Discontinue seeing her? I'm puzzled. . . ."

Don't discontinue seeing the girl—any honeychile who can keep two joes so attentive must be an interesting specimen! And if you liked her well enough to ask her to go steady, you must like her well enough to wait until she definitely makes up her mind. But do ask for your ring back—get your affairs straight before you're off to the army. If the girl doesn't want to make your coosome twosome arrangement permanent and official, she shouldn't mind returning the ring. Try dating a few other dolls yourself—but keep this one on your list. She reads like a bit of date bait well worth knowing!

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MAC KAY

On Monday.

The Easter parade was a wow and a pip,
A pageant and panoply rich;
So many swell outfits and hats, et cet., cet.
I couldn't quite pick out just which Should rate second and third; what first? Well, I'd say
The outfits that won all my raves
The girls in the WACs and the WAVES!

The Good Letter.

A correspondent, A. C., says that there is no one ingredient of a good letter. A good letter, he suggests, follows somewhat the formula of a good brief in a law case. It should have three component parts:

1. The statement of the situation, or background of the facts.
2. The statement of the facts.
3. The plea. In other words, the conclusion of a letter should lead the reader to the desired action and make it easy for him to say "yes" or "no," preferably "yes."

And there you have a simple formula for a good business letter according to A. C. and to any one who can offer an improvement he's ready to listen.

Woman of the Week.

It's our cousin, Eleanor Clarage's story in her Cleveland Plain Dealer column, but perhaps, so long as it's all in the family, it can be retold here:

"The week's best example of the current wave of absent-mindedness on the part of our overworked women concerns the couple driving home in one of the recent heavy snowfalls.

On the Memo Pad.

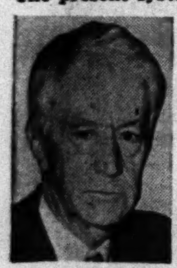
In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.

THE National Football league is contemplating several changes in the system of determining individual champions. . . . Prime cause was the furor caused last season when Sammy Baugh was declared the champion forward passer over Sid Luckman because he completed more passes and had a higher average than the Chicago Bears' star. . . . The present system does not take into consideration the average length of completed passes, the number of touchdown passes or the interceptions. . . . In each of these departments Luckman was superior to the Washington slinger. . . . Mike Jacobs has a television setup on his estate at Red Bank, N. J. . . . The disgraceful conduct of Chicago fans at Thursday night's Stanley cup hockey game at the Stadium is a reflection of the policing of the building as well as upon the lack of sportsmanship of the customers. . . . Football fans and baseball patrons on occasion have violated flagrantly the rules of decency, but only the hockey filbert seems constantly to demand such ghoulish outlets for his emotional hysteria. . . . It's an unusual contest at the Stadium when hockey fans do not shower the rink with pennies, paper, hats, fruit, and other objects that endanger the safety of the contestants. . . . It reached a new high Thursday, however, when a chair came sailing out of the balcony. . . . It narrowly missed Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis, who promptly decided there were more enjoyable ways of spending an evening than watching a hockey game. . . . Mr. Landis recalls that at the last world series the good people of St. Louis managed to preserve a becoming calm when the Yankees whipped their beloved Cardinals. . . . Tho partisanship ran high, the Yankee dugout, the American league section of the stands, and even the flag poles were allowed to stand. . . . Nobody attempted to plow up the infield. . . . In short, in most other games the customer seems amply content with the thrill that accompanies the playing of the game. . . . Only in hockey do you regularly see this curious show of rowdyism, if that is the word.



K. M. Landis.

Willie Hoppe.

Willie Hoppe is touring army bases, naval stations, and hospitals in New Orleans giving billiard exhibitions. . . . Ernie Sutter, former intercollegiate tennis champion, now on leave recovering from injuries incurred while fighting the Japs, is studying law at Tulane. . . . Alan Pick, Northwestern football substitute who kicked a field goal to defeat Texas, 3 to 0, for the Wildcats' only victory in 1942, is an ensign serving as an assistant gunnery officer on a destroyer escort in the Atlantic. . . . Rabbit Maranville, one of baseball's all-time greats, is employed in the protection department of the Ford River Rouge plant at Dearborn, Mich. . . . Babe Ruth's reaction to the Japs' new battle cry "To hell with Babe Ruth" is as follows: "Sort of thing you'd expect from the ittybittys."

To Him Who Tries.

With the grit and the pluck and zest;
He may not be able to reach his goal,
But his efforts I recognize.

I sing a song for the man who toils
On the highway, steep and rough;
I wish him well in the race he runs,
With a gleam of hope in his eyes.
And whether he fails in the fight or wins,
I sing for the man who tries.

I crave for him all that he well deserves,
I hope he will gain what we call success—
Be it money or power or fame.
But if he should lose in the grueling bout,
And another should claim the prize,
I'm proud in knowing he did his best,

—Biggar of Riverside.

And how I used to love that puzzled face
As I have never loved another girl.

You were a simple child with simple ways,
You never lost your poise and made a fuss
And I have long since learned to loathe the days
That swept between our paths, dividing us;
I wonder would you smile to hear me say,

CUB-SOX GAME OFF; PREPARE TO BREAK CAMP

Series Will Open in Chicago Thursday.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

French Lick, Ind., April 9.—The "southern" phase of the Cubs and White Sox 1944 spring training program is over. The pre-Chicago exhibition schedule terminated tonight when athletic officers at Camp Atterbury phoned to Chicago club officials here and said the camp's diamond was in such a gummy condition there would be no chance to put on the projected contest tomorrow afternoon.

The Sox are scheduled to break camp on Tuesday; the Cubs the following day. But when it became known there was a scramble among the players to get permission for earlier overland departures for Chicago, all the family men on the two squads are in quite a sweat about the housing situation and the flat hunting will become a race depending upon who has permission and facilities to get going toward the shores of Lake Michigan ahead of the time table previously settled upon.

Hope to Open Thursday.

The cancelation of exhibition games for both teams today and the calling off of the game tomorrow left the teams facing competitive idleness till Thursday afternoon. At that time the teams hope to start their five game Chicago series with a contest in Wrigley field.

What is to be done in preparation for that opener, if and when it is held, is problematical, even for those who remain here for the final departures on the Cub get-away card. It has been raining here and bridle path and horse barn calisthenics are about the main prospects. The opening of the season is just a bit too imminent to keep the lads interested in bridle paths and horse barns.

Indiana Series Tied.

The teams will return to Chicago tied in the Indiana end of their spring baseball vying. The Sox won here, 4 to 1, then took a 12 to 3 spanking at the hands of the Cubs in a dust-swept, six inning ordeal at George field, not far from Vincennes, Ind.

Each Chicago team split a two game series with the Detroit Tigers in Evansville, Ind. The Sox split a two game series with the Pittsburgh Pirates in Louisville and the Cubs were severely jolted by the Cincinnati Reds in Louisville yesterday. The Cubs-Reds game scheduled for Louisville today was called off. Thus the Cubs have played five exhibition games, of which they have lost three and the Sox have broken even in six exhibition encounters.

The sites for Chicago will alternate, starting in Wrigley field Thursday and winding up there Monday with the added bond game April 17.

BOB SHURILLA, HILLTOPPER ACE, GERMAN CAPTIVE

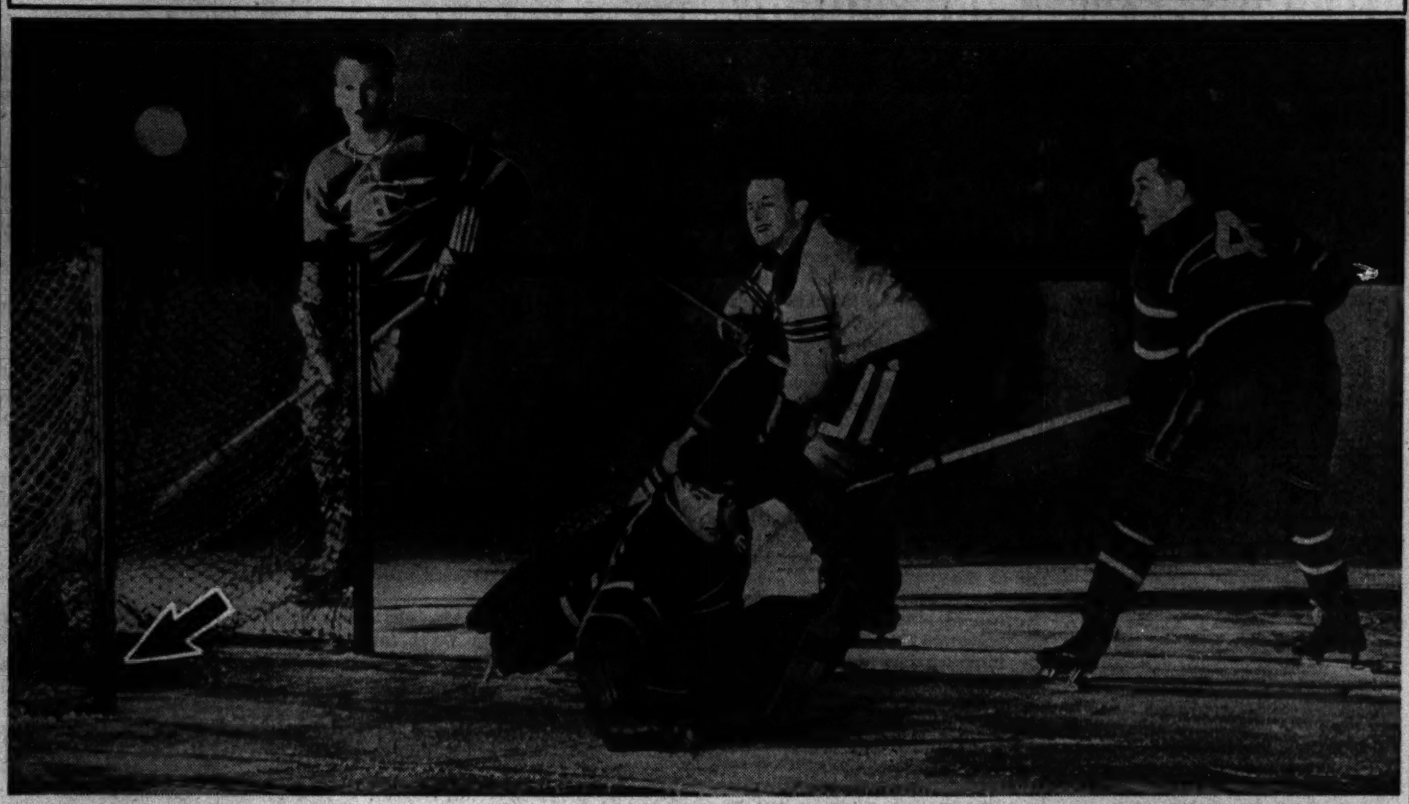
Milwaukee, Wis., April 9 [Special]. —Conrad M. Jennings, athletic director of Marquette university, learned today that Lt. Bob Shurilla, former Marquette track star who, as bombardier on a Flying Fortress, was reported missing in action over Europe Feb. 24, has been reported officially as being a prisoner of Germany.

The news was contained in a message from the war department to the youth's mother, Mrs. Mary Shurilla, Gary, Ind. Shurilla starred on the Hilltoppers' 1938-40 track teams, and holds the all-time university records in the broad jump and 220 yard low hurdles.

QUALIFYING FOR SKATE TOURNEY TO START TODAY

The Illinois State qualifying trials in the Amateur roller skating tournament will start this afternoon in the Roller bowl, 1058 W. Washington blvd., with the speed racing for midgets, juveniles and junior boys and girls. This evening at 11 p. m., the intermediate boys and girls and senior men and women will compete in their first events to qualify for the national contests set for the bowl during the first week in May.

WHEN HAWK FANS WENT BERSERK



The puck is in the net (indicated by arrow) and 17,694 hockey fans went temporarily berserk with joy in the Stadium last night when George Allen scored on an assist by Art Wiebe for the first goal of the evening. Montreal Goalie Bill Durnan is sprawled on the ice. Maurice Richard, hero of the Canadiens' previous triumph is ruefully watching the cage, while Leo Lamoureux is just missing on an attempt to stop Allen's drive into the net. Clint Smith (No. 3), Hawk center, is standing near the Montreal nets ready to cash in on the rebound, but this time the puck stayed in.

CAMP WEATHER IRKS CUB STAFF

3 of Wilson's Pitchers on Hospital List.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

French Lick, Ind., April 9.—The Cubs expected to enjoy nine innings of competitive exercises today in the last half of their two game series with the Reds but instead were reduced to minor muscle stretching on their local training lot. It was the weatherman again, his dousing of the Louisville park being so thoro that the Cubs were notified in time to avoid a futile 100 mile journey.

It is hardly necessary to point out that the usually sunnyside up Jim Wilson is beginning to show signs of irritation. The crafty weatherman has provided only a smattering of sunshine and warmth since the war time camp was opened three weeks ago tomorrow. The young, old, fat, and thin athletes have profited physically despite the handicaps but there is still much to be done in the way of final polish. They may get it before April 18 if all the games scheduled with the Sox in Chicago are played but that is almost too much to hope for.

Pitchers Hard Hit.

Along with the distress caused by the weather, the Cubs, for the time being, are being hit in the spot that is deemed their greatest weakness. To start with, pitchers are limited in number as well as in possible skill and the weather has delayed the process of sorting the strong from the weak. On top of it, three of the members are either down or trying to get up as the result of sieges of so-called cat fever or something. Among the three is Paul Derringer and his six foot four inch length is still in a horizontal position at this writing.

Bill Fleming, another one of those who will have to be a regular mound performer this summer, gave the virus a battle and is back on his feet but at the cost of four days of exercising. Johnny Miklos, the pitching cop, has his own little war with the bugs but is doing nicely. So is Catcher Bill Holm who came down suddenly last Friday. If both Fleming and Derringer fail to swing into stride by the time the season opens the Cubs will be in for some tough sledding. It also means additional difficulties in their pre-season exhibitions with the White Sox.

Agreement by Phone.

Vice President James Gallagher hustled away to Chicago this morning and forgot to issue a bulletin on the Bill Nicholson case which should be entitled: "Has he signed and if so when?" Gallagher insists, of course, that there is no mystery because Nick has agreed to terms. Wilson says the same. He is supposed to have obtained an agreement from Nick via long distance phone,

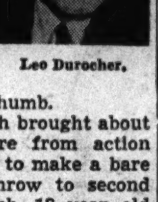
Two of Andy Frain's ushers, Joe Karwoski (left) and Bill Murphy, are viewing a portion of the take at the Stadium last night. The take consisted of articles frisked from the gallery customers who had equipped themselves with ammunition to be tossed from the upper reaches of the Stadium in the event their displeasure was aroused by the officials or Canadien players. The frisking was authorized to prevent a repetition of last Thursday's spectacle when the game was halted for 17 minutes to clear debris from the ice.

Dodgers Beat Red Sox, 3-2; Durocher's Thumb Fractured

Brooklyn, N. Y., April 9 (AP).—The question as to whether Manager Leo Durocher of the Dodgers would open the season at second base was definitely settled in the negative today when, in the third inning of the 12 inning exhibition contest against the Red Sox, he suffered a double fracture of his right thumb.



Leo Durocher.

The accident which brought about Durocher's departure from action came when he tried to make a bare hand catch of a throw to second base by Gene Mauch, 18 year old rookie shortstop. The peg was intended to head off Skeeter Newsome running to the bag on Tony Lupien's grounder.

The Dodgers won the game in the 12th, 3 to 2, when, with two out and Clancy Smyers on second base as a result of a base on balls and infield out, Outfielder Luis Olmo singled to left, scoring Smyers. Score:

Brooklyn [N.L.]....100 000 100 001—3

GIANTS, 8; YANKEES, 3.

Atlantic City, N. J., April 9 (AP).—Led by First Baseman Phil Weintraub, who clouted a single, double, and triple—driving in one run and scoring three times himself—the New York Giants defeated the New York Yankees, 8 to 3, before an Easter Sunday crowd of 2,502.

Bill Voiselle and Lefty Ewald Pyle limited the world champions to three hits, while the National leaguers collected 15 off Rookies Frank Hiller and Karl Drews. Voiselle, especially, looked good, yielding one hit in five innings.

It was the Giants' fourth victory in five exhibition starts, while the Yankee record now stands at four won and three lost. Score:

New York [A.L.]..001 001 100—3 3 3

ORIOLES, 4; ATHLETICS, 3.

Baltimore, Md., April 9 (AP).—The Philadelphia Athletics lost their third straight game today, this one, 4 to 3, to the Baltimore Orioles of the International league before a crowd of 4,000.

Sam Lowry, a pitcher who couldn't stick with the A's last year, had too much for them today. Pitching the last five innings for Baltimore, he stopped his former teammates cold while his comrades made the winning run off Luke Hamlin.

George Kell, the Athletics' third baseman, whacked a double and two single in four times at bat, driving in one run and scoring another. Score:

Baltimore [I.]....100 201 000—4 8 1

CITY NINES OPEN CAMPAIGN TODAY

13 Contests Scheduled in Prep League.

The annual Chicago Public High School league baseball race will open today with 13 games in three sections.

In the north section, Percy Moore is starting his 24th season as coach at Lane Tech. In the last six years Lane has compiled a record of 98 consecutive victories in north section competition, and Moore believes his 1944 team can stretch the record beyond the 100 game mark.

Alman to Start.

Lane will act as host to Taft today in the feature north section game. There are four other games in that division.

Moore is intending to start a left hander, Bob Alman. Alman, an honor student and junior in school, weighs 195 pounds, and is 6 feet 2 inches tall.

The Techmen have won seven exhibition games, and Alman was on the mound in three of these contests, with a strikeout average of 10 men per game.

Lorenz Is Ready.

If Alman should fail to prove effective then Moore will call into action Captain Jack Lorenz, also a southpaw hurler. Lorenz will start in center field.

Four games are scheduled for the opening of the west section race, with the battle for top honors being wide open. The same number of games are booked in the south section. The schedule:

NORTH SECTION.
Waller vs. Roosevelt in California park.
Taft vs. Lane in Lane field.
Amundsen vs. Schurz in Kilbourne park.
Senn vs. Sullivan in Winnemac park.
WEST SECTION.
Austin vs. Kelvyn Park in Hanson park.
Steinmetz vs. Crane in Altgeld park.
Washburne vs. Wells in Smith field.
Tuley vs. Foreman in Portage park.
SOUTH SECTION.
Chicago Vocational vs. Calumet in Foster park.
Harper vs. Hirsch in Grand Crossing park.
Parker vs. Bowen in Bessemer park.

FROSTBITE CUP EVENT IS WON BY VAN MELLS

Herman Van Mell won the Sam Clarke trophy for D class Frostbite dinghies of the Chicago Yacht club flotilla yesterday, with his wife, Audrey, as crew. The Van Mells won two of the four races and placed second in the remaining events for 17 points.

A. D. Dowrie Jr. and his crew, Bernie Stott, were a close second with 16 points. They won the other two races, but had two thirds. Warren Hedden and his wife, Connie, were third with 12 points.

Bisons Beat Barons, 6-4; Capture Hockey Crown

Buffalo, N. Y., April 9 (AP).—The Buffalo Bisons scored five straight goals in the third period tonight to defeat the Cleveland Barons, 6 to 4, and win their second successive American Hockey league title. Victorious over Indianapolis in four of five games in a semi-finals series, the Bisons wound up the Calder Cup final with a sweep of four contests.

Gay Dalton Wins Morelos Handicap in Mexico City

BY EDWARD PRELL.

The Stanley cup is all but back in old Montreal, one of the cradles of hockey. Last night in the Stadium the Canadiens from the Dominion's metropolis, struck twice in 55 seconds to dash the rapidly growing hopes of the Blackhawks and 17,694 clients that the Stanley cup finals at last were going to take a new turn. Instead of a 2 to 1 Chicago victory which seemed in the making, those two third period scores gave the Canadien marksmen a 3 to 2 triumph.

Now all that's left for the Hawks is a long, long train ride to Montreal and it's little more than a death march. The Canadiens will try to make it four straight in their own Forum Thursday night and win the cup for the first time since 1931 when their victims also were the Blackhawks.

Hawks Lead Twice.

Small consolation it was to the Hawks that they were twice ahead. They led, 1 to 0, at the end of the first period on a line drive from 30 feet out by George Allen, a shot which proved that the machinelike Bill Durnan, Canadien goalie, couldn't keep turning back shots forever.

The Canadiens quickly tied it up in the second period and the score was 1 to 1 when the teams came out for the final 20 minutes. The Hawks had withstood the Canadiens' power drives while Joe Cooper was serving a 2 minute term for holding. Back at full strength, they went on the offensive and the spectators came up screaming when 19 year old Johnny Harms, the Hershey rookie, smashed in on Durnan and whistled a shot into the nets.

Canadiens Tie It Again.

It was Harms who had cost Durnan a shutout in the last second of play on Thursday night. But this shot had a more important tag. If the Hawks could hold that lead, the black haired chunky kid would be the Hawks' man of the hour.

Less than a minute and a half later the Canadiens had again boosted themselves into a deadlock and it was their burly Mike McMahon who scored an incredible shot. While the teams were battling for the rubber to the right of the Chicago nets, McMahon swung from a difficult angle and the puck went home.

Worst Yet to Come.

That was bad enough, but the worst was to come. Fifty-five seconds later Montreal had the winning goal, but thru no fault of Goalie Mike Karakas. Just back of the Chicago blue line, a Chicago defender, his stick almost on the puck, slipped and fell. Phil Watson pounced on the rubber and dashed in on Karakas who came out to meet him. Watson's shot dribbled slowly past Mike and into the net.

The shocking turn of events quieted a crowd which had been loud but orderly. The Hawks also were shaken up by the double thrust, but they leaped into action in the last five minutes after McMahon had been booted for holding Harms. They had three shots in less than 10 seconds, and two of them were blocked by busy Montreal defenders in front of Durnan.

Hawk Strategy Fails.

With 48 seconds to go, the Hawks took Goalie Karakas off the ice, using six men in a face-off near the Canadiens' nets. But that didn't work, either.

As in the two preceding games, the Hawks gave everything they had. Their improvement last night was helped along by Billy Mosienko, whose play had been hampered by a shoulder injury. In a first period, perhaps the most terrific 20 seconds of the entire series, Mosienko had Durnan beaten on a shot, but the rubber hit the pipe at the top of the nets and bounced dead at the goalie's feet.

It was an orderly crowd, except in the final minutes when Doug

TRAUBENIK AND PLUNGE LEAD IN MIDWEST MEET

Pace Doubles Division; Winsberg, Flesch 2d.

Springfield, Ill., April 9 [Special].—Chicago bowlers head for the payoff spots tonight as the midwest singles and doubles classic came to a close. As they took the runways for the final shift, Chicagoans owned eight of the first 10 places in doubles and four of the singles honors.

Adam Plunge and Joe Traubenik had the top position in doubles with 1,624 while Dick Winsberg and Bill Flesch were second with 1,613, Clare Jackson and Andy Piermatti third with 1,608, and Barney Grogan and Joe Fliger fourth with 1,602.

After two St. Louis pairs took fifth and sixth, the Windy City again took over with seventh, eighth, ninth, and 10th. Prospects were that one or two changes would be recorded in the windup since Ned Day and Rudy Pugel, national doubles champions, were on that shift.

Winsberg was second in singles with 871 and his doubles partner, Bill Flesch, fourth with 863. Paul Krumske, 832, and Traubenik, 830, also were among the first 10. Scores:

VIKINGS DEFEAT FALKS, 3-1; FACE STRASSERS NEXT

BY OFFSIDE.

The Viking soccer team scored its 23d victory without a setback yesterday as it defeated the Falks of Milwaukee, 3 to 1, in Winnemac park stadium, to gain the Western Open finals against the Morgan Strassers of Morgan, Pa.

The game, a playoff of the tie contest of two weeks ago, marked the first loss for the Falks in 20 contests.

McDermott Opens Scoring.

The Vikings, losing the choice of ends, started against the wind, but only the alertness of Falk Goalie Bill Reega prevented a goal in the first minute when he stopped a hard drive by Al O'Hare close to the post.

After several tries, the Vikings scored when they forced a corner, well taken by Hans Jensen, to allow Jimmy McDermott to reach the ball with his head and place it out of Reega's reach.

The Falks tied the score 6 minutes later when John Stier got his boot to the ball after it rebounded from the crossbar to drive hard past Goalie Horace James from 10 yards out.

Hritz Gets Clincher.

The Vikings went ahead to stay after 30 minutes of the first period when John Potti was brought down and Andy Hritz, taking the penalty kick, booted past Reega.

After 38 minutes of the second period the Vikings got the goal that assured the contest. McDermott got away and sent to Hritz who cleverly maneuvered across the field and scored with an angular shot from 25 yards out.

STRASSERS WIN, 6-1

Bridgeville, Pa., April 9 [Special].—The Morgan Strasser soccer team, which will meet the Chicago Vikings in the Western Open finals, today defeated the Cleveland Americans, 6 to 1, to gain the Western Amateur finals. The Morgans last year reached both finals also, winning the amateur title, and losing the open.

Montreal Six Leads, 3 to 0, in Cup Play

Bentley, still scoreless in the series, took a header into the boards. There was a mild display of newspaper tossing and the game was held up for a few seconds. The edict of Mervyn [Red] Dutton, National Hockey league president, that the game would be forfeited if a repetition of Thursday night's 17 minute demonstration developed, served its purpose.

Maurice Richard figured in the Canadiens' tying goal in the second period when he got the puck during a melee and passed it to Toe Blake. Blake knocked it in with such speed that Karakas looked into the net unbelievingly. The time was 2:02.

In making this assist Richard became sole possessor of two Stanley Cup playoff scoring records. By getting all the Canadiens' three goals Thursday he boosted his scoring to 10, a new playoff mark. Last night's assist was his fifth, giving him 15 points. The old record was held by Don Grosso of Detroit and Syl Apps of Toronto.

Hawks Leave Tomorrow.

This was the Canadiens' 11th victory in 13 games this season, with the Hawks. The other two contests were ties. It also was Montreal's seventh straight playoff triumph. The National league champions beat Toronto four straight in the semifinals after dropping the first game.

Each goalie had 21 saves last night and Karakas' performance was little less brilliant than Durnan's. The Hawks will leave tomorrow morning for Montreal.

However, Nick keeps on acting as if something was wrong and as if he might skip for home on short notice. The only information available, and it is not official, is that an agreement notwithstanding the athlete seems to believe a $1,000 in prospective pay has been lost sight of, maybe it has vanished and maybe it hasn't but either way the season will open April 18 and the Cubs will have nine men on the field.

Break Camp Wednesday.

The Cubs will begin to drift out of camp Wednesday morning, the remainder having sleeping car space out of here that night. Until then the Cubs will get in as much practice as possible and if they can do nothing more than some hitting and the pitchers can do some serious throwing it will help considerably.

Manager Wilson said today that none of the Cubs actually under contract would be dropped until after the return to Chicago. He has so few men that there is no need to hurry getting ready for the May 15 deadline which limits a team to 25. Exclusive of Claude Passeau and the wandering Lou Novikoff, there are 28 on the roster.

Tickets Go on Sale.

Tickets for the city series game at Wrigley field will be placed on sale tomorrow along with those for the opening of the regular season. The first double header of the year at Wrigley field—the Cardinals will be the guests, will be staged April 23 and tickets for this display will on go sale April 13.

Bill Schuster, tentatively the Cubs' regular shortstop, who has been notified by his draft board in Buffalo to report for examination April 13, has requested that his papers be transferred to Chicago.

Tony Annoreno, the southpaw released yesterday by the White Sox was given permission tonight to move in with the Cub squad. Manager Wilson won't sign him to a contract but will give him a chance to pitch in batting practice and later endeavor to find a minor league berth for him.

PLAY TO START IN NORTH-SOUTH AMATEUR TODAY

Pinehurst, N. C., April 9 (AP).—A field of seasoned amateurs, which may include the former champion, Capt. Dick Chapman, will compete in the 18-hole qualifying round of the North and South Amateur golf tournament tomorrow.

This is the 44th renewal of the country's oldest golf tournament, which has been held annually without interruption. The field will be smaller and slower this year, probably, but the entrants include golfers whose names are well known here.

The entrants include Stedman G. Tinker, district champion from Columbus; S. B. Bayless, Cleveland; Dr. Ray M. Bowles, Garden City, L. I.; Robert Stranaham, Toledo, O., and Sam Graham of Greenwich, Conn.

A. A. U.'s Ring Meet Opens in Boston Today

Boston, Mass., April 9 (AP).—Eighty-two of the nation's finest amateur boxers will launch a two day quest in Boston Garden tomorrow for titles in the eight classes of the National A. A. U. boxing tournament.

Fifteen states and the District of Columbia are represented in the array of boxers who will go thru some 50 first round and quarterfinal matches tomorrow to select the 32 survivors who will fight in the semi-final and championship bouts Tuesday.

Much local interest was aroused by the arrival of the Oklahoma team, which boasts four Indians in its group. The team includes Charles Pebahsy, Fort Sill Indian school, 112 pounds; Virgil Franklin, 118, and Horace Tahbone, 126, both from the Riverside Indian school at Anadarko; Seaman 1st Class Tony Caminiti, Purcell, Okla., 135; Alvin Williams, Oklahoma City, 147; Dick Smith, U. FISH REARING PONDS PLANNED FOR FREEPORT

Freeport, Ill., April 9 [Special].—Establishment of fish rearing ponds here, under the direction of the state department of conservation, is to be undertaken soon, according to officers of the Stephenson County Sportsmen's club, sponsoring the project. Approval by the department has been received.

The ponds will provide fish for the stocking of streams in Stephenson, Carroll, and Jo Daviess counties. Use of an area for the enterprise has been granted by John W. Henney a manufacturer, at his Sanaport Springs farm, just east of here.

HUNTER, GIBSON HEAD MARIGOLD SHOW TONIGHT

Chuck Hunter, 1943 Golden Gloves, intercity, and National A. A. U. lightweight champion, will make his Chicago debut as a professional welterweight in an eight round bout against Terry Gibson of Los Angeles tonight in Marigold Gardens.

The match will be only the sixth for Hunter as a money fighter. A native of Cleveland and a powerful right hand puncher, Chuck knocked out his first three foes but was defeated in his next two appearences. Maxie Berger, experienced Montreal welter, scored a decision over him, and Tommy Bell, Detroit puncher, stopped him in his last encounter.

Gibson Proves Able Boxer.

Chuck's handlers contend that the knowledge he gained from his experience against Berger and Bell will hold him in good stead this evening. Gibson displayed considerable skill in two earlier battles in Chicago when he held Charley Parham, stocky Milwaukeean, to a draw decision and stopped Jimmy Hunt, former Chicago Golden Gloves 147 pound title holder.

Walter Patrick, Bay City, Mich., middleweight, who knocked out Pvt. Francois De Tombeaux of Lincoln, Neb., last Monday, will return for a five round semi-windup on the card against Virgil McKiness, St. Charles. In another five round event George Sapolich, Johnstown, Pa., 160 pounder, is paired with Bishop Murphy.

Jordan Meets Carson.

Principals in four round encounters will be Jimmy Sherrer and Stanley Jordan, welterweight and junior welter, respectively, of Milwaukee. The former will face Johnny Rhodes and Jordan will meet Eddie [Kid] Carson.

The Swedish Angel and Ole Olson will top a wrestling show tonight in White City, 63d st. and South Park av. Another mat show will be held tonight in Madison Athletic club, 4711 Madison st. The program is topped by Rudy Hoffman and George Mack.

Where Peace Abides.

The sky has gone and it won't come back;
It is raining hell and fire and flak;
When will the war-storm cease?
Stars are in windows, both blue and gold,
Happiness, dreams and our lifetime sold;
Headlines are ominous, black, and bold.

When will the world find peace?
Hands that are folded in earnest prayer
Brows that are furrowed with pain and care
Heads that are filling with new gray hair
Ask of these folk—they're smart—
Eyes that are drowning in stinging tears,
Souls that have tasted of bitter fears,
Ask them—they know—and the answer cheers:
"Peace is within each heart!"
—Helen Baird La Monte.

A Single Voice.

The bridge club was meeting and chatter was rife
O'er the most recent local earful;
An unfortunate woman, known to them all,
Was the target, pathetic and tearful.
A story was being whispered about,
Tho to furnish the proof none stood ready,
But it made for a spirited afternoon
Of gossip both pungent and heady.

When all of a sudden one voice was raised
A strange sort of hush fell over the room,
The change you could instantly sense;
Then the others all started to halfway give ground,
"Well, maybe," "Perhaps," "But, of course."
The fact that the woman had just one friend there
Seemed to carry a strange, hidden force.

Let's remember this when some absent one
Is ruthlessly placed on the rack,
That the courage to raise just one single voice
May give some one his good name back.
—Jazbo of Old Dubuque.

Furlough Thru Faith.

God bless you tho far you may be
Tonight, on land or on sea,
You are never too far for me
To clasp your hand in prayer;
Faith is much stronger than sight,
I follow you in your flight
And I feel you are with me, tonight,
As I clasp your hand in prayer.

I can see in your eyes of blue
A purpose most noble and true,
My son, I am proud of you
As I clasp your hand in prayer;
Now as you fade from my sight
Out into the perilous night
May God hold you ever as tight
As I clasp your hand in prayer.

'REAL ACTIVITY' HELD POST-WAR TRADE OUTLOOK

The nation may look forward to a period of "real activity" after the war, possibly preceded by a few months of business hesitancy, speakers on the Northwestern Reviewing Stand program over W-G-N-Mutual agreed yesterday. The speakers were Samuel B. Pettengill, former Indiana congressman; Leverett S. Lyon, chief executive officer of the Chicago Association of Commerce; Prof. Arthur R. Tebbutt of Northwestern university, and James M. Barker, a director of Sears, Roebuck & Co.

Whether men in public office act to stimulate free enterprise will be an important factor in the business trend, said Pettengill. Tebbutt called for a "less punitive" tax program to enable business to take risks. The speakers asserted that government should not continue to compete with private companies after the war and advised early liquidation of surplus stocks.

O'NEAL DENIES JONES MIXES IN C. & E. I. AFFAIRS

Answers Boatner in Proxy Fight.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

C. T. O'Neal.

Charges by V. V. Boatner that Chairman Jones and other officers of the Reconstruction Finance corporation had used "undue and improper influence" in the operation of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad were denied yesterday by C. T. O'Neal, president. Boatner, a director of the line and a former office of defense transportation official, is expected to stage a proxy battle for control of the road at the annual meeting of stockholders on May 12.

O'Neal said that all matters of policy regarding the C. & E. I. are considered by the directors and any action represents their majority opinion.

Provided Needed Funds.

"The management has not been unduly influenced in either operating or financial matters by the RFC," he said. "The RFC provided the necessary funds to consummate the reorganization of the railroad. These funds were unavailable elsewhere."

O'Neal explained that the RFC, to make the reorganization possible, bought all the company's first mortgage bonds — totaling more than 10 million dollars — and thereby obtained the right to approve the election of three of the 13 board members as long as the RFC holds more than 1 million dollars of the bonds.

Discussing Boatner's charges that Jones and the RFC had blocked the reduction of the road's debt and savings in interest charges, O'Neal said the road's directors had studied for several months a proposed refinancing plan. He explained they rejected the proposal when it was learned that the same retirement of debt could be made at a lower cost to the company under the optional provisions of the present mortgage and without shortening the debt maturity.

Unwilling to Boost Charges.

"This property was reorganized on a basis of reduced fixed obligations in order that they could be met with any reasonable earnings," O'Neal said. "The board of directors was not willing to approve any plan which would increase the railroad's fixed charges. Such increases would have resulted under the proposed refinancing plan."

O'Neal said the ability of the management to handle the road's business was reflected in the annual report sent stockholders last week. It disclosed that the road in 1943 had the largest freight and passenger revenues in the history of the present or predecessor companies. The operating ratio was the lowest on record despite higher taxes and other costs.

O'Neal denied reports that a consolidation of the C. & E. I. and the Gulf, Mobile and Ohio railroad had been under consideration.

Links Chicago to South.

The C. & E. I. extends from Chicago to Evansville, Ind., and thence to St. Louis. It is an important link in the rail system that joins Chicago by a short route with the southeastern part of the nation. Connection is made at Evansville with the Louisville and Nashville, one of the roads operating the Dixie route to Florida and other southeastern cities.

The road went into bankruptcy in 1933 and emerged from reorganization on Jan. 1, 1941. O'Neal has been in the railroad business more than 50 years and has been with the C. & E. I. since 1931.

Boatner last week asked Sen. Wheeler of the senate interstate commerce committee to investigate the RFC influence in the C. & E. I.

QUOTED "FLAT."

Baltimore and Ohio convertible 4½s of 1960 were quoted ex-interest around March 15 and are now quoted "flat." Will you please explain this? J. M.

Answer: In February the railroad's directors appropriated funds to pay on March 15 the contingent interest accrued up to Dec. 31, 1943, on several bond issues, including the 4½s of 1960.

The New York Stock exchange ruled that the convertible 4½s of 1960 should be quoted ex-interest on March 15, and that they continue to be dealt in "flat," that is, buyers will not be required to pay any accrued contingent interest in addition to the quoted price. The exchange ruled also that beginning March 15, bonds sold thru the exchange must carry the May 1, 1945, coupon and all subsequent contingent interest coupons, and regular coupons dated Feb. 1, 1947, and subsequently.

New Demands Made to Ease Corn Shortage

Increasing demands that the government act to assure adequate corn and other supplies for processing industries and feed interests were voiced in the grain trade last week. Opinion on the Chicago Board of Trade favored requisitioning of corn from farms if necessary to permit capacity operations by processors.

One or more corn refining plants will close this week unless there is a larger movement from farms, it was said. Today's scheduled reopening of the North Kansas City, Mo., plant of the Corn Products Refining company was termed a move to keep its employes at work rather than any indication of better corn supply.

Doubt Adequate Supply.

Warehouse men and others who have analyzed recent reports on prospective supply take a pessimistic view on the outlook for sufficient grain between now and Oct. 1, end of the current crop year. A department of agriculture estimate to be issued today is expected to show farm stocks of slightly less than 1 billion bushels, the smallest since 1937, compared with 1 billion 375 million bushels a year ago.

Traders also expect a report on unusually small farm holdings of oats, probably under 400 million bushels, or 100 million less than a year ago.

Await Canadian Oats.

The war food administration, attempting to alleviate the shortage of oats in the central west and east, will start this week to move 20 million bushels into this country from Canada.

With labor injecting a new factor in the 1944 agricultural outlook, a Nebraska weather bureau report disclosed that the tightening of draft deferments for farm workers had caused farmers to curtail their prospective grain planting.

WEIRTON STEEL TO START SOON ON SHELL ORDER

Weirton, W. Va., April 9 [Special].—Thomas E. Millsop, president of the Weirton Steel company, announced today that the company would soon begin the manufacture of large caliber explosive shells "to fill an urgent war department contract."

About 1,500 additional employes will be needed and 4 to 5 million dollars will be spent in plant alterations and manufacturing equipment, he said.

This will be Weirton Steel's first direct production of munitions.

Rock Island Road Tries Radio in Train Operation

The Rock Island railroad is experimenting with radio communication between locomotive and caboose, in yards, and between dispatchers and train crews, and is studying the use of radar for safety devices, officials announced yesterday. People and Events

H. A. Scandrett, trustee, and other officers of the Milwaukee railroad will officiate at a ceremony in Savanna, Ill., Wednesday, for employes of the road's Dubuque and Illinois division, who achieved the best employe safety record last year of any of the line's 18 divisions.

Formation of the MetaLastics division, a subsidiary manufacturing bellows as large as 72 inches in diameter, was announced by the Cook Electric Company.

The north central conference of the United States Savings and Loan league will open in the Drake hotel today, with a program emphasizing the purchase of government bonds and post-war planning.

GREYHOUND SYSTEM EARNINGS INCREASE ON RECORD TRAFFIC

Buses of the Greyhound system traveled 329,946,121 miles and transported a record 164,429,540 passengers during 1943, altho only 66 new coaches were obtained under war restrictions, C. E. Wickman, president of the Greyhound corporation, informed shareholders yesterday in his annual report.

Operating revenues of the system rose to $148,820,216, representing 45.11 cents per bus mile and 1.59 cents per passenger mile. The fleet was increased to 4,034 buses, and 64,729 miles of bus routes were operated at the end of the year. Companies of the system have placed orders for 672 buses, with delivery subject to office of defense transportation approval.

Last year's net income rose to $10,762,469, equal to $3.80 a share on common stock, from $8,427,971, or $2.96 a share, for 1942.

SINCLAIR'S 1943 SALES AT PEAK; PROFITS HIGHER

Sinclair Oil corporation's product sales in 1943 totaled 3 billion 723 million gallons, largest in the company's history, H. F. Sinclair, president, said yesterday in his annual report to stockholders. Domestic crude oil production amounted to 26,255,000 barrels, and crude runs to the company's refineries were 77,900,000 barrels.

Domestic producing subsidiaries drilled 152 oil wells in which the company had full interest, the report added. Profit for 1943 was $23,083,709, equal to $1.85 a common share, against $18,060,598, or $1.43 a share, in 1942. Last year the company purchased 167,140 shares of its common stock, increasing to 443,940 shares the amount in the treasury.

The report said that lack of materials and shipping restricted operations of Venezuela Petroleum company, of which Sinclair owns 84 per cent.

AUTHORIZE USE OF SYNTHETIC IN TIRE RETREADING

Washington, D. C., April 8 (AP).—Improvement in retreading material after May 1 was promised today by Rubber Director Bradley Dewey, in authorizing the use of synthetic rubber instead of the reclaimed rubber that has been used exclusively for the last three months.

Dewey said new restrictions would be placed on the use of grades A and C synthetic rubber "camelback." Grade A is the top quality retreading material, and grade C is superior in wearing quality to the grade F which has been in use. Twenty-five per cent of the rubber used may be grade F reclaimed material.

A gradual increase in production of all purpose buna S synthetic rubber made the change possible, Dewey said.

Railroad Buying Reaches Highest Level Since 1927

Purchases of fuel, materials, and supplies by class 1 railroads were larger in 1943 than in any year since 1927, J. J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, said yesterday.

The 1943 total was $1,394,281,000, an increase of $134,470,000 over 1942. Pelley attributed the increase to higher prices, which averaged 7 per cent above 1942, and to greater volume purchased.

Boost in Cash Lifts British Budget Hopes

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 9.—The fact that Britain closed its financial year with 396 million dollars more than the chancellor of the exchequer estimated, created hope in financial circles that the new budget will show few changes and certainly nothing drastic.

The year just ended showed total expenditures of 23 billion, 152 million dollars and for next year they are not expected to fall short of 24 billions while the revenue this year was 12 billion, 156 million dollars. Revenue from income tax reached a new high of 4 billion, 732 millions which was 32 millions more than last year.

Revenue Increase Expected.

The pay-as-you-earn act is expected to increase the revenue from income taxes as the total paid in wages and salaries is higher than ever. Thru this increase the chancellor is expected to raise 13 billion, 200 millions next year without introducing many changes in the present schedules. If the expenditure is 24 billions, this would raise the ratio of revenue to expenditure to 55 per cent.

Besides the new budget, financial quarters here have shown interest in Field Marshal Smuts' reports of sales of South African gold in the black market in India and Egypt. It was presumed here that henceforth South Africa, thru British authorities as intermediaries, will sell gold at higher prices so she can benefit by the demand from Bombay and Cairo. Until now South Africa has been selling gold at the official buying price of $33.60 an ounce.

Expect Rupee Adjustment.

Official American reaction is awaited, for some circles expect that eventually dollar and sterling gold prices may be adjusted with rupee quotations. However, this was discounted in other quarters on the ground that the situation in India is abnormal and reflects the demands created by Japanese moves along the Burma frontier.

The Financial Times warned its readers that agreement on currency questions must await the United States elections. It declared that soviet Russia also has a "very important interest in seeing equitable decisions reached."

PIONEER ZEPHYR ANNIVERSARY TO BE OBSERVED

The Burlington railroad today will observe in Lincoln, Neb., the 10th anniversary of the first run of its Pioneer Zephyr—the first Diesel-electric powered streamliner and the first of the modern streamliners to go into actual service.

Among those who will take part in the ceremonies are Former Vice President Dawes; Gov. Griswold of Nebraska; Charles F. Kettering, vice president of General Motors corporation; Ralph Budd, president of the Burlington; and Edward G. Budd, president of the Edward G. Budd Manufacturing company, builder of the train.

Built of stainless steel and powered with a 600 horsepower Diesel-electric locomotive, the Pioneer Zephyr went into regular service on Nov. 11, 1934. The locomotive was built by the Electro-Motive division of General Motors.

Mexican Court Rules Oil Royalties Should Be Paid

MEXICO CITY, April 9 (AP).—A supreme court ruling that oil royalty holders were not affected by the expropriation of foreign oil companies in 1938 was announced today. The court held that, until a formal expropriation order against royalty owners is issued, they are entitled to payments. The payments were suspended in 1938.

OPA Limits Lamp Price Increase to Boost in Tax

Washington, D. C., April 9 [Special].—Retailers may advance the cost of electric light bulbs to consumers only to the extent the new federal excise tax on manufacturers' prices has increased the cost, the OPA ruled today.

CANADA BRAKE ON LIVING COST HELD SUCCESS

Surpasses Control in United States.

Canada has been more successful in controlling living costs during the present war than it was in World War I., and appears to have been more successful than the United States in World War II., a report on Canadian war finance by the National Bureau of Economic Research said yesterday.

The dominion's regulation of wage rates and prices has been effective, with little reported black market activity, said the report, prepared by Benjamin H. Higgins, professor of economics at McGill university, Montreal, Que. The expansion of Canadian currency has been greater than in the last war, but it has been kept under better supervision, Dr. Higgins asserted.

Some Control Weaker.

The price control record, he said, has been more impressive in broad categories than in some component parts. Wholesale prices, for example, have risen 12 per cent more than retail prices, and raw materials and partly manufactured goods have gone up twice as much as manufactured products.

Along with an enormous increase in war production, Canada has maintained high levels of civilian production and consumption and physical production has been several times as great as in World War I.

"Neither Great Britain nor the United States has been as successful as Canada in meeting war expenditure by taxation," a summary of the findings said. "But this tax structure includes forced savings for individuals refundable after the war, which the United States has not adopted. Moreover, the Canadian government has absorbed provincial income and corporation taxes.

Subsidies 'Conspicuous.'

"Subsidies play a conspicuous part in Canadian price control, and it is reasoned that they hold down the over-all cost of the war. They are generally applied at whichever stage of the production and distribution process has the fewest firms. Also, the government's Commodity Prices Stabilization Corporation, Ltd., imports goods and sells at a loss when this is deemed necessary to hold living costs down."

In 1943, the original cost of living bonus system for labor was discontinued.

For 75 per cent of its war time borrowing, the Canadian government has been able to rely upon the public, outside the banks, Dr. Higgins reported. Commercial or chartered banks have made little net acquisition of "governments," other than special issues.

Careful advance study is needed to determine the proper timing and technique for abandoning war time economic controls, he concluded.

GUZIK'S TRAIL SOUGHT IN VOTE FRAUD CHARGES

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Release of Jack Guzik, gambling boss, from a police cell and announcement that $20 a vote was being offered in the 25th ward were simultaneous yesterday. Guzik, who had told Chief John J. McGinnis of the county highway department he was now a "very wealthy man," was accused of starting a vote market in the political field.

Guzik was arrested on Saturday, altho ward leaders said he had started electioneering several days earlier. He was freed on bond of $100 yesterday for hearing before Justice Henry Pendl in Willow Springs court Thursday on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Democratic and Republican organizations alike were disclaiming responsibility for or connection with Guzik and his bankroll, and no candidate would admit that Guzik was on his side.

Guzik Claims 1st Ward.

At police headquarters, Guzik's return was hailed as a harbinger of active days in the 1st ward. Guzik, a vicemonger in his youth and more recently head of the Capone-Nitti gambling syndicate, claimed the 1st ward as his own, by right of succession to Michael [Hinky Dink] Kenna.

But as the syndicate head, wise policemen explained, Guzik felt it his duty to see that voters in a number of wards elected the right persons as ward committeemen—Democratic as well as Republican.

In the Fighting 1st, Fred Morrelli has no opposition in the Democratic primary for election as ward committeeman and it was reported at Republican headquarters that Morrelli was lending Democratic votes to Daniel A. Serritella, Republican ward committeeman. Serritella is seeking reëlection and has serious opposition from Bernard S. Black, an appointee of Gov. Green.

Battles in 3d and 25th Wards.

Other wards in which Guzik was said to have shown more than a passing interest were the 3d and the 25th. The 3d ward is populated mainly by Negroes; the 25th, by Italians. The battle in the 3d is between Democrats; in the 25th, between Republicans. Added police protection was promised for both wards.

Edward M. Sneed, present Democratic committeeman of the 3d ward, is opposed for reëlection by Benjamin S. Grant, former alderman. Last Friday night J. Livert [St. Louis] Kelly, boss of politics, gambling, rackets in the Negro district, was shot to death by Wendell Lyons, a brother-in-law of Grant.

"Those men were fighting to control the graft from vice and gambling in the ward, in defiance of law and order," said Edgar G. Brown, director of the National Negro council, in a statement yesterday.

"If your Washington burocrats and senators from states such as Texas chose to ignore the Supreme court, how can we expect underlings of the type of St. Louis Kelly and Wendell Lyons to act otherwise?"

Parrillo Asks Protection.

On Friday, also, Republican Committeeman William Parrillo of the 24th ward asked police protection. He said he and his workers were being threatened with bodily harm, and worse, by a group of gamblers. Parrillo, a lawyer and member of the Illinois commerce commission, said the Capone syndicate was backing his opponent, Andrew Flando. The Flando camp retorted that Parrillo had once acted at attorney for Capone.

"They are offering $20 a vote to beat me," Parrillo charged yesterday. "I know of one family that has five votes, the members of which were offered $100 if they would support my opponent."

MAN POWER CENSUS WILL BE STARTED IN COOK COUNTY TODAY

Census bureau enumerators will begin interviewing a selected sample of families in Cook county today as part of a national April survey of the country's man power reserve both in urban industrial districts and in agricultural regions. In this area, one of 68 selected for the survey, the questioning will continue thru Saturday.

Mrs. Zomara S. Peck, local supervisor, said supplementary questions will be asked this month to provide information on the number of young persons attending school who are working or seeking work, and to determine the number of persons who are doing farm work and how many of them are farm operators. The farm operators will be interviewed in a follow-up schedule later in the month.

"Information on the number and characteristics of the nation's farms and on the supply of workers to operate these farms is of critical importance at this time," Mrs. Peck said, "when so much depends upon the maintenance of a program of food production adequate for our armed forces, for our allies, and for the civilian population."

FRANK J. LOESCH CELEBRATES HIS 92D BIRTHDAY

Frank J. Loesch, civic leader and former president of the Chicago crime commission, observed his 92d birthday yesterday in his suite in the Drake hotel, where he lives with his wife. Mr. Loesch spent the morning reading his newspapers and later reread scores of cards and letters of congratulation received from his friends and former associates. He received several guests in the afternoon.

'RACKET CHIEFS SEEK TO DEFEAT ME'—MULCAHY

BY THOMAS MORROW.

Sheriff Mulcahy, Democratic candidate for election to that office, told a 33d ward meeting yesterday in St. Hedwig's hall that "those elements which have the most to gain from irresponsible management of the sheriff's office will be arrayed against my candidacy."

He assured his audience that he had no intention of interfering with personal liberty in Cook county, but pledged himself to a campaign against syndicated crime and vice. Mulcahy said that he, the first lawyer to hold the office of sheriff, believed that his legal training aided him in the discharge of his duties.

'Muscle' Stamped Out, He Says.

"As long as I am sheriff organized traffickers in felonious enterprise are not going to do business," said Mulcahy. "I have been sheriff of Cook county long enough to know that the great majority of the people of Cook county have no tolerance for syndicated law violation. We have stamped out the 'muscle' and we are going to keep it out. We have shut off its revenue at the source, and every business man in Cook county who has been preyed upon by these racketeers has been given a new lease on life.

"As a matter of fact, we have harassed, harried and hounded the 'muscle' so persistently that it has shut up shop. Its only hope of revival lies in the candidacy of the hand picked candidate for the sheriff's office, who will be nominated by the minority party Tuesday.

"Unfortunately for that candidate, the huge slush fund supplied him by the 'muscle' in his last unsuccessful campaign to capture this office will not be available this year. 'The boys' are in straitened circumstances, as the governor's candidate doubtless has found out."

Finds Force Short Handed.

Mulcahy said that "the forces of crime are ready to open shop as soon as vigilance is relaxed." While the county police force is short handed, he added, he will continue to do the best job possible until the county finances permits an augmented force.

"I am here to tell the voters of this ward, and every voter in the county," Mulcahy continued, "that the 'muscle' will never ride with me. Under my administration, their paradise of privilege will remain a thing of the past. As sheriff and candidate for sheriff, I am unfettered in my fight against crime. I am beholden to no special interests, no political faction, and I am amenable to no dictation from any back room."

W-G-N TO BROADCAST RESULTS OF PRIMARY TOMORROW EVENING

Complete returns of the Illinois primary elections will be broadcast by W-G-N tomorrow. The news and results of the various local contests as well as the outcome of elections in other states will be given to W-G-N listeners thruout the evening.

Soon after the close of the polls at 5 o'clock W-G-N expects to be on the air with the first returns. Frequent roundups of the latest returns and news will be given subsequently and the station will remain on the air until the outcome of all important contests can be made known. W-G-N also has made plans to bring the leading successful candidates to the microphone.

A special broadcast conducted by the board of election commissioners will be aired over W-G-N at 9:15 tonight. Information bearing on the election will be given. Members of the board and Judge Edmund K. Jarecki will participate.

700 IN WHITNEY SCHOOL BUY $700 WORTH OF SEEDS

The 700 pupils at the Eli Whitney school, 2815 Komensky av., have bought $700 worth of garden seeds this year, Harry L. Tate, principal, reported yesterday.

Gardening has been promoted for 15 years at the school, Tate said, but the war has increased interest. The school keeps one-third of the seed receipts for purchase of library books. More than 600 books have been added since the plan was started. Two-thirds pays for the seeds.

THIRD OF TOWNS IN COUNTY MEET RED CROSS GOAL

Quotas have been filled by approximately a third of the 153 county communities in the 12 million dollar Red Cross war fund drive in the Chicago area, H. T. East, co-chairman of the division, reported yesterday to Martin H. Kennelly, campaign general chairman. With populations from 100 to 65,000 and quotas from $100 to $150,000, these county communities are radically different in characteristics, Kennelly said.

Communities reporting their goals attained include Arlington Heights, Bartlett, Barrington township, Bensenville, Bloomingdale, Clarendon Hills, Cloverdale, Deerfield, Dunham Woods, Dolton, East Chicago Heights, Evanston, Flossmoor, Franklin Park, Glencoe, Highland Park, Hinsdale, Itasca, Kenneyville, Kenilworth, Lake Forest, Lake Zurich, Lansing, Libertyville, Lombard, Mundelein, Northbrook, Northfield, Orland Park, Palos Park, Park Ridge, Riverside, Steger, Thornton, Tinley Park, Vernon Township, Warrenville, West Chicago, Wilmette, Westchester, and Winnetka.

The campaign was keynoted yesterday in many Easter services in churches and synagogs. "Much that Easter signifies," Kennelly said, "is typified in the good deeds of the Red Cross."
